Kenneth E. Hornback,W. Keith Warner,1972 Communication, Power, and Media Donald Gibson,2004 The communication potential of contemporary mass media is immense It can communicate with us about the entire world and it can stimulate and inspire us with entertainment The realisation of this potential has been frustrated by interrelated networks of people who have controlled major media over the last century Those interests see media as a means to control and manipulate people rather than as a means to inform and inspire people The approach in this book moves beyond the abstractions and systems approaches often used in criticisms of media to an analysis focused on the concrete groups that dominate media These groups do constitute a system but one that must be understood in its terms of all of its historical features economic political and social The History of Metaphors of Nature Stephen A. Norwick,2006 This book shows how modern European Languages have a large number of metaphors which represent the whole of nature Metaphors used in natural science and literature such as Mother Nature have a powerful influence on the framing of scientific hypothesis making and these words have guided the history of natural science for several millennia while also influencing North American nature writing
