Robert College of Constantinople Nick Petrov, 2023-06-21 In 1863 Protestant missionaries established Robert College in Constantinople the capital of the Ottoman Empire holding the distinction of being the pioneer American college abroad In many cases the American educators at Robert College understood the field of education as a superior tool for mission The book brings into conversation the convergence of the Protestant mission movement in the Ottoman Empire with the diverse tones of American efforts for providing education and assisting of the economic and social progress The author argues that despite being established as a religious institution with common goals and aspirations Robert College did not fully progress and reach its ambitions until the school switched to what the founding fathers called a non religious curriculum Robert College exclusively abandoned its Christian theological curriculum by minimizing its explicitly Christian dimensions and became a school with greater financial and structural autonomy which eventually gave the school the freedom to become crossroads of cultures faiths and nationalities The story of Robert College in Constantinople is a fascinating account for examining the influence of United States foreign affairs and culture on various aspects of society in the nineteenth and early twentieth century Ottoman Empire

A Global Middle East Liat Kozma, Cyrus Schayegh, Avner Wishnitzer, 2014-12-03 The start of the twentieth century ushered in a period of unprecedented change in the Middle East These transformations brought about by the emergence of the modern state system and an increasing interaction with a more globalized economy irrevocably altered the political and social structures of the Middle East even as the region itself left its mark on the processes of globalization themselves As a result of these changes there was an intensification in the movement of people commodities and ideas across the globe commercial activity urban space intellectual life leisure culture immigration patterns and education nothing was left untouched It shows how even as the Middle East was responding to increased economic interactions with the rest of the world by restructuring not only local economies but also cultural political and social institutions the region s engagement with these trends altered the nature of globalization itself This period has been seen as one in which the modern state system and its oftentimes artificial boundaries emerged in the Middle East But this book highlights how despite this it was also one of tremendous interconnection Approaching the first period of modern globalization by investigating the movement of people objects and ideas into around and out of the Middle East the authors demonstrate how the Middle East in this period was not simply subject or reactive to the West but rather an active participant in the transnational flows that transformed both the region and the world A Global Middle East offers an examination of a variety of intellectual and more material exchanges such as nascent feminist movements and Islamist ideologies as well as the movement of sex workers across the Mediterranean and Jewish migration into Palestine A Global Middle East emphasises this by examining the multi directional nature of movement across borders as well as this movement s intensity volume and speed By focusing on the theme of mobility as the defining feature of modern globalization in the Middle East it provides an essential examination of the formative years of the region A History of the Islamic World, 600-1800 Jo Van Steenberg, 2020-08-11 A History of the Islamic World 600 1800 supplies a fresh and unique survey of the formation of the Islamic world and the key developments that characterize this broad region s history from late antiquity up to the beginning of the modern era Containing two chronological parts and fourteen chapters this impressive overview explains how different tides in Islamic history washed ashore diverse sets of leadership groups multiple practices of power and authority and dynamic imperial and dynastic discourses in a theocratic age A text that transcends many of today s popular stereotypes of the premodern Islamic past the volume takes a holistically and theoretically informed approach for understanding interpreting and teaching premodern history of Islamic West Asia Jo Van Steenberg identifies the Asian connectedness of the sociocultural landscapes between the Nile in the southwest to the Bosphorus in the northwest and the Oxus Amu Darya and Jaxartes Syr Darya in the northeast to the Indus in the southeast This abundantly illustrated book also offers maps and dynastic tables enabling students to gain an informed understanding of this broad region of the world This book is an essential text for undergraduate classes on Islamic History Medieval and Early Modern History Middle East Studies and Religious History Internationalism and the New Turkey Erik Sjöberg,2022-07-06 This book examines international education in Turkey after World War I In this period a movement for peace and international education among American educators emerged This effort however had to be reconciled with the nationalist projects of new nation states emerging from the war In the case of the Near East that meant coming to terms with the radically nationalist modernization project of Kemal Atatürk's Turkish Republic Using the case of Robert College an American educational institution in Istanbul which aimed to foster a future local elite of a multi ethnic and multi religious student body the book sheds light on the negotiation between two conceptions of modernity as represented by American internationalist ideals and the tenets of Kemalism the Westernizing yet deeply ethnocentric national ideology of post 1923 Turkey Based on recently declassified archival sources this study addresses the educational intentions and strategies for adjustment of college faculty It also offers a rare insight into the mindset of young students attempting to make sense of what internationalism and religious ethnic and national identity meant in the Ottoman past and in the new republican Turkey Focusing on Robert College and the forgotten case of its dean and social studies instructor Dr Edgar Jacob Fisher it addresses the little researched field of internationalism and peace education in interwar Turkey

The Ashgate Research Companion to Modern Imperial Histories John Marriott, 2016-03-23 Written by leading scholars this collection provides a comprehensive and authoritative overview of modern empires Spanning the era of modern imperial history from the early sixteenth century to the present it challenges both the rather insular focuses on specific experiences and gives due attention to imperial formations outside the West including the Russian Japanese Mughal Ottoman and Chinese The companion is divided into three broad sections Part I Times surveys the three main eras of modern imperialism The first was that dominated by the settlement impulse with migrants many voluntarily and many more by force making new lives in the colonies This impulse gave way most especially in the nineteenth century to a period of busy and rapid expansion which was less likely to promote new settlement and in which colonists more frequently saw their sojourn in colonial lands as temporary and related to the business mostly of governance and trade Lastly in the twentieth century in particular empires began to fail and to fall Part II Spaces studies the principal imperial formations of the modern world Each chapter charts the experience of a specific empire while at the same time placing it within the complex patterns of wider imperial constellations The individual chapters thus survey the broad dynamics of change within the empires themselves and their relationships with other imperial formations and reflect critically on the ways in which these topics have been approached in the literature In Part III Themes scholars think critically about some of the key features of imperial expansion and decline These chapters are brief and many are provocative They reflect the current state of the field and suggest new lines of inquiry which may follow from more comparative perspectives on empire The broad range of themes captures the vitality and diversity of contemporary scholarship on questions of empire and colonialism encompassing political economic and cultural processes central to the formation and maintenance of empires as well as institutions ideologies and social categories that shaped the lives both of those implementing and those experiencing the force of empire In these pages the reader will find the slave and the criminal the merchant and the maid the scientist and the artist alongside the structures which sustained their lives and their livelihoods Overall the companion emphasises the diversity of imperial experience and process Comprehensive in its scope it draws attention to the particularities of individual empires rather than over generalising as if all empires at all times and in all places behaved in a similar manner It is this contingent and historical specificity that enables us to explore in expansive ways precisely what constituted the modern empire

The Thirty-Year Genocide Benny Morris, Dror Ze'evi, 2019-04-24 A Financial Times Book of the Year A Foreign Affairs Book of the Year A Spectator Book of the Year A landmark contribution to the study of these epochal events Times Literary Supplement Brilliantly researched and written casts a careful eye upon the ghastly events that took place in the final decades of the Ottoman empire when its rulers decided to annihilate their Christian subjects Hitler and the Nazis gleaned lessons from this genocide that they then applied to their own efforts to extirpate Jews Jacob Heilbrun The Spectator Between 1894 and 1924 three waves of violence swept across Anatolia targeting the region s Christian minorities By 1924 the Armenians Assyrians and Greeks once nearly a quarter of the population had been reduced to 2 percent Most historians have treated these waves as distinct isolated events and successive Turkish governments presented them as an unfortunate sequence of accidents The Thirty Year Genocide is the first account to show that all three were actually part of a single continuing and intentional effort to wipe out Anatolia s Christian population Despite the dramatic swing from the Islamizing autocracy of the sultan to the secularizing republicanism of the post World War I period the nation s annihilationist policies were remarkably constant with continual recourse to premeditated mass killing homicidal deportation forced conversion and mass rape And one thing more was a constant the rallying cry of jihad While not justified under the teachings of Islam the killing of two million Christians was effected through the calculated exhortation of the Turks to create a pure Muslim nation A subtle diagnosis of why at particular moments over a span of three decades Ottoman rulers and their successors unleashed torrents of suffering Bruce Clark New York Times Book Review

Honored by the Glory of Islam Marc David Baer, 2008-01-02 In Honored by the Glory of Islam Marc David Baer proposes a novel approach to the historical record of Islamic conversions during the Ottoman age and gathers fresh insights concerning the nature of religious conversion itself Rather than explaining Ottoman Islamization in terms of the converts motives Baer instead concentrates on the proselytizers in this case none other than the sultan himself Mehmed IV 1648 87 is remembered as an aloof ruler whose ineffectual governing led to the disastrous siege of Vienna Through an integrated reading of previously unexamined Ottoman archival and literary texts Baer reexamines Mehmed IV s failings as a ruler by underscoring the sultan s zeal for bringing converts to Islam As an expression of his dedication to Islam Mehmed actively sought to establish his reputation as a convert maker convincing or compelling Christian and Jewish subjects to be honored by the glory of Islam and Muslims subjects to turn to Islamic piety Revising the conventional portrayal of a ruler so distracted by his passion for hunting that he neglected affairs of state Baer shows that Mehmed IV saw conversion as central to his role as sultan He traces an ever widening range of enforced piety conversion and conquest expanding outward from the heart of Mehmed IV s empire This account is the first to correlate the conversion of people and space in the mature Ottoman Empire to investigate conversion from the perspective of changing Ottoman ideology and to depict the sultan as an interventionist convert maker The resulting insights promise to rework our understandings of the reign of a forgotten ruler a largely neglected period in Ottoman history the changing nature of Islam and its history in Europe relations between Muslims Christians and Jews in Europe the practice of jihad and religious architecture in urban history
