Purloined Clinic:

The Purloined Clinic Janet Malcolm, 2013-01-23 The Purloined Clinic is a retrospective of essays reviews and reports that reflect the range and depth of Janet Malcolm's engagement with psychology criticism art and literature She examines aspects of that absurdist collaboration the psychoanalytic dialogue from which come small stray self recognitions that no other human relationship yields brought forward under conditions that no other human relationship could survive She addresses such subjects as Tom Wolfe's vendetta against modern architecture Milan Kundera's literary experiments and Vaclav Havel's prison letters She explores the somewhat deflated world of post revolutionary Prague guides us through the labyrinthine New York art world of the eighties and takes us behind the one way mirror of Salvador Minuchin's school of family therapy And to each subject she brings the incisive skepticism and dazzling epigrammatic style that are her hallmarks Why don't more people write like Malcolm She is cast from the mold of the Eastern European intellectual beholden to modernism as familiar with Kundera's exile as she is with Freud's Vienna This sensibility must grant her the detachment she sometimes so mercilessly employs but it also gives her an unassailable passion for getting to the center of things Boston Globe

Purloined Clinic Janet Malcolm, 1994-06-01

Reading Chekhov Janet Malcolm, 2007-12-18 To illuminate the mysterious greatness of Anton Chekhov's writings Janet Malcolm takes on three roles literary critic biographer and journalist Her close readings of the stories and plays are interwoven with episodes from Chekhov's life and framed by an account of Malcolm's journey to St Petersburg Moscow and Yalta She writes of Chekhov's childhood his relationships his travels his early success and his self imposed exile always with an eye to connecting them to themes and characters in his work Lovers of Chekhov as well as those new to his work will be transfixed by Reading Chekhov

Race in Psychoanalysis Celia Brickman, 2017-12-06 Race in Psychoanalysis analyzes the often unrecognized racism in psychoanalysis by examining how the colonialist discourse of late nineteenth century anthropology made its way into Freud's foundational texts where it has remained and continues to exert a hidden influence Recent racial violence particularly in the US has made many realize that academic and professional disciplines as well as social and political institutions need to be re examined for the racial biases they may contain Psychoanalysis is no exception When Freud applied his insights to the history of the psyche and of civilization he made liberal use of the anthropology of his time which was steeped in colonial racist thought Although it has often been assumed that this usage was confined to his non clinical works this book argues that through the pivotal concept of primitivity it fed back into his theories of the psyche and of clinical technique as well Celia Brickman examines how the discourse concerning the presumed primitivity of colonized and enslaved peoples contributed to psychoanalytic understandings of self and raced other She shows how psychoanalytic constructions of race and gender are related and how Freud's attitudes towards primitivity were related to the anti-Semitism of his time All of this is demonstrated to be part of the modernist aim of psychoanalysis which seeks to create a modern subjectivity through a renegotiation of the past Finally the book shows how all of this can affect both clinician and patient within the contemporary clinical encounter Race in Psychoanalysis is a pivotal work of significance for scholars practitioners and students of psychoanalysis psychologists clinical social workers and other clinicians whose work is informed by psychoanalytic insights as well as those engaged in critical race and postcolonial studies

Voices from S-21 David Chandler,2023-09-01 The horrific torture and execution of hundreds of thousands of Cambodians by Pol Pot's Khmer Rouge during the 1970s is one of the century's major human disasters David Chandler a world renowned historian of Cambodia examines the Khmer Rouge phenomenon by focusing on one of its key institutions the secret prison outside Phnom Penh known by the code name S 21 The facility was an interrogation center where more than 14 000 enemies were questioned tortured and made to confess to counterrevolutionary crimes Fewer than a dozen prisoners left S 21 alive During the Democratic Kampuchea DK era the existence of S 21 was known only to those inside it and a few high ranking Khmer Rouge officials When invading Vietnamese troops discovered the prison in 1979 murdered bodies lay strewn about and instruments of torture were still in place An extensive archive containing photographs of victims cadre notebooks and DK publications was also found Chandler utilizes evidence from the S 21 archive as well as materials that have surfaced elsewhere in Phnom Penh He also interviews survivors of S 21 and former workers from the prison Documenting the violence and terror that took place within S 21 is only part of Chandler's story Equally important is his attempt to understand what happened there in terms that might be useful to survivors historians and the rest of us Chandler discusses the culture of obedience and its attendant dehumanization citing parallels between the Khmer Rouge executions and the Moscow Show Trials of the 1930s Nazi genocide Indonesian massacres in 1965 66 the Argentine military's use of torture in the 1970s and the recent mass killings in Bosnia and Rwanda In each of these instances Chandler shows how turning victims into others in a manner that was systematically devaluing and racist made it easier to mistreat and kill them More than a chronicle of Khmer Rouge barbarism Voices from S 21 is also a judicious examination of the psychological dimensions of state sponsored terrorism that conditions human beings to commit acts of unspeakable brutality The horrific torture and execution of hundreds of thousands of Cambodians by Pol Pot's Khmer Rouge during the 1970s is one of the century's major human disasters David Chandler a world renowned historian of Cambodia examines the Khmer Rouge phenomenon

The Solitary Vice Mikita Brottman,2010-05 The Solitary Vice will make you rethink your own relation to reading Brottman is wonderful at reminding us what a very complicated act of fantasy recompense adventurism and sometimes perversity reading a book can be

When Women Held the Dragon's Tongue Hermann Rebel,2010-02-01 Peasants tell tales one prominent cultural historian tells us Robert Darnton Scholars must then determine and analyze what it is they are saying and whether or not to incorporate such tellings into their histories and ethnographies Challenging the dominant culturalist approach associated with Clifford Geertz and Marshall Sahlins among others this book presents a critical rethinking of the philosophical anthropologies found in specific histories and ethnographies and thereby bridges the current gap between approaches to studies of peasant society and popular culture In challenging the methodology and theoretical frameworks currently used by social scientists interested in aspects of popular culture the author suggests a common discursive ground can be found in an historical anthropology that recognizes how myths fairytales and histories speak to a universal need for imagining oneself in different timescapes and for linking one's local world with a known larger world

Narrative Identity and Personal Responsibility Linda Ethell, 2010-06-28 Narrative Identity and Personal Responsibility is about why and how identifying ourselves by means of narrative makes it possible for us to be responsible morally and otherwise The book begins as an investigation into how it is that we can hold people responsible for who they are despite the fact that we have almost no control over our lives in our formative years It explains the relation between representation personal identity and self knowledge demonstrating how awareness of the vulnerability of our identity as persons is the origin of our capacity for the cathartic revision of a self identifying narrative which is the condition of moral awareness Innovative in its interdisciplinary juxtaposition of ethics moral psychology literary theory and literature Narrative Identity and Personal Responsibility develops a sophisticated and comprehensive account of human nature This book offers an intuitively satisfying and humane yet rigorous account of why and how we think of ourselves as simultaneously free and constrained by nature Its fundamental thesis the mediation of narrative representation between agent and the world suggests new answers to old problems in moral psychology such as the question of free will and responsibility With a more literary style than many philosophy texts it works through a series of interconnected problems of as much interest to a thoughtful layperson as to academic philosophers

The Silent Woman Janet Malcolm, 2013-01-16 In an astonishing feat of literary detection one of the most provocative critics of our time and the author of In the Freud Archives and The Purloined Clinic offers an elegantly reasoned meditation on the art of biography In The Silent Woman Janet Malcolm examines the biographies of Sylvia Plath to create a book not about Plath's life but about her afterlife how her estranged husband the poet Ted Hughes as executor of her estate tried to serve two masters Plath's art and his own need for privacy and how it fell to his sister Olwyn Hughes as literary agent for the estate to protect him by limiting access to Plath's work Even as Malcolm brings her skepticism to bear on the claims of biography to present the truth about a life a portrait of Sylvia Plath emerges that gives us a sense of knowing this tragic poet in a way we have never known her before And she dispels forever the innocence with which most of us have approached the reading of any biography

This House of Grief Helen Garner, 2024-10-01 The New York Times Book Review Editors Choice The engrossing true crime classic from a master anatomist of ordinary people in difficult times New York Times that follows a man and his broken life a community wracked by tragedy and the long and torturous road to closure On the evening of Father's Day 2005 separated husband Robert Farquharson was driving his three young sons back to their mom's house when the car veered off the road and plunged into a dam Farquharson survived the crash but his boys drowned Was this a tragic accident or an act of revenge The court case that followed became a national obsession a macabre parade of witnesses family members and the defendant himself each forced to relive the unthinkable for an audience of millions In This House of Grief celebrated writer Helen Garner tells the definitive and deeply absorbing story of it all from crash to final verdict Through a panoply of perspectives including her own as a member of the public Garner captures the exacting procedure and brutal spectacle of Australia's criminal justice system The result is a richly textured portrait of a man and his broken life of a community wracked by tragedy and of the long and torturous road to closure Considered a literary institution in Australia Helen Garner's incisive nonfiction evokes the keen eye of the New Journalists Brisk candid and never dismissive of its flawed subjects This House of Grief is a masterwork of literary journalism
