Teaching What Can't Be Taught David Rigoni,2002-08-27 The current educational culture of standards accountability and creeping educational capitalism finds teachers increasingly teaching laundry lists of facts and skills Less attention is being paid to the big picture or worldview Author David Rigoni offers an alternative perspective Using a shaman metaphor he examines how the most important learning in a professional program takes place between the lines of the formal curriculum He argues that this worldview change ought to be intentional and that all aspects of the educational process ought to work to that end To clarify what is needed the book then looks to educators from throughout history who worked with their students with a total focus on changing their worldviews These educators of course are the shamans
