Other Cultures Elder Years:

Other Cultures, Elder Years Ellen Rhoads Holmes, Lowell D. Holmes, 1995-05-24 Holmes and Holmes have revised their 1983 book and it remains a good supplement for an undergraduate gerontology course or anthropology course. It is written at a readable level; each chapter has a clear summary. It provides an excellent summary of secondary sources, avoiding extensive review of primary research, complicated theory, and methodological issues. Clinical Gerontologist Hailed as extremely well organized, balanced, and impartial in its first edition by The Gerontologist, Other Cultures Elder Years is once again available in a fully revamped second edition. This new edition provides a comprehensive comparative viewpoint on our knowledge about worldwide patterns of aging. It addresses everything from demographic patterns to family relations, from perceptions of the life cycle to the impact of modernization on the aged. Replete with summaries of crucial studies from various parts of the world, Other Cultures Elder Years also offers three extended case descriptions of Inuit, Samoan, and white American aged, as well as an examination of aging patterns among major American ethnic groups. Among the other subjects the text addresses are cultural perspectives in health care, the future of aging in America, and creativity and the life cycle. Other Cultures Elder Years is the key text available for use by anyone teaching courses on aging and culture. I found the current book a significant improvement over the first edition. It remains to be the only usable text in the anthropology of aging available. I see the audiences for the book as instructors for the following courses: Anthropology of Aging, Sociology of Aging, and general social gerontology courses. I have used this book in past Anthropology of Aging courses and would do so again. Jay Sokolovsky, University of Maryland, Baltimore County. This book does a truly artful job of organizing and presenting the complex diversity of human experience related to aging and cultural influence. This book offers an implicit biocultural laboratory to the reader: the biologic universal of human aging is shaped by the prism of cultural influence. The reader is guided through the evolutionary history of aging among anthropoid primates to hominids to Homo sapiens sapiens, who are then examined from cultural perspectives found around the globe. The effect is one of inquiry, search, synthesis, and ultimately a confrontation with our inner selves as we negotiate the inexorable march toward our ultimate destiny. J. Neil Henderson, Suncoast Gerontology Center, University of South Florida. A Study of Pastoral Care of the Elderly in Africa Samuel Ayete-Nyampong (PhD), 2014. In this book, Rev. Dr. Samuel Ayete Nyampong has revealed his passion for the good quality of life for the ageing population in Africa and the development of Pastoral Gerontology courses in Theological Institutions across Africa. This book is a resource material for building the capacity of church leaders in the provision of care and support for the ageing population in Africa. All who read this book will find it inspiring, full of deep thoughts, and a challenge to the church and state, thereby provoking sensitivity to the needs of the ageing population in Africa. This book is highly recommended for church leaders, theological students, students of Gerontology, and to all who have a passion to promote the quality of life of the ageing population.

Culture and Psychology Stephen Fox, 2019-07-17 Using an engaging storytelling approach, Culture and Psychology introduces students to culture from a scientific yet accessible point of view Author Stephen Fox integrates art literature and music into each chapter to offer students a rich and complete picture of cultures from around the world The text wholly captures students attention while addressing key concepts typically found in a Psychology of Culture or Cross Cultural Psychology course Chapters feature personalized interdisciplinary stories to help students understand specific concepts and theories and encourage them to make connections between the material and their own lives

Global Health Care: Issues and Policies Carol Holtz, 2016-05-20 Global Health Care Issues and Policies Third Edition provides students with current information on various global health topics Written by academic authors scientists and health practitioners the text prepares students with a basic perspective of health policy issues from various geographical regions and explains how they are affected by significant world events The text addresses international health and healthcare at both the undergraduate and graduate levels New to the Third Edition Updated content reflecting trends and issues New content on sex trafficking social work and social determinants of health Contributed content by national recognized experts

Care Destiny Charles M. Gaitz, G. Niederehe, N.L. Wilson, 2012-12-06 The seventeenth annual symposium sponsored by the Texas Research Institute of Mental Sciences was held October 23-26 1983 in Houston Texas The theme was Aging 2000 Our Health Care Destiny This volume on social psychological economic and ethical aspects and a companion volume Volume I on biomedical aspects include edited versions of the presentations by about 80 speakers Their papers were directed at practitioners researchers and medical educators who will be active and productive in the year 2000 and we focused on those who would influence the evolution of care of elderly persons during the next 17 years We chose topics that would be of particular interest to teachers and current planners in the disciplines concerned with delivery of health and social services We believe that having a core of more qualified and better trained practitioners will help the population of aged persons achieve a higher level of physical and mental health life satisfaction and happiness find better coping techniques and control of environmental stresses and attain personal and social goals Our Goals While preparing for the symposium we knew that the status of the art in 1983 obviously would be the base from which we would work but we asked our speakers to give priority to future planning and directions

The Elderly as Modern Pioneers Philip Silverman, 1987 Overall one of the most competent and well presented treatments of the subject now available Jay Sokolovsky University of Maryland a valuable contribution to the field of gerontology The volume combines interdisciplinary and cross cultural perspectives written in a well organized framework without sacrificing depth and comprehensive summary of gerontological research Clinical Gerontologist A well written and documented volume for persons interested in the anthropological viewpoint on aging Choice the use of cross cultural comparisons provides a broadened perspective to understanding the issues of aging Current Literature on Aging It is comprehensive well written mercifully jargon free critical and controversial and undogmatic Aging and Society This volume focuses on the nature and problems of old age providing a comprehensive summary of current gerontological research from interdisciplinary and cross cultural perspectives Landscape of Peace Kerstin J. S. Werle, 2014-05-12 Kerstin Werle's work is based upon a year of fieldwork on Lamotrek and Yap belonging to a group of islands with a matrilineal culture Although a trend to the lifestyle of the Western world can be found everywhere on the islands traditional customs a gendered division of labour and subsistence techniques prevail Kerstin Werle carried out her research according to classical anthropological methods supplementing the available specialist literature on the widespread Micronesian atolls with a valuable overview Her book shows how the ideal of an old and wise woman contained in the cultural symbol lavalava is faced with a young society Due to the extremely limited space on the small atolls individual plots of land have become historically culturally and emotionally significant places all of which have been ascribed their own individual character With the help of these personalized places people on Lamotrek pursue local politics The Encyclopedia of Aging Linda S. Noelker, PhD, Kenneth Rockwood, MD, FRCPC, Richard L. Sprott, Ph.D., 2006-03-17 A COMPREHENSIVE RESOURCE ON GERONTOLOGY AND GERIATRICS Since its inception in 1987 The Encyclopedia of Aging has proven to be the definitive resource for scholars and students across the burgeoning and increasingly interdisciplinary fields of gerontology and geriatrics Like its three esteemed predecessors the fourth edition contains concise readable explorations of hundreds of terms concepts and issues related to the lives of older adults as well as timely coverage of the many new programs and services for the elderly Updated under the distinguished stewardship of editor in chief Richard Schulz to reflect the infusion of new information across the scientific disciplines this new edition brings readers up to the moment significant advances in biology physiology genetics medicine psychology nursing social services sociology economics technology and political science While retaining the format and standard of excellence that marked the first three editions the fourth edition encompasses a wealth of new information from the social and health sciences It contains the most current bibliography of an expanding literature an exhaustive index and extensive cross references This much anticipated update of the field's most authoritative resource will take its place as an indispensable reference for specialists and non specialists across a broad range of disciplines that now comprise the field of aging SPRINGER SERVING THE HEALTHCARE AND HELPING PROFESSIONS FOR MORE THAN 55 YEARS Respect for the Elderly Kyu-t'ak Söng, Bum Jung Kim, 2009 This book is concerned with the fundamental issues of elder respect how it is practiced and perceived in the broad context of

Aging in Today's World Renée Rose Shield,Stanley M. Aronson,2005-05-01 Never before in human existence have the aged been so numerous and for the most part healthy In this important new book two professionals an anthropologist and a physician wrestle with the complex subject of aging Is it inevitable Is it a burden or gift What is successful aging Why are some people better at aging than others Where is aging located How does it vary among individuals within and between groups cultures societies and indeed over the centuries Reflecting on these and other questions the authors comment on the impact age has in their lives and work Two unique viewpoints are presented While medicine approaches aging with special attention given to the body its organs and its functions over time anthropology focuses on how the aged live within their cultural settings As this volume makes clear the two disciplines have a great deal to teach each other and in a spirited exchange the authors show how professional barriers can be surmounted In a novel approach each author explores a different aspect of aging in alternating chapters These chapters are in turn followed by a commentary by the other Further the authors interrupt each other within the chapters to raise questions contradict ask for clarification and explore related ideas with these interjections emphasizing the dynamic nature of their ideas about age Finally a third voice that of a random old man periodically inserts itself into the text to remind the authors of their necessarily limited understanding of the subject
