Mainstreaming The Prelingually Deaf Child:

Mainstreaming the Prelingually Deaf Child, 1978 Deaf Children in Public Schools Claire L. Ramsey, 1997 In this pioneering book Ramsey assesses the progress of three second grade deaf students by first pointing out that they were placed in two different environments with the general population of hearing students and separately with other deaf and hard of hearing children Her study reveals that although both settings were ostensibly educational inclusion in the general population was done to comply with the law not to establish specific goals for the deaf children In contrast self contained classes for deaf and hard of hearing children were designed especially to concentrate upon their particular learning needs This cohesive book offers educators scholars and parents a remarkable stage for assessing and enhancing the educational context for the deaf children within their purview Language, Cognition, and Deafness Michael Rodda, Carl Grove, 2013-08-21 First published in 1987 This book is intended as an introduction to the field of communication and deafness with particular reference to cognition and the various forms of language used by hearing impaired people It is aimed at an audience comprising teachers and student teachers of the deaf speech pathologists and students of speech pathology social workers and students of social work psychologists and students of psychology and to some extent the parents of deaf children and deaf people themselves It attempts to provide a concise summary of the topic and indeed as well as being for the audience just described it will be useful to anyone with an interest in the psychological sociological and linguistic ramifications of hearing loss Hearing in Children Jerry L. and this practice's relationship to evaluation studies the hotly debated issue of school performance and information about it aired in the public arena and the controversial link between budget processing and government performance This book will be invaluable to those conducting evaluations public employees and commissioners and those studying public administration
