Muslim Women Crafting A North American Identity:

Muslim Women Shahnaz Khan, 2000 Stereotypes depict Muslim women as exotic oppressed by Islam subject to rigid notions of how to be an authentic and proper Muslim Moving beyond traditional Western Orientalist and patriarchal discourse Shahnaz suggests how Muslim women living in North America form their Islamic identity Muslim Women in America Yvonne Yazbeck Haddad, Jane I. Smith, Kathleen M. Moore, 2006-03-02 The treatment and role of women are among the most discussed and controversial aspects of Islam The rights of Muslim women have become part of the Western political agenda often perpetuating a stereotype of universal oppression Muslim women living in America continue to be marginalized and misunderstood since the 9 11 terrorist attacks Yet their contributions are changing the face of Islam as it is seen both within Muslim communities in the West and by non Muslims In their public and private lives Muslim women are actively negotiating what it means to be a woman and a Muslim in an American context Yvonne Yazbeck Haddad Jane I Smith and Kathleen M Moore offer a much needed survey of the situation of Muslim American women focusing on how Muslim views about and experiences of gender are changing in the Western diaspora Centering on Muslims in America the book investigates Muslim attempts to form a new American Islam Such specific issues as dress marriage childrearing conversion and workplace discrimination are addressed The authors also look at the ways in which American Muslim women have tried to create new paradigms of Islamic womanhood and are reinterpreting the traditions apart from the males who control the mosque institutions A final chapter asks whether 9 11 will prove to have been a watershed moment for Muslim women in America This groundbreaking work presents the diversity of Muslim American women and demonstrates the complexity of the issues Impeccably researched and accessible it broadens our understanding of Islam in the West and encourages further exploration into how Muslim women are shaping the future of American Islam Transnational Identity and Memory Making in the Lives of Iraqi Women in Diaspora Nadia` Jones-Gailani, 2020-08-26 This book draws on an extensive archive of over one hundred oral narratives collected and recorded with Iraqi women in three sites Amman Detroit and Toronto Nadia Jones Gailani demonstrates how the relationships between ethno religious migrants nation and citizenship are shaped by the traumatic experiences of forced displacement and integration into new communities and national imaginaries This book also examines the broader historical trends that have precipitated migration from Iraq While informed by research into the archival documentary record on Iraqis in North America this book is first and foremost a study of gender and memory that focuses on women s oral histories By historicizing the process through which ethno religious and ethno national communities become fractured and remade Jones Gailani explores the expectations and realities of women as the supposed biological and cultural reproducers of the nation The Iraqi women featured in this book assert their claims to belonging across three different generations thereby opening up spaces to discuss how sites of migration shape the ability of migrants to lobby for the homeland even as they engage in daily struggles to advance their education and economic stability abroad American

Muslim Women Jamillah Karim,2009 Focusing on women who sometimes move outside of their ethnic Muslim space and interact with other Muslim ethnic groups in search of gender justice this ethnographic study of African American and South Asian immigrant Muslims in Chicago and Atlanta explores how Islamic ideas of racial harmony and equality create hopeful possibilities in an American society that remains challenged by race and class inequalities Page 4 of cover The Oxford Handbook of Religion and the American News Media Diane Winston,2012-09-06 Whether the issue is the rise of religiously inspired terrorism the importance of faith based NGOs in global relief and development or campaigning for evangelical voters in the U S religion proliferates in our newspapers and magazines on our radios and televisions on our computer screens and increasingly on our mobile devices Americans who assumed society was becoming more and more secular have been surprised by religion's rising visibility and central role in current events Yet this is hardly new the history of American journalism has deep religious roots and religion has long been part of the news mix Providing a wide ranging examination of how religion interacts with the news by applying the insights of history sociology and cultural studies to an analysis of media faith and the points at which they meet The Oxford Handbook of Religion and the American News Media is the go to volume for both secular and religious journalists and journalism educators scholars in media studies journalism studies religious studies and American studies Divided into five sections this handbook explores the historical relationship between religion and journalism in the USA how religion is covered in different media how different religions are reported on the main narratives of religion coverage and the religious press Publisher's website

Muslim Women Speak Amani Hamdan,2009 Muslim Women Speak challenges western stereotypes of Muslim women and their roles in family and community Through this rich tapestry the voices of Muslim women reveal the variety and complexity of life often covered by the veil

Shi'ism in America Liyakat Nathani Takim,2009-09-01 An authoritative introduction to the Shi'i community in America tracing its history composition and the development of American Shi'i identity There are over two million Shi'is Muslims in the United States With community roots going back sometimes close to one hundred years Shi'is can be found in major cities like New York Los Angeles Chicago Washington and Dearborn Michigan Early in the century Shi'is and Sunnis sometimes arrived at the same time worshipped together shared similar experiences and confronted the same challenges despite their sectarian differences In this comprehensive study Liyakat Nathani Takim provides an in depth account of the American Shi'i experience Both tracing the early history and illuminating the more recent past with surveys and interviews Takim explores the life of this community Filling an important scholarly gap he also demonstrates how living in the West has impelled the Shi'i community to grapple with the ways in which Islamic law may respond to the challenges of modernity Shi'ism in America provides a much needed overview of the history of this United States religious community from religious cultural and political institutions to inter group relations to the experience of African American Shi'is

Tsagarousianou, 2013-10-30 Drawing upon extensive fieldwork and suggesting novel ways of approaching the phenomenon of European Islam and the continent's Muslim communities Islam in Europe examines how European Muslims construct notions of identity agency and belonging how they negotiate and redefine the notions of religion tradition authority and cultural authenticity

Encyclopedia of Islamic Civilisation and Religion Ian Richard Netton, 2013-12-19 The Encyclopedia of Islamic Civilization and Religion provides scholarly coverage of the religion culture and history of the Islamic world at a time when that world is undergoing considerable change and is a focus of international study and debate The non Muslim world's perceptions of Islam have often tended to be dominated by unrepresentative radical extremist movements and media interpretations of events involving such movements to the extent that many people are unaware of the depth and variety of Islamic thought At the same time many who have had a formal training in Islamic studies have tended to concentrate on the traditional to the exclusion of the contemporary The Encyclopedia of Islamic Civilization and Religion covers the full range of Islamic thought in historical depth but it also provides substantial coverage of contemporary trends across the Muslim world With well over a thousand entries on Islamic theology history arts science law and institutions and coverage of Islam in individual countries and cities around the world the Encyclopedia of Islamic Civilization and Religion provides an extremely rich resource for students and researchers in religious studies and Middle Eastern studies Entries are cross referenced and bibliographies are provided There is a full index Routledge published The Qura n An Encyclopedia in 2005 an excellent companion to the Encyclopedia of Islamic Civilization and Religion

Zina, Transnational Feminism, and the Moral Regulation of Pakistani Women Shahnaz Khan, 2011-11-01 The Zina Ordinance is part of the Haddood Ordinances that were promulgated in 1979 by the military dictator General Zia ul Haq a self proclaimed president of Pakistan Since then tens of thousands of Pakistani women have been charged and incarcerated under the ordinance which governs illicit sex Although most of these women are subsequently released for lack of evidence they spend months or years in jail before trial To date these laws still remain in effect despite international calls for their repeal Over a five year period Shahnaz Khan interviewed women incarcerated under the zina laws in Pakistan She argues that the zina laws help situate morality within the individual thus de-emphasizing the prevalence of societal injustice She also examines the production and reception of knowledge in the west about women in the third world identifying a productive tension between living in the west and doing research in the third world She concludes that transnational feminist solidarity can help women identify the linkages between the local and global and challenge oppressive practices internationally This analysis will appeal to scholars and students of gender law human rights and Islamic Middle Eastern studies

New Cosmopolitanisms Gita Rajan, 2006-02-09 This book offers an in depth look at the ways in which technology travel and globalization have altered traditional patterns of immigration for South Asians who live and work in the United States and explains how their popular cultural practices and aesthetic desires are fulfilled They are presented as the twenty first century

s new cosmopolitans flexible enough to adjust to globalization s economic political and cultural imperatives They are thus uniquely adaptable to the mainstream cultures of the United States but also vulnerable in a period when nationalism and security have become tools to maintain traditional power relations in a changing world New Faiths, Old Fears Bruce B. Lawrence,2004-10-20 As a result of immigration from Asia in the wake of the passage of the 1965 Hart Celler Immigration Act the fastest growing religions in America faster than all Christian groups combined are Islam Hinduism Buddhism and Sikhism In this remarkable book a leading scholar of religion asks how these new faiths have changed or have been changed by the pluralist face of American civil society How have these new religious minorities been affected by the deep rooted American ambivalence toward foreign traditions Bruce Lawrence casts a comparativist eye on the American religious scene and explores the ways in which various groups of Asian immigrants have and sometimes have not been integrated into the American polity In the process he offers several important correctives Too often Lawrence argues profiles of Asian American experience focus exclusively on immigrants from East Asia to the exclusion of South Asian and West Asian voices New Faiths Old Fears seeks to make all Asians equally important and to break free of traditional geographic markers most reflecting nineteenth century imperial values that artificially divide the people of the Middle East from the rest of Asia with whom they share certain religious and cultural ties Iranian Americans in particular emerge as a vital bridge group whose experience tells us much about how Asians of many different backgrounds have found their way in their new nation Beyond simply expanding and refining our conception of who Asian Americans are Lawrence draws instructive comparisons between Asian Americans experience and those of Native African and Hispanic Americans exposing undercurrents of racial and class antagonisms He concludes that we cannot fully comprehend the contours and valences of culture and religion in America without understanding how this racialized class prejudice shapes the views of the dominant class toward immigrants and other marginal groups Engaging the Other K. Karim,M. Eid,2014-12-16 Addressing the specific contexts of communal leadership educational policy inter communal relations legal reform media production public discourse public opinion and responses to government policy this volume examines Western Muslim relations and makes proposals for enhancing Self Other interaction to improve societal harmony
