Faulkner's Reception of Apuleius' The Golden Ass in The Reivers

Vernon L. Provencal, 2020-07-09 Faulkner's final novel The Reivers has been gently dismissed by scholars and critics as no more than its subtitle claims A Reminiscence. Although the new millennium has seen a new appreciation for Faulkner's later novels, The Reivers is still perceived as a slightly fictionalized comic memoir romanticizing the early life of the author in the pre-civil rights American South. This volume takes this dismissal of The Reivers to task for failing to appreciate its employment of the Apuleian narrative of life-altering metamorphosis to offer as his literary farewell hope for humanity's self-redemption. Vernon L. Provencal studies the reception of The Golden Ass in The Reivers as comic novels of moral katabasis, wilful descent into the lawless underworld and providential anabasis, societal and spiritual redemption. As the independent basis of the reception study, The Reivers receives its first ever detailed reading while The Golden Ass is read anew from the teleological perspective offered by the undervalued prophecy that in the end the comic hero would become the book itself.

Diaspora Poetics and Homing in South Asian Women's Writing Shilpa Daithota Bhat, 2018-03-14 This anthology of essays deliberates chiefly on the notion of locating home through the lens of the mythical idea of Trishanku, implying in between space and homing in diaspora women's narratives associated with the South Asian region. The idea of in-between space has been used differently in various cultures but gestures prominently on the connotation of hanging between worlds. Historically, imperialism and the indentured grimit system triggered dispersal of labourers to the various colonies of the British. Of course, this was not the only cause of international migratory processes. The partition of India and Pakistan led to large-scale migration. There was Punjabi migration to Canada. Several Indians, particularly the Gujaratis, travelled to Africa for business reasons. South Indians travelled to the Gulf for employment. There were migrations to East Asian countries under the kangani system. Again, these were not the only reasons. The process of demographic movement from South Asia has been complex due to innumerable push-pull factors. The subsequent generations of migrants included the twice-thrice and likewise displaced members of the diaspora. Racial denigration and Orientalist perceptions plagued their lives. They belonged to various ethnicities and races, inhabited marginalized spaces and strived to acculturate in the host society. Complete cultural assimilation was not possible, creating layered and hyphenated identities. These intricate social processes resulted in amalgamation and cross-pollination of cultures, inter-racial relationships and hybridization in all terrains of culture, language, music, fashion, cuisine and so on. Situated in this matrix was the notion of Home, a special personal space which an individual could feel as belonging to very strongly. Nostalgia, loss of home, culture shock and interracial encounters problematized this discernment of belongingness and home. These multifarious themes have been captured by women writers from the South Asian region, and this book looks at the various aspects related to negotiating home in their narratives.

Aestheticism and the Marriage Market in Victorian Popular Fiction Kirby-Jane Hallum, 2015-10-06 Based on close readings of five Victorian novels Hallum presents an original study of the interaction between popular fiction the marriage market and the aesthetic movement She uses the texts to trace the development of aestheticism examining the differences between the authors including their approach style and gender Beauty, Violence, Representation Lisa A. Dickson, Maryna

Romanets, 2014-05-09 This volume explores the relationship among beauty violence and representation in a broad range of artistic and cultural texts including literature visual art theatre film and music Charting diversifying interests in the subject of violence and beauty dealing with the multiple inflections of these questions and representing a spectrum of voices the volume takes its place in a growing body of recent critical work that takes violence and representation as its object This collection offers a unique opportunity however to address a significant gap in the critical field for it seeks to interrogate specifically the nexus or interface between beauty and violence While other texts on violence make use of regimes of representation as their subject matter and consider the effects of aestheticization beauty as a critical category is conspicuously absent Furthermore the book aims to rehabilitate beauty implicitly conceptualized as politically or ethically regressive by postmodern anti aesthetics cultural positions and further facilitate its come back into critical discourse The Heroines of Shakspeare Mrs. Anna Brownell (Murphy) Jameson, 1846 Marrying a Beggar William Taylor Adams, 1860
