Merchant Adventurer Kings of Rhoda Donald N. Yates, 2018-01-01. The Tucson Artifacts document the annals of a forgotten Roman-styled military governorship in Chichimec/Toltec Northwest Mexico. Perfectly preserved, complete and unaltered, they are straightforwardly composed in Latin, the official language of records during the Middle Ages. They do not have to be reconstructed, pieced together, deciphered, or dated. This illuminating collection of readings translated from Latin, Greek, Arabic, Chinese, Nahuatl, Hebrew, and other languages by medievalist Donald N. Yates provides the cultural contexts for understanding these unique witnesses to world history. The finds come from the 1920s and consist of lost wax-cast lead ceremonial objects inscribed with medieval Latin historical texts and memorials of leaders with names such as Jacob, Israel, Benjamin, Joseph, Saul, Isaac, and Theodore. Some also contain Hebrew phrases like "eight divisions and a great nation" while others display commemorated leaders' portraits, ships, trademarks in Tang-era seal script, temples, a Mesoamerican glyph, sacrificial fire, an anchor, Romanesque style angels in glory, and other drawings. Their iconography includes the Ten Commandments and cult objects like spice spoons, carpenter's square, Frankish axes, snakes, and trumpets. There are also military anthems and mottos. A series of thick, one-sided double crosses joined like sealed albums present what are clearly records signed by O.L. Oliver with dates ranging from 560 to 900 A.D. The overarching provenance is declared by the makers of the artifacts themselves to be Roman. Romani monogram R, a term tantamount at this time to European. This claim to nationality is further divided into Levites, L, and Israelites, I. One of the stand-out emblems depicted is a triple tiara, a symbol of Jewish priesthood associated with the Mesoamerican figure of Quetzalcoatl.
