Our End Earth Ocean Life P:

The Oceanic Feeling Isabella Lövin, Isabella Lövin's The Oceanic Feeling On the Need for a New Narrative is a unique document of a life spent on the front lines of the climate battle and at the negotiating tables where the future of our planet is decided The Swedish investigative journalist who became a member of the European Parliament and then served for seven years in government five of those as Deputy Prime Minister and Climate Minister takes us on a journey behind the scenes of climate and global ocean policy making Some may remember the viral picture of her signing the Swedish climate law in 2017 As Donald Trump just had signed a regressive executive order limiting women's sexual and reproductive rights surrounded by only men she by contrast signed progressive climate legislation surrounded by women Deeply concerned about the shrinking confidence in democracy Lövin offers a pedagogic and hopeful account of the fact that change can happen if there is a will and a vision But she also recognizes the main reason why humanity is not acting on the many global crises a narrative of egoism and individualism A truer and much more positive story can be found when we recognize The Oceanic Feeling a deep connection with nature people and the miraculous web of life on the planet putting empathy responsibility and awe at the center of what it is to be human How Lövin asks us can we convert the world to this new healthier narrative

Earth Sciences Amy Bain, Janet Richer, Janet Weckman, 2001-05-15 Everything you need to create exciting thematic science units can be found in these handy guides Developed for educators who want to take an integrated approach these teaching kits contain resource lists reading selections and activities that can be easily pulled together for units on virtually any science topic Arranged by subject each book lists key scientific concepts for primary intermediate and upper level learners and links them to specific chapters where resources for teaching those concepts appear Chapters identify and describe comprehensive teaching resources nonfiction and related fiction reading selections then detail hands on science and extension activities that help students learn the scientific method and build learning across the curriculum A final section helps you locate helpful experiment books and appropriate journals Web sites agencies and related organizations After the Car Kingsley Dennis, John Urry, 2013-05-20 It is difficult to imagine a world without the car and yet that is exactly what Dennis and Urry set out to do in this provocative new book They argue that the days of the car are numbered powerful forces around the world are undermining the car system and will usher in a new transport system sometime in the next few decades Specifically the book examines how several major processes are shaping the future of how we travel including Global warming and its many global consequences Peaking of oil supplies Increased digitisation of many aspects of economic and social life Massive global population increases The authors look at changes in technology policy economy and society and make a convincing argument for a future where by necessity the present car system will be re designed and re engineered Yet the book also suggests that there are some hugely bleak dilemmas facing the twenty first century The authors lay out what they consider to be possible post car future scenarios These they describe as local sustainability regional warlordism and digital networks of control After The Car will be of great interest to planners policy makers social scientists futurologists those working in industry as well as general readers Some have described the 20th Century as the century of the car Now that century has come to a close and things are about to change
