Hidden Treasures of the Black Range Marshall Bulle, Larry Ditzer, 2015-09-01 For those who have never heard of the Lost Adams Diggings this book will introduce you to a story that is almost beyond belief We would not have believed it ourselves had it not been for the overwhelming evidence we found This story not only actually happened but it took place in 1863 in the wild and rugged Black Range of New Mexico For those of you who know the story well you are in for a surprise The Black Range once referred to as The Devil Mountains by the Spanish had long hidden this lost gold mine from the outside world along with other dark secrets for well over a century When Larry Ditzer and I first began searching some of the higher elevations of New Mexico's wild and rugged Black Range for an old Spanish cannon once seen there by cowboy Walt Nichols in the 1950s we sure never dreamed it would eventually lead us to the location of the famous Lost Adams Diggings The location of the Lost Adams Diggings is in one of the roughest and most treacherous places to get around in the Black Range we had ever been Geological Survey Professional Paper, 1967 U.S. Geological Survey Professional Paper, 1961

Inventions. The Crystal Power Gwyn Brown, 2023-08-12 The mystery of the Pagan Lady entombed forever in a crystal chamber that could not possibly be built by man A young woman who discovers she is the result of a genetics experiment thousands of years old and who could hold the secret to saving the Earth Both somehow connected What has the Lost Inventions Team gotten itself into this time All the Wrong Places: A Life Lost and Found Philip Connors, 2015-02-16 The prize winning author of Fire Season returns with the heartrending story of his troubled years before finding solace in the wilderness In his debut Fire Season Philip Connors recounted with lyricism wisdom and grace his decade as a fire lookout high above remote New Mexico Now he tells the story of what made solitude on the mountain so attractive the years he spent reeling in the wake of a family tragedy At the age of twenty three Connors was a young man on the make He'd left behind the Minnesota pig farm on which he'd grown up and the brother with whom he'd never been especially close He had a magazine job lined up in New York City and a future unfolding exactly as he'd hoped Then one phone call out of the blue changed everything All the Wrong Places is a searingly honest account of the aftermath of his brother's shocking death exploring both the pathos and the unlikely humor of a life unmoored by loss Beginning with the otherworldly beauty of a hot air balloon ride over the skies of Albuquerque and ending in the wilderness of the American borderlands this is the story of a man paying tribute to the dead by unconsciously willing himself into all the wrong places whether at the copy desk of the Wall Street Journal the gritty streets of Bed Stuy in the 1990s or the smoking rubble of the World Trade Center With ruthless clarity and a keen sense of the absurd Connors slowly unmasks the truth about his brother and himself to devastating effect Like Cheryl Strayed's Wild this is a powerful look back at wayward years and a redemptive story about finding one's rightful home in the world

Anthony,Jennifer Chi,2010 In the prehistoric Copper Age long before cities writing or the invention of the wheel Old Europe was among the most culturally rich regions in the world Its inhabitants lived in prosperous agricultural towns The ubiquitous goddess figurines found in their houses and shrines have triggered intense debates about women s roles The Lost World of Old Europe is the accompanying catalog for an exhibition at New York University's Institute for the Study of the Ancient World. This superb volume features essays by leading archaeologists as well as breathtaking color photographs cataloguing the objects some illustrated here for the first time. The heart of Old Europe was in the lower Danube valley in contemporary Bulgaria and Romania. Old European coppersmiths were the most advanced metal artisans in the world. Their intense interest in acquiring copper, Aegean shells and other rare valuables gave rise to far-reaching trading networks. In their graves the bodies of Old European chieftains were adorned with pounds of gold and copper ornaments. Their funerals were without parallel in the Near East or Egypt. The exhibition represents the first time these rare objects have appeared in the United States. An unparalleled introduction to Old Europe's cultural technological and artistic legacy. The Lost World of Old Europe includes essays by Douglass Bailey, John Chapman, Cornelia Magda, Lazarovici Ioan, Opris and Catalin Bem, Ernst Pernicka, Dragomir Nicolae, Popovici Michel, S. Friad and Vladimir Slavchev. Geological Survey Professional Paper Geological Survey (U.S.), 1964. Lost Treasure Trails Thomas Penfield, 1954. Tales of treasure lost or hidden on land and sea mostly in the Western Hemisphere and suggestions on the technique of treasure hunting. The Lost Black Scholar David A. Varel, 2018-04-13. Allison Davis 1902-83, a preeminent black scholar and social science pioneer, is perhaps best known for his groundbreaking investigations into inequality in Jim Crow America and the cultural biases of intelligence testing. Davis, one of America's first black anthropologists and the first tenured African American professor at a predominantly white university, produced work that had tangible and lasting effects on public policy, including contributions to Brown v. Board of Education, the federal Head Start program, and school testing practices. Yet Davis remains largely absent from the historical record. For someone who generated such an extensive body of work, this marginalization is particularly surprising. But it is also revelatory. In The Lost Black Scholar, David A. Varel tells Davis's compelling story, showing how a combination of institutional racism, disciplinary eclecticism, and iconoclastic thinking effectively sidelined him as an intellectual. A close look at Davis's career sheds light not only on the racial politics of the academy but also the costs of being an innovator outside of the mainstream. Equally important, Varel argues that Davis exemplifies how black scholars led the way in advancing American social thought. Even though he was rarely acknowledged for it, Davis refuted scientific racism and laid bare the environmental roots of human difference more deftly than most of his white peers by pushing social science in bold new directions. Varel shows how Davis effectively helped to lay the groundwork for the civil rights movement. Lowcountry Lost T. I. LOWE, 2024-09-03. Sometimes what haunts you most is wondering what could have been. Avalee Elvis prides herself with being able to fix just about anything except her past. Unable to put the puzzle of her life together, she pours heart and soul into making neglected places whole again. As the owner of Lowcountry Lost, Avalee spends her days in hot pink Carhartt overalls and a tool belt reclaiming Lowcountry properties. Making them beautiful again releases the deep sigh that soothes the hurt she holds. Avalee's latest project takes her to tiny Somewhere, South Carolina, a long-abandoned town. She ignores its ghostly folklore but can't miss the shock of hearing the familiar Irish brogue that materializes on the job site the voice of the man she never wanted to see again Rowan Murray is a structural engineer hired by investors to oversee the redevelopment of the quaint downtown Avalee is bringing back to life Once upon a time he was also the man who knew Avalee better than anyone else or so he thought Six years ago neither of them was prepared for the tragedy they would face together or what would happen in its wake But as they work together to complete the rehabbing of Somewhere their broken pieces and the pain that nearly consumed them begin to lose its grip and both begin to wonder if it's not too late for a restoration of their own From the author of the breakout Southern fiction bestseller Under the Magnolias comes a story of loss and abandonment forgiveness and the beauty of undying love Contemporary Southern romance with a second chance romance trope Special features include discussion questions for book clubs recipes and a playlist inspired by Avalee and Rowan's love story Contains themes of loss and restoration For fans of HGTV shows like Fixer Upper Home Town and Good Bones
