The Rise of Magic in Early Medieval Europe Valerie Irene Jane Flint, 2020-03-31

There are forces better recognized as belonging to human society than repressed or left to waste away or growl about upon its fringes So writes Valerie Flint in this powerful work on magic in early medieval Europe Flint shows how many of the more discerning leaders of the early medieval Church decided to promote non Christian practices originally condemned as magical rather than repressing them or leaving them to waste away or growl These wise leaders actively and enthusiastically incorporated specific kinds of magic into the dominant culture not only to appease the contemporary non Christian opposition but also to enhance Christianity itself

Domestic Devotions in the Early Modern World , 2018-12-10 This volume sets out to explore the world of domestic devotions and is premised on the assumption that the home was a central space of religious practice and experience throughout the early modern world The contributions to this book which deal with themes dating from the fifteenth to the eighteenth century tell of the intimate relationship between humans and the sacred within the walls of the home The volume demonstrates that the home cannot be studied in isolation the sixteen essays that encompass religious history the histories of art and architecture material culture literary history and social and cultural history instead point individually and collectively to the porosity of the home and its connectedness with other institutions and broader communities Contributors Dotan Arad Kathleen Ashley Martin Christ Hildegard Diemberger Marco Faini
