The Child in Islam Norma Tarazi, 1995 This book is a mothers book not that it can t be read by fathers as well the outgrowth of a mothers study group which met in Kuwait before the Gulf War focused on rearing children in an Islamic way The mothers were mostly American and British converts to Islam although in cosmopolitan Kuwait there were women from many other backgrounds The group was an offshoot of meetings for English speaking Muslim women held weekly in the home of Sister Zainab Ashry in Kuwait for more than ten years prior to the Gulf War From their knowledge of Islam the women involved wanted to study the implications of their faith on their child rearing practices The first step was to collect information any Qur anic verse or hadith that a participant found relevant Other information was collected from such knowledgeable people and books as were available Monthly discussions were organized on different topics Since the war some of the participating sisters have returned to Kuwait but many of our group are now scattered all over the world All the notes and papers collected by the study group were in my home in Kuwait when the invasion occurred fortunately my husband was able to salvage them and bring them here to our new home in the States I felt an obligation to compile this collected information to share with other Muslims especially converts like myself My deepest thanks must go to my husband whose support and cooperation gave me the means to carry out this task This book begins with the birth of a child to Muslim parents and the traditional Islamic response to the birth following the example of Prophet Muhammad S Very few specific actions are defined and these mostly relate to practices at the time of birth All of these fall into the category of sunnah following the Prophet s example or what he approved of in others and though highly recommended they are not fard obligatory actions Aside from these few simple practices carried out when a baby comes into the world Islam has no ceremonies devoted exclusively to children no first communion no coming of age celebrations Children are not segregated into a special world separate from that of adults they are members of families in the great embracing cycle of human life The family supports them when they are young they support the family in their productive years and in old age they are again supported by the family They grow and develop gradually in a system that encourages growth and learning but places little emphasis on milestones and anniversaries A large portion of this book is given to defining relationships from the Qur'an and hadith To understand the significance of the child in Muslim society it is necessary to recognize the total number and value of his or her relationships within it which are different from the relationships defined by other societies Chapter 1 includes some of the traditions of the Prophet Muhammad that apply to the newborn Chapter 2 describes the nature of the child's relationship with Allah and the spiritual world with some suggestions for encouraging spiritual awareness Chapter 3 contains Qur'anic verses and ahadith relevant to the child's relationship with his or her parents In light of these definitions and with reference to the Islamic teachings concerning morals manners and the purpose of life an attempt is made in chapters 4 5 and 6 to present an organized structure dealing with the practical how to of rearing a child in an Islamic way from a parent's viewpoint Chapters Introduction ix 7 and 8 progressively broaden out the child's world by adding brothers and sisters extended family and community relationships The practical suggestions for improving relationships among adult family members in order to pave the way for improving the child's relations with his or her extended family are an important aspect of chapter 8 The only relationship which really changes for the child as he or she grows up is that of accountability to Allah since no child is accountable for his or her actions before reaching the age of understanding All other relationships develop and deepen as the child grows but remain basically the same for the general commands to honor parents show respect to elders be gentle with younger ones and honor family ties continue for a Muslim throughout his or her life I pray to Allah that this book may bring only good to mothers and their children and that He protect them from any mistakes or misunderstandings I have done my best to prepare the material contained within it in a suitable manner and hope to see other literature published on this important subject expanding and enriching it While I alone am responsible for the contents I am deeply indebted to the many sisters who helped collect references and discussed the practical implications of our findings I have no list to prompt me and consequently may have unwittingly forgotten some names but I will remember Terry Lianna Salma Noura Mia Khadijah Sandra Hicleir Debbie Sara Maryam Aneesah Dianne Karen Kauthar and Nawal from Kuwait all of us working together on this project My friend Daaiyah Saleem in Ohio has also been very helpful offering many suggestions for improvement and clarification as she aided in proofreading My sister in law Ghada of course has helped along the way In the course of preparing this book for publication sister Zeba Siddiqui was chosen by the publisher to edit the text I have known Zeba a mother of four and a grandmother and author of several excellent children's books as well as the THE CHILD IN ISLAM Parent's Manual A Guide for Muslim Parents Living in North America for several years. When I heard she had taken on this task, I asked her to add anything she felt was missing from her years of experience and knowledge of the subject. She has supplied all of the hadith reference numbers in the text in itself an enormous task. In addition to editing, she has filled out and amplified several topics, checking and adding material where needed. The sections on the Hereafter, tahara, respect for religion and hospitality are prepared and written by her. It was only fair, therefore, that her name should appear on the title page of this book in recognition of her valuable contribution. I am deeply grateful to her for her help and input. I also need to thank my children who suffered through my learning experience and projects for self-improvement in parenting skills and my mother whose life-long interest in the growth and development of children helped me understand the importance of the matter and the need for a book such as this. A final note to the book's non-Muslim readers: I have chosen to use the word Allah throughout the book instead of the word God. The words are interchangeable in English for Muslims, but all of the women involved in this project have the habit, indeed they have the love of referring to God, the God of Abraham, Moses, Jesus, and Muhammad by His Arabic name Allah.

Early Childhood Education for Muslim Children Hasina Banu Ebrahim, 2016-12-08. Early Childhood Education for Muslim Children foregrounds the marginalised perspective of Muslim children aged three to five and examines how they are cared for and educated in centre-based provision in two provinces in post-apartheid South Africa. Both theological and social science perspectives are carefully interwoven to make sense of the construction of service provision for Muslims as a minority group in a secular democracy. This book uses a qualitative reflexive approach to amplify the voices of mothers, managers, and teachers as the community of agents who shape priorities for young children in the context of a rapidly transforming society. The research demonstrates that the quest to establish an appropriate care network and a sound educative environment for Muslim children is riddled with complexities, struggles, and tensions. In the light of changes in the home-based network for early education, centre-based provision has become an important infrastructure for Muslim communities seeking one-stop academic and Islamic education. The internal struggles encountered in this form of provision include inequities in access, struggles to package an appropriate curriculum, and dealing with nurturance specific to the faith and for cultural formations supportive of citizenship. This book calls for critical engagement with issues of religious education in early childhood, social cohesion, formal systematic teacher education for Muslim teachers, curriculum development, and parental support. It will contribute not only to the development of early education from an Islamic perspective but will also demonstrate how to expand discourses and practices to deal with diversity and faith development in early years. As such, it will appeal to academics, researchers, and postgraduate students in the fields of early childhood education, religious studies, race and ethnic studies, and childhood studies.

Parental Care and the Best Interests of the Child in Muslim Countries Nadjma Yassari, Lena-Maria Möller, Imen Gallala-Arndt, 2017-03-17. This book is the first analysis of parental care regimes in Muslim jurisdictions both in a comparative and country specific sense It contains the proceedings of a workshop on Parental Care and the Best Interests of the Child in Muslim Countries that the Max Planck Research Group Changes in God s Law An Inner Islamic Comparison of Family and Succession Law hosted in Rabat Morocco in April 2015 This workshop saw a total of 15 country reports presented on questions of custody guardianship and their development within different Muslim jurisdictions ranging from Indonesia to Morocco a number of which are included in full in the book Each of these country reports contains a historical perspective on the evolution of domestic rules regarding custody and guardianship and on the introduction and development of the notion of the best interests of the child Most importantly the prevailing legal norms both substantive and procedural are explored and particular attention is given to legal practice and the role of the judiciary In addition to a selection of country reports from the workshop the volume includes two comparative analyses on questions of parental care in both public and private international law With a high practical relevance for legal practitioners working in the area of cross border custody disputes and the most up to date assessment of parental care regimes beyond a pure analysis of statutory law this book combines a number of country reports authored by experts who have worked or are still based in the respective countries they are reporting on and thus contains in depth discussions of legal practice and custody law in action Nadjma Yassari is Director of the Research Group Changes in God s Law An Inner Islamic Comparison of Family and Succession Law while Lena Maria M ller and Imen Gallala Arndt are Senior Research Fellows at the Max Planck Institute for Comparative and International Private Law in Hamburg and the Max Planck Institute for Social Anthropology in Halle respectively

Children and Childhood in American Religions Don S. Browning, Bonnie J. Miller-McLemore, 2009-02-16 Whether First Communion or bar mitzvah religious traditions play a central role in the lives of many American children In this collection of essays leading scholars reveal for the first time how various religions interpret reconstruct and mediate their traditions to help guide children and their parents in navigating the opportunities and challenges of American life The book examines ten religions among other topics How the Catholic Church confronts the tension between its teachings about children and actual practice The Oglala Lakota s struggle to preserve their spiritual tradition The impact of modernity on Hinduism Only by discussing the unique challenges faced by all religions and their followers can we take the first step toward a greater understanding for all of us

Al-Nihayah: A Concise Description of Islamic Law and Legal Opinions (al-Nihayah fi Mujarrad al-Fiqh wa al-Fatawa) Shaykh Abu Ja'far Mohammad ibn Hasan ibn 'Ali al-Tusi, 2008-01-01 Islam is an all inclusive way of life which covers the intellect and the real the theoretical and the practical The major part of the Islamic code of practice and behavior is formalised in the discipline of Islamic law which established itself as a discipline before other Islamic disciplines The early Muslim jurisconsultants are to be credited as the pioneers of the development of the Islamic legal system Shaikh Mohammad

ibn Hasan ibn Ali Abu Ja far al Tusi 385 460 AH 995 1067 AD who was given the honorary title of Shaikh al Ta ifat al Imamiyyah The Head of the Shi a Islamic School was at the forefront of these pioneers His book Al Nihayah fi Mojarrad al Fiqh wa al Fatawa A Concise Description of Islamic Law and Legal Opinions has been recognised as one of the major early sources references and textbooks in the field of Islamic Law in general and of Shi a Islamic law in particular This book has been translated edited and introduced by Professor A Ezzati and published by ICAS Press as the present volume

Tolerance and Coercion in Islam Yohanan Friedmann, 2003-06-30 Since the beginning of its history Islam has encountered other religious communities both in Arabia and in the territories conquered during its expansion Muslims faced other religions from the position of a ruling power and were therefore able to determine the nature of that relationship in accordance with their world view and beliefs Yohanan Friedmann's original and erudite study examines questions of religious tolerance as they appear in the Qur'an and in the prophetic tradition and analyses the principle that Islam is exalted above all religions discussing the ways in which this principle was reflected in various legal pronouncements The book also considers the various interpretations of the Qur'anic verse according to which No compulsion is there in religion noting that despite the apparent meaning of this verse Islamic law allowed the practice of religious coercion against Manichaeans and Arab idolaters as well as against women and children in certain circumstances

Imagining Childhood, Improving Children Catriona Ellis, 2023-08-24 From as early as the 1920s state policy towards children in South India was framed through the lens of a universal ideal of modern childhood This reflected the participation of policy makers and civil society activists in global discourses of child saving and the new opportunities of governance under the constitutional reforms of 1919 Children became viewed as both objects to be saved and investments as future citizens The book considers how adults used this concept of universal childhood to conceptualise themselves as both modern and avuncular gaining authority through an appropriation of familial terms as well as the claim to modern scientific expertise Through a detailed study of education health and juvenile justice the book reveals that the implementation of policy was still informed by other markers of difference and contrasts adult intentions with the autobiographical memories of school family and peer relationships

Indonesian Islam M. Barry Hooker, 2003-06-30 Indonesian Islam is an important and timely book based on approximately 2 000 fatwa pl fatwa an opinion on a point of law or dogma given by a person with recognized authority ijza demonstrating that classical Islamic reasoning is an alternative to state defined Islam and is capable of dealing with contemporary challenges in ethics and morality in a consistent and rational way The book provides a comprehensive survey of how modern Indonesian Islamic thinking has responded to changes in social practices since the 1920s and how authorities have ruled on diverse subjects ranging from football pools to land sales and milk banks The author examines in detail the development and nuances of Islamic thinking both by reference to local tradition and comparatively by reference to the classical Arabian texts therefore providing an important contribution to deepening popular understanding of Islam in Indonesia The author's detailed analysis of fatw is unprecedented in the study of Indonesian Islam To date there is no comparable analysis of modern fatw available in book form anywhere in the world making this volume an invaluable resource for anyone who studies Indonesia Professor Hooker describes the fatw as method and doctrine religious duty the status and obligation of women Islam and medical science offences against religion and issues specific to Indonesian Islam Responses to fatw cover such contemporary issues as abortion organ transplants insurance and the status of women For sale in Asia Australia and New Zealand by NUS Press Singapore Encyclopedia of Women and Islamic Cultures Suad Joseph,Afsāna Naǧmābādī,2003 Family Law and Politics Volume II of the Encyclopedia of Women Islamic Cultures brings together over 360 entries on women family law politics and Islamic cultures around the world The Early History of Ismaili Jurisprudence Agostino Cilardo,2012-03-12 Researchers have shed light on the literary production of the Ismailis since the early 1930s The cataloguing of these work has been carried out by Ivanow Fyzee Goriawala Poonawala Gacek Cortese and de Bloise Many works attributable to Ismaili scholars however are still unavailable either because they remain hidden in private collections or because they have not survived Ismaili law in particular is still a largely unexplored field of study Al Qadi Abu Hanifa al Nu man is generally considered the founder and greatest exponent of Ismaili jurisprudence Many of his works have been lost and information on some others is scattered yet other works remain in manuscript form and only a few have been published The present book is a critical edition and translation of al Nu man s Minhaj al fara id based on its three known copies It deals with the law of inheritance one of the most complex in Islamic law In comparing the Minhaj with two published works the Da a im al Islam and Kitab al iqtisar as well as a manuscript Mukhtasar al athar of al Nu man a significant doctrinal evolution clearly emerges reflecting his early Maliki training and then his work under four Fatimid imams Ismaili law is also compared with the doctrines of the Imami school as well as the legal system of the four Sunni schools This book thus allows us to determine the time of the composition of the Minhaj al fara id the development and the originality of Ismaili jurisprudence and its relation to other schools of law Multicultural and Ethnic Children's Literature in the United States Donna L. Muslim Child Introduction

In the digital age, access to information has become easier than ever before. The ability to download Muslim Child has revolutionized the way we consume written content. Whether you are a student looking for course material, an avid reader searching for your next favorite book, or a professional seeking research papers, the option to download Muslim Child has opened up a world of possibilities. Downloading Muslim Child provides numerous advantages over physical copies of books and documents. Firstly, it is incredibly convenient. Gone are the days of carrying around heavy textbooks or bulky folders filled with papers. With the click of a button, you can gain immediate access to valuable resources on any device. This convenience allows for efficient studying, researching, and reading on the go. Moreover, the cost-effective nature of downloading Muslim Child has democratized knowledge. Traditional books and academic journals can be expensive, making it difficult for individuals with limited financial resources to access information. By offering free PDF downloads, publishers and authors are enabling a wider audience to benefit from their work. This inclusivity promotes equal opportunities for learning and personal growth. There are numerous websites and platforms where individuals can download Muslim Child. These websites range from academic databases offering research papers and journals to online libraries with an expansive collection of books from various genres. Many authors and publishers also upload their work to specific websites, granting readers access to their content without any charge. These platforms not only provide access to existing literature but also serve as an excellent platform for undiscovered authors to share their work with the world. However, it is essential to be cautious while downloading Muslim Child. Some websites may offer pirated or illegally obtained copies of copyrighted material. Engaging in such activities not only violates copyright laws but also undermines the efforts of authors, publishers, and researchers. To ensure ethical downloading, it is advisable to utilize reputable websites that prioritize the legal distribution of content. When downloading Muslim Child, users should also consider the potential security risks associated with online platforms. Malicious actors may exploit vulnerabilities in unprotected websites to distribute malware or steal personal information. To protect themselves, individuals should ensure their devices have reliable antivirus software installed and validate the legitimacy of the websites they are downloading from. In conclusion, the ability to download Muslim Child has transformed the way we access information. With the convenience, cost-effectiveness, and accessibility it offers, free PDF downloads have become a popular choice for students, researchers, and book lovers worldwide. However, it is crucial to engage in ethical downloading practices and prioritize personal security when utilizing online platforms. By doing so, individuals can make the most of the vast array of free PDF resources available and embark on a journey of continuous learning and intellectual growth.
