Turner, 2015-05-22 Teaching for EcoJustice is a unique resource for exploring the social roots of environmental problems in humanities-based educational settings and a curriculum guidebook for putting EcoJustice Education into practice. It provides model curriculum materials that apply the principles of EcoJustice Education, giving pre and in-service teachers the ability to review examples of specific secondary and post-secondary classroom assignments, lessons, discussion prompts and strategies that encourage students to think critically about how modern problems of sustainability and environmental destruction have developed, their root causes and how they can be addressed. The author describes instructional methods she uses when teaching each lesson and shares insights from evaluations of the materials in her classroom and by other teachers. Interspersed between lessons is commentary about the rationale behind the materials and observations about their effect on students. Investing in Nature William Ginn, 2013-04-10 In 2004, U.S. consumers spent $5.2 billion purchasing bottled water while the government only invested 5 percent of that amount to purchase critical watersheds, parks and wildlife refuges, systems vital to clean water and healthy environments. How can we reverse the direction of such powerful economic forces? A group of dedicated business people turned environmental entrepreneurs is pioneering a new set of tools for land conservation deals and other market-based strategies. These pragmatic visionaries have already used these methods to protect millions of acres of land and to transform the practices of entire industries. They are transforming the very nature of conservation by making it profitable. Drawing on his vast experience in both business and land conservation at The Nature Conservancy (TNC), William Ginn offers a practical guide to these innovative methods and a road map to the most effective way to implement them. From conservation investment banking to emerging markets for nature's goods and services to new tax incentives that encourage companies to do the right thing, Ginn goes beyond the theories to present real-world applications and strategies. And just as importantly, he looks at the lessons learned from what has not worked, including his own failed efforts in Papua New Guinea and TNC's controversial, incompatible development approach in Virginia. In an era of dwindling public resources and scarce charitable dollars, these tools reveal a new and perhaps the only pathway to achieving biodiversity goals and protecting our lands. Conservation professionals, students of land conservation and entrepreneurs interested in green business will find Ginn's tales of high finance deals involving vast tracts of pristine land both informative and exciting More than just talk Investing in Nature will teach you how to think big about land conservation

Our Daily Bread James H. Kurt,2004-11-29 Word and Sacrament This is the food that sustains us here on our pilgrimage to heaven The Word of God and the Sacrament of the altar this is our daily bread What greater gift could we ask for than to hear the Word of God proclaimed and receive our Lord each day at holy Mass This is the foundation of our faith here is the paragon of prayer which strengthens us for our work in this world In this writing the author has sought to allow the Scripture readings for each Mass and all Masses of the liturgical calendar are covered all Sundays and weekdays of Ordinary Time Advent Christmas Lent and Easter seasons as well as Solemnities and Feasts speak for themselves This is evident in his extensive quoting and paraphrasing of the Word but perhaps more significantly in his taking as his guiding principle the Lord's instruction not to consider beforehand what to say when brought to bear witness to Him see Mk 13:11 After reading the Scriptures for the day three times before dawn Mr Kurt let the Spirit direct him writing without revision trusting entirely in the Lord Thus describing spiritual realities in spiritual terms 1Cor 2:13 the message and tone of the writing reflect that of the readings themselves the work is therefore termed an exposition of the readings of Catholic Mass This book has received an imprimatur from the Most Reverend John J. Meyers J.C.D. Archbishop of Newark New Jersey Authors Website www.writingsofjameskurt.org
