A Cultural History of Marriage in the Modern Age Christina Simmons, 2021-11-18 Spanning cultures across the 20th century this volume explores how marriage especially in the West was disestablished as the primary institution organizing social life In the developing world the economic social and legal foundations of traditional marriage are stronger but also weakening Marriage changed because an industrial wage economy reduced familial patriarchal control of youth and women and spurred demands and possibilities for greater autonomy and choice in love After the Second World War when more married women pursued education and employment and gays and lesbians gained visibility feminism and gay liberation also challenged patriarchal and restrictive gender roles and helped to reshape marriage In 1920 most people married for life in the twenty first century fewer marry and serial monogamy prevails Marriage is more diverse and flexible in form but also more fragile and optional than it once was Over the century control of courtship shifted from parents to youth and friends as opposed to kin became more important in sustaining marriages Dual wage earner families replaced the male breadwinner Social and political liberalism assailed conservative laws and religious regimes expanding access to divorce and birth control Although norms of masculinity and femininity retain huge power in most cultures visions of more egalitarian and romantic love as the basis of marriage have gained traction made appealing by the global spread of capitalist social relations and also broadcast by culture industries in the developed world The legalization of same sex marriage in over twenty five nations by 2020 epitomizes a century of change toward a less gender defined ideal that includes a continued desire for social recognition and permanence A Cultural History of Marriage in the Modern Age presents an overview of the period with essays on Courtship and Ritual Religion State and Law Kinship and Social Networks the Family Economy Love and Sex the Breaking of Vows and Representations of Marriage

Marriage, Violence and the Nation in the American Literary West William R. Handley, 2002-08-15 In Marriage Violence and the Nation in the American Literary West William R Handley examines literary interpretations of the Western American past Handley argues that although scholarship provides a narrative of western history that counters optimistic story of frontier individualism by focusing on the victims of conquest twentieth century American fiction tells a different story of intra ethnic violence surrounding marriages and families He examines works of historiography as well as writing by Zane Grey Willa Cather Wallace Stegner and Joan Didion among others to argue that these works highlight white Americans anxiety about what happens to American character when domestic enemies such as Indians and Mormon polygamists against whom the nation had defined itself in the nineteenth century no longer threaten its homes Handley explains that once its enemies are gone imperialism brings violence home in retrospective narratives that allegorise national pasts and futures through intimate relationships Family Economics and Public Policy, 1800s-Present Megan McDonald Way, 2018-08-29 This book explores family economic decision making in the United States from the nineteenth century through present day specifically looking at the relationship between family resource allocation decisions and government policy It examines how families have responded to incentives and constraints established by diverse federal and state policies and laws including the regulation of marriage and of female labor force participation child labor and education policies including segregation social welfare programs and more The goal of this book is to present family economic decisions throughout US history in a way that contextualizes where the US economy and the families that drive it have been It goes on to discuss the role public policies have played in that journey where we need to go from here and how public policies can help us get there At a time when American families are more complex than ever before this volume will educate readers on the often unrecognized role that government policies have on our family lives and the uncelebrated role that family economic decision making has on the future of the US economy , Marriage as a National Fiction Dagmar Stöferle, 2023-02-15 There is a prehistory of the adultery novel which became a pan European literary paradigm in the second half of the 19th century In the wake of the French Revolution secular marriage legislation emerges producing a metaphorical surplus that is still effective today Using legal history and canonical literary texts from Rousseau to Goethe and Manzoni to Hugo and Flaubert this book traces how marriage around 1800 became a figure of reflection for the modern nation state In the process original contributions to the philology of the individual texts emerge At the same time law and literature are made fruitful for a historical semantics of society and community This book is a translation of an original German 1st edition Ehe als Nationalfiktion by Dagmar Stöferle published by J B Metzler imprint of Springer Verlag GmbH Germany part of Springer Nature in 2020 The translation was done with the help of artificial intelligence machine translation by the service DeepL com The author with the support of Chris Owain Carter has subsequently revised the text further in an endeavour to refine the work stylistically The Nature & Nurture of Love Marga Vicedo, 2022-12-22 The notion that maternal care and love will determine a child's emotional well being and future personality has become ubiquitous In countless stories and movies we find that the problems of the protagonists anything from the fear of romantic commitment to serial killing stem from their troubled relationships with their mothers during childhood How did we come to hold these views about the determinant power of mother love over an individual's emotional development And what does this vision of mother love entail for children and mothers In The Nature and Nurture of Love Marga Vicedo examines scientific views about children's emotional needs and mother love from World War II until the 1970s paying particular attention to John Bowlby's ethological theory of attachment behavior Vicedo tracks the development of Bowlby's work as well as the interdisciplinary research that he used to support his theory including Konrad Lorenz's studies of imprinting in geese Harry Harlow's experiments with monkeys and Mary Ainsworth's observations of children and mothers in Uganda and the United States Vicedo's historical analysis reveals that important psychoanalysts and animal researchers opposed the project of turning emotions into biological instincts Despite those substantial criticisms she argues that attachment theory was paramount in turning mother love into a biological need This shift introduced a new justification for the prescriptive role of biology in human affairs and had profound and negative consequences for mothers and for the valuation of mother love Yale Law Journal: Volume 123, Number 7 - May 2014 Yale Law Journal,2014-05-15 The May 2014 issue of The Yale Law Journal features new articles and essays on law and legal theory by internationally recognized scholars Contents include Article Illegitimate Borders Jus Sanguinis Citizenship and the Legal Construction of Family Race and Nation by Kristin Collins Article Legitimacy and Federal Criminal Enforcement Power by Lauren M Ouziel Feature The Age of Consent by Philip C Bobbitt Review Judging Justice on Appeal by Marin K Levy Note The Growth of Litigation Finance in DOJ Whistleblower Suits Implications and Recommendations by Mathew Andrews Note Reducing Inequality on the Cheap When Legal Rule Design Should Incorporate Equity as Well as Efficiency by Zachary Liscow Note Domestic Violence Asylum After Matter of L R by Jessica Marsden Comment Beating Blackwater Using Domestic Legislation to Enforce the International Code of Conduct for Private Military Companies by Reema Shah This quality ebook edition features linked notes active Contents active URLs in notes and proper Bluebook formatting This May 2014 issue is Volume 123 Number 7 The Gendered Republic Craig Thompson Friend,Lorri Glover,2025-11-28 An authoritative assessment of the early American republic through the lens of gender What does it mean to study early American history through gender The essays in this collection written by the best emerging and established historians in the field bring together women s history with masculinity studies to showcase the transformative impact of gender history on our understanding of the early American republic In addition to state of the field historiographical overviews The Gendered Republic features essays that use gender history to suggest new chronological and geographic frameworks broaden understandings of politics and citizenship highlight the complexities of intersectional identities and explore new approaches that center bodies and sexualities Collectively the contributors showcase the vibrancy of gender history as a frame of inquiry revealing how shifting notions of women s and men s roles shaped the lives of people in the early American republic White Black and Indigenous and how those people in turn experienced and redefined gender and with it their communities cultures laws families and nations Contributors Jacqueline Beatty York College of Pennsylvania Rachel Hope Cleves University of Victoria Shannon C Eaves College of Charleston Craig Thompson Friend North Carolina State University Lorri Glover Saint Louis University Antwain K Hunter University of North Carolina Chapel Hill Lynn Kennedy University of Lethbridge Joshua A Lynn Eastern Kentucky University Kenneth E Marshall SUNY Oswego Ashley E Moreshead University of Central Florida Jamie Myers University of North Carolina Pembroke Steven Peach Tarleton State University Ami Pflugrad Jackisch University of Toledo Stephanie J Richmond Norfolk State University Rachel E Walker University of Hartford Timothy J Williams University of Oregon Domestic Tensions, National Anxieties Kristin Celello,Hanan Kholoussy,2016 Since the late
