Puritan Paranoid Remissive A Sociology Of Modern Culture:

Puritan, Paranoid, Remissive John Carroll, 1977 Puritan, Paranoid, Remissive John Carroll, 2022-09-01 First published in 1977 Puritan Paranoid Remissive investigates the process of the transformation of Western society in the twentieth century The author questions assumptions of sociological fashion and goes beyond the descriptions of changes in the economy government education the family work leisure and the arts to a deeper level of historical cause He proposes three character types or patterns of psychological disposition to indicate respectively the Puritan past that is waning the immediate paranoid past that has exemplified society's crisis of transition and the remissive future whose ideology already permeates the present These types reflect his leading theme the historical decline of the authority of the individual John Carroll believes that culture has moved faster than character Focusing on what is conventionally the upper middle class the bourgeoisie he proposes the emergence of a new remissive culture from the ruins of the old Puritan order and concludes that the pathology the remiss nervousness of contemporary Westerners results from their futile attempts to adapt their enduring Puritan disposition to their hedonist ideals The twenty first century carries remnants of this transformation and will be of interest to students of sociology philosophy history and political science The Romantic Ethic and the Spirit of Modern Consumerism

Colin Campbell, 2018-06-05 Originally published in 1987 Colin Campbell's classic treatise on the sociology of consumption has become one of the most widely cited texts in sociology anthropology cultural studies and the history of ideas In the thirty years since its publication The Romantic Ethic and the Spirit of Modern Consumerism has lost none of its impact If anything the growing commodification of society the increased attention to consumer studies and marketing and the ever proliferating range of purchasable goods and services have made Campbell's rereading of Weber more urgent still As Campbell uncovers how and why a consumer oriented society emerged from a Europe that once embodied Weber's Protestant ethic he delivers a rich theorization of the modern logics and values structuring consumer behavior This new edition featuring an extended Introduction from the author and an Afterword from researcher Karin M Ekström makes clear how this foundational work aligns with contemporary theory in cultural sociology while also serving as major influence on consumer studies The Protestant Ethic and the Spirit of Sport Steven J. Overman, 2011 Steven Overman explores the concordant values of the Protestant ethic capitalism and sport by applying German scholar Max Weber's seminal thesis Weber demonstrated a relationship between the Protestant ethic and a form of economic behavior he labeled the calling of capitalism Beyond

Eurocentrism Peter Gran, 2021-02-01 Eurocentrism influences virtually all established historical writing With the rise of Prussia and by extension Europe eurocentrism became the dominant paradigm for world history Employing the approaches of Gramsci and Foucault Peter Gran proposes a reconceptualization of world history He challenges the traditional convention of relying on totalitarian or democratic functions of a particular state to explain and understand relationships of authority and resistance in a number of national contexts Gran maintains that there is no single developmental model but diverse forms of hegemony that emerged out of the political crisis following the penetration of capitalism into each nation In making comparisons between seemingly disparate and distinctive nations and by questioning established canons of comparative inquiry Gran encourages people to recognize the similarities between the West and non West nations Consumer Society and the Post-modern City David B Clarke, 2004-03-01 The fact that we inhabit a consumer society has incredibly far reaching implications Working through the often controversial ideas of the consumer society s most influential theorists Jean Baudrillard and Zygmunt Bauman this book assesses the ways in which consumerism is reshaping the nature and meaning of the city It examines the nature of consumption and its increasing centrality to post modern society by considering the development of consumerism as a central facet of social life demonstrating that social inequalities are increasingly structured around consumption uncovering the hidden consequences of consumerism pondering the meaning of lifestyle revealing how the nature of reality is changing in an age of globalization Employing a sustained and engaging theoretical analysis the book ranges across a variety of sometimes unexpected topics It represents an impassioned plea for everyone interested in the social life of cities to take the notion of the consumer society and the arguments of its major theorists seriously

Culture/Power/History Nicholas B. Dirks, Geoffrey H. Eley, Sherry B. Ortner, 2021-04-13 The intellectual radicalism of the 1960s spawned a new set of questions about the role and nature of the political in social life questions that have since revolutionized nearly every field of thought from literary criticism through anthropology to the philosophy of science Michel Foucault in particular made us aware that whatever our functionally defined roles in society we are constantly negotiating questions of authority and the control of the definitions of reality Such insights have led theorists to challenge concepts that have long formed the very underpinnings of their disciplines By exploring some of the most debated of these concepts culture power and history this reader offers an enriching perspective on social theory in the contemporary moment Organized around these three concepts Culture Power History brings together both classic and new essays that address Foucault s new economy of power relations in a number of different contestatory directions Representing innovative work from various disciplines and sites of study from taxidermy to Madonna the book seeks to affirm the creative possibilities available in a time marked by growing uncertainty about established disciplinary forms of knowledge and by the increasing fluidity of the boundaries between them The book is introduced by a major synthetic essay by the editors which calls attention to the most significant issues enlivening theoretical discourse today The editors seek not only to encourage scholars to reflect anew on the course of social theory but also to orient newcomers to this area of inquiry The essays are contributed by Linda Alcoff Cultural Feminism versus Post Structuralism Sally Alexander Women Class and Sexual Differences in the 1830s and 1840s Tony Bennett The Exhibitionary Complex Pierre Bourdieu Structures Habitus Power Nicholas B Dirks Ritual and Resistance Geoff Eley Nations Publics and Political Cultures Michel Foucault Two Lectures Henry Louis Gates Jr Authority White Power and the Black Critic Stephen Greenblatt The Circulation of Social Energy Ranajit Guha The Prose of Counter Insurgency Metaphysical Sociology Sara James, 2018-05-11 This volume critically engages with the work of the acclaimed Australian sociologist John Carroll. It makes the argument for a metaphysical sociology which Carroll has proposed should focus on the questions of fundamental existence that confront all humans: Where do I come from? What should I do with my life? and What happens to me when I die. These questions of meaning in the secular modern West have become difficult to answer. As contemporary individuals increasingly draw on their inner resources or ontological qualities to pursue quests for meaning, the key challenge for a metaphysical sociology concerns the cultural resources available to people and the manner in which they are cultivated. Through wide-ranging discussions which include film, romantic love, terrorism and video games, Metaphysical Sociology takes up this challenge. The contributors include emerging and established sociologists, a philosopher, a renowned actor and a musician. As such, this collection will appeal to scholars of social theory and sociology and to the general reader with interests in morality, art, culture and the fundamental questions of human existence.

On Guilt John Carroll, 2020-02-14 Guilt is the dark force behind haunting anxiety, obsessive compulsive behaviour, life meaninglessness and depression, a force to be kept in check. Yet guilt is equally our richest and most hidden resource, the essence of our humanness, and it drives us on to our highest achievements. Today when individuals feel bad, it is not usually because of something specific they have done. Rather, thundering around in the depths of their being is guilt, obscure, unconscious yet irrepressible and ever present. Where does it come from? What are its ways and how might it be put to useful work? This book explores the nature of guilt, shedding light on how the modern West came increasingly to understand it as the most terrible sickness. It traces the psychological origins of guilt in each person's family and demonstrates the historical rise of guilt in parallel with civilization. It examines the modern predicament, the difficulty of finding explanations for guilt in a secular, post-church society and the possibility of relief from its curse while channelling it into a fulfilling life. As such, it will appeal to those with interests in sociology, psychology, psychiatry, cultural studies, cultural history and anthropology.

Affect Poetics of the New Hollywood Hauke Lehmann, 2019-12-02 How is affective experience produced in the cinema? And how can we write a history of this experience? By asking these questions, this study by Hauke Lehmann aims at rethinking our conception of a critical period in US film history, the New Hollywood, as a moment of crisis that can neither be reduced to economic processes of adaptation nor to a collection of masterpieces. Rather, the fine-grained analysis of core films reveals the power of cinematic images to affect their audiences, to confront them with the new. The films of the New Hollywood redefine the divisions of the classical genre system in a radical way and thereby transform the way spectators are addressed.

affectively in the cinema The study describes a complex interplay between three modes of affectivity suspense paranoia and melancholy All three each in their own way implicate spectators in the deep seated contradictions of their own feelings and their ways of being in the world their relations to history to society and to cultural fantasy On this basis Affect Poetics of the New Hollywood projects an original conception of film history as an affective history which can be re written up to the present day
