Hamilton, 2014-02 This title is a comprehensive survey of maritime archaeology as seen through the eyes of nearly fifty scholars at a time when maritime archaeology has established itself as a mature branch of archaeology Shores, Surfaces and Depths Felicity Picken, Emma Waterton, 2024-11-26 This book examines the oceanic presence in life on Earth and the ways that we engage with the oceanic worlds for play pleasure adventure and the pursuit of leisure and escape through tourism and travel The oceanic turn across the social sciences and humanities has produced a still proliferating opus of work that seeks to discover and emphasize oceanic presence in life on Earth This literal and figurative unearthing of blue spaces has encouraged scholars to gaze beyond the lands that have supported much of our experience and knowledge towards the gathering up of a more holistic appreciation of blue planetary life This widening of scholarly attention from land to sea is occurring simultaneously across a range of disciplines and fields including history archaeology anthropology comparative literature public policy cultural studies and geography With an explicit focus on leisure and tourism this edited collection follows a growing appreciation that it is our seemingly inconsequential encounters at play for pleasure and on holidays that are increasingly present and influential in our oceanic relations This volume will be of value to scholars and students interested in social and cultural history and environmental history and humanities Mystery of the Last Olympian Richard Kohler, Charlie Hudson, 2016-02-01 Well known underwater explorer Richie Kohler of Shadow Divers and Deep Sea Detectives and Best Publishing Company invite you to join the expedition to unravel the Mystery of the Last Olympian Titanic's Tragic Sister Britannic The book gives you a firsthand account as Richie Kohler takes readers on the intriguing journey from the rise of the magnificent Olympians to the fateful day in 1916 He then moves forward in time through multiple expeditions beginning with the great Jacques Cousteau who located the ocean liner in 1975 Each successive team that risked their lives uncovered new clues but it was not until 2009 when Richie and his dive partner definitively pinpointed the secret that had eluded them Finally in July 2015 Richie and a small team attained the goal of documenting their findings that answered the century old question as to why all the engineering solutions built into the mighty Britannic could not save her from sharing the same fate as Titanic Experience the expedition as Richie and his team unravel the mystery of the HMHS Britannic With damage to only one compartment the ship should have been able to stay afloat and yet she sank twice as quickly as did Titanic How was that possible Was the hospital ship criminally torpedoed as the British press claimed or did she ineptly blunder into a minefield as the Bismarck Government countered Violet Jessop survived the sinking of Britannic and Titanic Experience her intriguing story

Archaeological Methods comprises 37 articles by leading archaeologists on the key methods used by archaeologists in the field in analysis in theory building and in managing cultural resources The book is destined to become the key reference work for archaeologists and their advanced students on contemporary archaeological methods Tu sais, mon vieux Jean-Pierre John Willis, 2017-04-28 Tu sais mon vieux Jean Pierre is inspired by the work of archaeologist Jean Pierre Chrestien 1949 2008 who worked hand in glove with a generation of researchers in helping to unearth unexpected and always interesting aspects of New France Contributions focus first upon the door to New France in the Gulf of St Lawrence Newfoundland and Acadia A second set of essays move further up the St Lawrence and into the heartland of the continent The final section examines aspects of Canadian culture popular art religion and communication The essays share a curiosity for material culture a careful regard for detail and nuance that forms the grain of New France studies and sensitivity to the overall context that is part and parcel of how history proceeds on the local or regional scale Happily we can now dispense with old fashioned and facile generalizations about the allegedly absent bourgeoisie the purportedly deficient commercial ethic of the habitants and the so called underlying military character of the colony and get down the business of understanding real people and their possessions in context Published in French American Military History Daniel K. Blewett, 2008-12-30 In this companion volume to his 1995 bibliography of the same title Daniel Blewett continues his foray into the vast literature of military studies As did its predecessor it covers land air and naval forces primarily but not exclusively from a U S perspective with the welcome emergence of small wars from publishing obscurity In addition to identifying relevant organizations and associations Blewett has gathered together the very best in chronologies bibliographies biographical dictionaries indexes journals abstracts glossaries and encyclopedias each accompanied by a brief descriptive annotation This work remains a pertinent addition to the general reference collections of public and academic libraries as well as special libraries government documents collections military and intelligence agency libraries and historical societies and museums Reading Underwater Wreckage Killian Quigley, 2022-12-15 Presenting a novel and needed theoretical model for interpreting shipwrecks and other drowned fragments the histories they tell and the futures they presage as junctures of artefact and ecofact human remains and emergent ecologies this book puts the environmental humanities and particularly multispecies studies in close conversation with literary studies history and aesthetic theory Earth's oceans hold the remains of as many as three million shipwrecks some thousands of years old Instead of approaching shipwrecks as either artefacts or ecofacts this book presents a third frame for understanding one inspired by the material dynamism of sea floor stuff As they become encrusted by oceanic matter some of it living some inanimate anthropic fragments participate in a distinctively submarine form of material relation That relation comprises a wide and sometimes incalculable array of things lives times and stories Drawing from several centuries of literary philosophical and scientific encounters with encrustations as well as from some of the innumerable encrusted art forms that inhabit the sea floor this
