Language Teaching Exploring Cultural Dynamics and Tensions Within Service-Learning Trae Stewart, Nicole Webster, 2011-09-01 Service learning is an exciting pedagogy and field of study offering insight into how academic study and community engagement blend to create social change In its most traditional conceptualization servicelearning activities typically manifest within communities where outside individuals address a need Service learning is purported to have a transforming effect on individual student perspectives by providing students the opportunity to interact with people and enter into situations that allow students to test their predisposition towards others However the literature on the impact of service learning on participants acceptance of diversity and development of open mindedness reports mixed outcomes The purpose of this book is to explore cultural tensions and dynamics within the field of service learning It is not meant to be an exhaustive review of the interplay between culture and service learning but rather a starting point for an ongoing conversation about how this complex topic impacts the field In 18 chapters educators students and administrators investigate the cultural values of service learning itself and the tensions created when this is at odds with the values of others within K 12 and higher education in the United States and abroad Authors include community organization representatives researchers directors of offices of community engagement university administrators junior and senior faculty and former service learning undergraduate students Submissions reflect a range of genres including theoretical conceptual pieces position papers case studies and other traditional academic essays challenging how students and community members are affected by the cultural tensions within service learning engagement Social Sciences and Interdisciplinary Behavior Ford Lumban Gaol, Fonny Hutagalung, Nailya Bagautdinova, Lenar Safiullin, 2016-09-19 Social Sciences and Interdisciplinary Behavior contains papers that were originally presented at the 4th International Congress on Interdisciplinary Behavior and Social Science 2015 ICIBSoS 2015 held 22 23 October 2015 at The Institute of Management Economics and Finance of the Kazan Federal University Kazan Russia and 7 8 November 2015 in Arya Duta Hotel Jakarta Indonesia The contributions deal with various interdisciplinary research topics particularly in the fields of social sciences education economics and arts The papers focus especially on such topics as language cultural studies economics behavior studies political sciences media and communication psychology and human development Applying Linguistics in the Classroom Aria Razfar, Joseph C. Rumenapp, 2013-07-24 Making linguistics accessible and relevant to all teachers this text looks at language issues in the classroom through an applied sociocultural perspective focused on how language functions in society and in schools how it is used for what purposes and how teachers can understand their students language practices While touching on the key structural aspects of language phonetics phonology morphology and syntax it does not simply give an overview but rather provides a way to study and talk about language Each chapter includes practical steps and suggests tools for applying different kinds of linguistic knowledge in classrooms The activities and exercises are adaptable to elementary or high school settings Many examples focus on the intersection of math science and language Teacher case studies show how real teachers have used these concepts to inform teaching practices Given the increasing use of multimedia resources in today s schools multiple mediums are integrated to engage educators in learning about language The Companion Website provides a multitude of relevant resources that illustrate the diversity of language functions and debates about language in society

Other Worlds Charlotte Hardman,2020-09-02 This important ethnographic study explores the world view of the Lohorung Rai a hill tribe of about 3 000 members living in Eastern Nepal These rice farmers have a tradition of migration combined with hunting and gathering By examining Lohorung concepts and their discourse on self and emotion this book explores the way in which ancestral influence dominates the daily lives and rituals of the Lohorung It explores the other world of the Lohorung within which their concepts about the nature of the person and the natural world can be understood This study will be relevant not only to Himalayan experts but to all anthropologists interested in culture self and emotion

A Pepper-pot of Cultures Gordon Collier,Ulrich Fleischmann,2003 The terms creole and creolization have witnessed a number of significant semantic changes in the course of their history Originating in the vocabulary associated with colonial expansion in the Americas it had been successively narrowed down to the field of black American culture or of particular linguistic phenomena Recently creole has expanded again to cover the broad area of cultural contact and transformation characterizing the processes of globalization initiated by the colonial migrations of past centuries The present volume is intended to illustrate these various stages either by historical and or theoretical discussion of the concept or through selected case studies The authors are established scholars from the areas of literature linguistics and cultural studies they all share a lively and committed interest in the Caribbean area certainly not the only or even oldest realm in which processes of creolization have shaped human societies but one that offers by virtue of its history of colonialization and cross cultural contact its most pertinent example The collection beyond its theoretical interest thus also constitutes an important survey of Caribbean studies in Europe and the Americas As well as searching overview essays there are sociolinguistic contributions on the linguistic geography of criollo in Spanish America the Limonese creole speakers of Costa Rica creole language and identity in the Netherlands Antilles and the affinities between Papiamentu and Chinese in Cura ao ethnohistorical examinations of such topics as creole transgression in the Dominican Haitian borderland the Haitian Mandingo and African fundamentalism creolization and identity in West Central Jamaica Afro Nicaraguans and national identity and the Creole heritage of Haiti studies of religion and folk culture including voodoo and creolization in New York City the creolization of the Mami Wata water spirit and signifyin g processes in New World Anancy tales a group of essays focusing on the thought of douard Glissant Maryse Cond and the Cr olit writers and case studies of artistic expression including creole identities in Caribbean women s writing Port au Prince in the Haitian novel Cynthia McLeod and Astrid Roemer and Surinamese fiction Afro Cuban artistic expression and metacreolization in the fiction of Robert Antoni and Nalo Hopkinson Toward a Social History of American English Joey L. Dillard, 2015-11-27

No detailed description available for Toward a Social History of American English Transcultural Insights into Contemporary Irish Literature and Society María Amor Barros-del Río, 2024-07-19 Transcultural Insights into Contemporary Irish Literature and Society examines the transcultural patterns that have been enriching Irish literature since the twentieth century and engages with the ongoing dialogue between contemporary Irish literature and society Driven by the growing interest in transcultural studies in the humanities this volume provides an insightful analysis of how Irish literature handles the delicate balance between authenticity and folklore and uniformisation and diversity in an increasingly globalised world Following a diachronic approach the volume includes critical readings of canonical Irish literature as an uncharted exchange of intercultural dialogues The text also explores the external and internal transcultural traits present in recent Irish literature and its engagement with social injustice and activism and discusses location and mobility as vehicles for cultural transfer and the advancement of the women s movement A final section also includes an examination of literary expressions of hybridisation diversity and assimilation to scrutinise negotiations of new transcultural identities In the light of the compiled contributions the volume ends with a revisitation of Irish studies in a world in which national identity has become increasingly problematic This volume presents new insights into the fictional engagement of contemporary Irish literature with political social and economic issues and its efforts to accommodate the local and the global resulting in a reshaping of national collective imaginaries Research in Education ,1972 Resources in Education ,1972
