Black Feminist Mothering in 21st Century Literature Nicole Carr,2025-05-23 Black feminist mothering can birth new worlds As today s world becomes increasingly hostile with the rising cost of food coupled with global warming s devastating impact we are in need of a feminism bold enough to imagine new pathways for survival Black feminist mothering may well be the remedy This volume positions Black feminist mothering as much more than a biological or caregiving role Building on key Black feminist tenets Carr examines Black women s maternal labors as a practice and proclamation for mothering ourselves tending to each other and nourishing our communities Far too often Black women s maternal intellectual and political labors are recognized only in service to white supremacist capitalism Mammy Breeder Welfare queen This text counters these dehumanizing iconographies to focus instead on the Black maternal s imaginative possibilities Not only does Carr address Black women s resistance to white supremacist power plays but she also attends to Black heteropatriarchy and the burdens racial solidarity imposes on Black women The Black maternal Carr argues is a cradle for Black revolution As Assata Shakur famously declared We are pregnant with freedom

Magic's Translations Margaret J. Wiener,2025-04-04 Do you believe in magic This familiar question suggests magic is easily recognized but unreal In Magic s Translations Margaret J Wiener argues that such views are shaped by historical power struggles especially in Europe s relations with the wider world Focusing on nineteenth and twentieth century Dutch interactions with Indonesians Wiener reveals how colonial agents framed unfamiliar practices practitioners and objects as magic rendering distinct phenomena fundamentally alike and advancing colonizing projects that deemed magic antithetical to reason and reality While colonial authorities including ethnologists mobilized the concept of magic to differentiate Europeans from Indonesians nature from culture reason from superstition and fact from fetish their efforts produced unexpected outcomes Some Indonesian artifacts and acts not only retained their power but invaded European experiences As anthropologists were among the key translators of magic throughout the world Wiener intersperses accounts of magic s translations in the Indies with reflections on anthropology s ongoing engagement with the concept She demonstrates that magic became an object of expert knowledge political control and popular fascination rather than a self evident category or relic of na ve belief

Magic and the Mind Eugene Subbotsky,2010-03-31 Magical thinking and behavior have traditionally been viewed as immature misleading alternatives to scientific thought that in children inevitably diminish with age In adults these inclinations have been labeled by psychologists largely as superstitions that feed on frustration uncertainty and the unpredictable nature of certain human activities In Magic

and the Mind Eugene Subbotsky provides an overview of the mechanisms and development of magical thinking and beliefs throughout the life span while arguing that the role of this type of thought in human development should be reconsidered Rather than an impediment to scientific reasoning or a byproduct of cognitive development in children magical thinking is an important and necessary complement to these processes enhancing creativity at problem solving and reinforcing coping strategies among other benefits In adults magical thinking and beliefs perform important functions both for individuals coping with unsolvable problems and stressful situations and for society enabling mass influence and promoting social harmony Operating in realms not bound by physical causality such as emotion relationships and suggestion magical thinking is an ongoing developing psychological mechanism that Subbotsky argues is integral in the contexts of politics commercial advertising and psychotherapy and undergirds our construction and understanding of meaning in both mental and physical worlds Magic and the Mind represents a unique contribution to our understanding of the importance of magical thinking offering experimental evidence and conclusions never before collected in one source It will be of interest to students and scholars of developmental psychology as well as sociologists anthropologists and educators
