comprehensive theory of animal behaviour emerged through the work of Konrad Lorenz and later by Niko Tinbergen. Biological study of behaviour in fact came of age as a science when Lorenz, Tinbergen and Karl von Frisch received the Nobel Prize for their contribution to science. Observing and describing exactly what animals do is fascinating and scientific analysis of their behaviour is significant for several reasons. Each species tends to have an array of stereotyped behaviours, some of which are shared with related species but others are unique. Ecology, natural selection, macroevolution, microevolution and genes constitute the foundation of animal behaviour. Various animal groups exhibit diverse strategies for survival and reproduction which are discussed in this book.
