East Asian and Pacific Series, 1967 Current Topics in Vector Research, 2012-12-06 Current Topics in Vector Research is based on the premise that to understand the whole one must first understand the component parts and how they interact Here in Volume 4 as well as in future volumes vector pathogen and host will be treated both individually and as integral parts of multifaceted transmission systems It is our intention to present up to date coherent syntheses of the latest findings in vector research suggest promising frontiers for future research and call attention to possible practical applications of our present understandings of pathogen vector host interactions To realize our goals we invite world renowned veteran scientists as well as neophytes to report on their individual areas of expertise Where appropriate authors are encouraged to draw conclusions and propose hypotheses that stimulate additional thinking and research or otherwise further our understanding of vector transmission cycles and how such cycles might be interrupted It is our hope that readers will agree that we are serving these objectives and creating a milieu for specialists and generalists in vector research to maintain rapport and understanding The American Zone L. Signal Processing, Image Processing and Pattern Recognition, Dominik Slezak, Sankar Pal, Byeong-Ho Kang, Junzhong Gu, Hideo Kuroda, Tai-hoon Kim, 2010-05-10 As future generation information technology FGIT becomes specialized and fr mented it is easy to lose sight that many topics in FGIT have common threads and because of this advances in one discipline may be transmitted to others Presentation of recent results obtained in different disciplines encourages this interchange for the advancement of FGIT as a whole Of particular interest are hybrid solutions that combine ideas taken from multiple disciplines in order to achieve something more significant than the sum of the individual parts. Through such hybrid philosophy, a new principle can be discovered which has the propensity to propagate throughout multifaceted disciplines. FGIT 2009 was the first mega conference that attempted to follow the above idea of hybridization in FGIT in a form of multiple events related to particular disciplines of IT conducted by separate scientific committees but coordinated in order to expose the most important contributions. It included the following international conferences: Advanced Software Engineering and Its Applications, ASEA Bio Science and Bio Technology, BSBT Control and Automation, CA Database Theory and Application, DTA Disaster Recovery and Business Continuity, DRBC published independently, Future Generation Communication and Networking, FGCN that was combined with Advanced Communication and Networking, ACN Grid and Distributed Computing, GDC Multimedia, Computer Graphics and Broadcasting, MulGraB Security Technology, SecTech, Signal Processing, Image Processing and Pattern Recognition, SIP and e Service Science and Technology, UNESST.
