Lubetkin Architecture And The Tradition Of Progress:

Berthold Lubetkin John Allan, 2012      Berthold Lubetkin John Allan, 2012 This is a comprehensive study on the life and work of modernist architect Berthold Lubetkin This book reveals the man behind the architecture a survivor of the Russian Revolution European traveller and social commentator an intellectual in Europe and a well known social activist in Britain throughout the 20th century      Berthold Lubetkin John Allan, 2023-09-15 This book presents a compact and compelling account of the life and work of Berthold Lubetkin 1901 1990 widely regarded as the outstanding architect of his generation to practise in England It explores the key themes achievements and setbacks of his career drawing from the author's twenty year personal friendship with Lubetkin himself from discussions with former colleagues and from his direct experience of working with many of Lubetkin's buildings as a conservation architect The study reveals the significance of Lubetkin's Russian origins and European travels re-assesses his prime work of the 1930s and charts the extensive output of his often overlooked post war career It also considers Lubetkin's legacy in the later work of his key associates several of whom became significant architects in their own right Lubetkin is a legendary figure in architectural circles while still remaining slightly mysterious and misunderstood The author shines new light on the man and his ideas and assesses his unique place in modern architectural history Illustrations include original black white images as well as high quality colour studies of the buildings as they are now A complete List of Works and published commentaries also provide a valuable source of reference

Building Theories Franca Trubiano, 2022-11-25 Building Theories speaks to the value of words in architecture It addresses the author's fascination with the voices of architects engineers builders and craftspeople whose ideas about building have been captured in text It discusses the content of treatises essays articles and letters by those who have been throughout history committed to the art of building In this Building Theories argues for the return of a practice of architectural theory that is set amongst building buildings and builders This journey of close reading reinterprets the words of Vitruvius Alberti de L Orme Le Camus de Mézières Boullée Laugier Rondelet Semper Viollet le Duc Hebsch Betticher Berlage Muthesius Wagner Behrendt Gropius and Arup With chapters dedicated to texts from antiquity the Renaissance and the nineteenth century and with a critical eye on architectural theory popularized in the Anglo Saxon world post 1968 readers are introduced to a wider more inclusive definition of architectural ideas Building Theories considers how contemporary scholarship has steered away from the topic of building in its reluctance to admit that both design and construction are central to its concerns In response it argues for a realignment of architecture with the concept of techn with a dual commitment to fabrica e ratio with a productive return to l'art de bien bastir with the accurate translation of the term Baukunst and with an appeal to the architect's composite mind Students practitioners and educators will identify in Building Theories ways of thinking that strive for the integration of design with construction reject the supposed primacy of the former over the latter recognize how aesthetics are an insufficient scaffold for subtending the subject of architectural ethics and accept without reservation that material transformations have always been at the origins of built form

The Coming of the Aerial War Michele Haapamäki, 2014-01-08 In the first half of the 20th century the possibility of flight opened up entirely new avenues of thought and exploration In the age of H G Wells and Biggles the opening up of the air to balloons and planes the Royal Flying Corps was founded in 1912 appealed to concepts of courage and bravery which would be both encouraged and undermined by the experiences of World War I The sky also held new terrors for everyday people who were now within reach of an airborne enemy these fears included the possibilities of bombing poison gas surveillance and social control This duality of fear and enthusiasm drove the Air Raid Precaution movement while vocal elements in the press and in parliament called for radical plans to cope with apocalyptic scenarios Here Michele Haapamäki charts the history of flight and of war in the air in the early twentieth century addressing the key issues of interwar historiography such as patriotism fear masculinity and propaganda

Berthold Lubetkin's Highpoint II and the Jewish Contribution to Modern English Architecture Deborah Lewittes, 2018-05-15 In 1935 the Russian born Jewish architect Berthold Lubetkin and his firm Tecton designed Highpoint a block of flats in London which Le Corbusier called revolutionary Three years later Lubetkin completed a companion design Yet Highpoint II felt very different and the sense that the ideals of modernism had been abandoned seemed hard to dispute Had modern architecture failed to take root in England This book challenges the belief that English architecture was on hiatus during the 1930s Using Highpoint II as a springboard Deborah Lewittes takes us on a journey through the defining moments of modern English architecture the high points of the period surrounding Highpoint II Drawing on Lubetkin's work and his writings the book argues that he advanced influential lasting theories which were rooted in his design for Highpoint II Lubetkin's work is explored within the context of wider Jewish emigration to London during the interwar years as well as the anti-Semitism that pervaded Britain during the 1930s As Lewittes demonstrates this decade was anything but quiet Providing a new perspective on twentieth century English architecture this book is of interest to students and scholars in architectural history urban studies Jewish studies and related fields

Re-forming Britain Elizabeth Darling, 2007-01-24 Re-forming Britain considers the nature and practice of architectural modernism in inter war Britain in a new light Bringing hitherto little considered protagonists and projects to the fore it argues that rather than being an imported idiom the new architecture in Britain formed part of an ongoing attempt to make a modern nation Spanning the period 1925-42 the book focuses on the key sites from and through which architectural modernism emerged in the UK Part one considers the main arena in which a will to modernize Britain developed in the 1920s In parts two and three the author documents contextualizes and explains how this modernizing will was given modernist form discussing the work of architects such as Wells Coates Maxwell Fry and Connell and Ward and their allied ventures with likeminded reformers in other fields These collaborations produced narratives of modernity buildings projects exhibitions and books through which the book argues modernist reformers were able to persuade politicians and those with influence upon them that modernism was the means to re form the nation Re forming Britain offers the first in depth analysis of well known modernist schemes such as Kensal House and the Pioneer Health Centre but also brings previously little studied or unknown activities to light This important work invites a new understanding of the nature of architectural modernism in inter war Britain and the ways in which it ultimately gave form to post war Britain

London's 'Big Bang' Moment and its Architectural Conversations

Stephen Rosser, 2025-06-30 This book explores the topic of architecture as a component of public discourse focussing on the reception of four high profile developments in the City of London the UK capital's financial district dating from the final years of the twentieth century During this time the City's mode of operation culture and built environment were all transformed as a result of the market deregulation process labelled Big Bang It was also a period which saw the subject of architecture attracting public and media attention becoming a prominent feature of national conversation The book examines the extensive and often contentious discourse generated by the four case study projects It looks at how these projects were viewed and interpreted retrospectively when they had become part of the City's long and rich history Topics explored include building and urban form on the eve of the millennium the place of new development in a setting of unique historic importance the iconic building and celebrity architect and the role of then Prince Charles as an architectural critic Also referenced are many of the broader issues of the day including the Thatcher government policies and the preoccupations concerning London's infrastructure public realm inner city areas and inequalities Furthermore ranging across the discourse is the theme of the relationship between buildings and global finance foreshadowing later controversies concerning London's post millennial towers and their impact on the capital's skyline The book will be of interest to researchers and students of late twentieth century British architecture and urban development London's history and UK public discourse in the 1980s a decade of profound political economic and social change

From Bauhaus to Ecohouse Peder Anker, 2010

Debates about environmentally sensitive architecture have been ongoing for nearly a century From Bauhaus to Eco House examines key moments of inspiration and exchange between designers and ecologists from the Bauhaus projects of the interwar period to the eco arks of the late 1980s From Bauhaus to Eco House provides new insight into a critical period in the evolution of environmental awareness and design Cut and Paste Urban Landscape Mira Engler, 2015-08-11 During the post war era the emerging consumer economy radically changed both the discourse and practice of architecture It was a time where architecture became a mainstream commodity whose products sold through mass media a time in which Thomas Gordon Cullen came to be one of Britain s best known twentieth century architectural draftsmen Despite Cullen s wide acclaim there has been little research into his life and work particularly his printed images and his methods of operation This book examines Cullen s drawings and book design and also looks into his process of image making to help explain his considerable popularity and influence which continues to this day It presents the lessons Cullen had to offer in today s design culture and practice and looks into the post war consumerist design strategies that are still used today 100 Houses 100 Years Twentieth Century Society, 2018-02-15 A fascinating insight into Britain s built heritage and the diverse housing styles of the twentieth and twenty first century This book showcases 100 houses one from each year from 1914 that represent the range of architectural styles throughout the years and show how housing has adapted to suit urban life Each house is accompanied by stunning photography and texts written by leading architectural critics and design historians including Gavin Stamp Elain Harwood Barnabas Calder Ellis Woodman and Gillian Darley From specially commissioned architect designed houses for individuals and for families to housing built for increased workforces each of the 100 houses brings a different design style or historical story There are houses built as part of garden cities semi detached suburban houses housing estates eco houses almshouses converted factories and affordable post war homes The architectural styles encompass mock Tudor modernist Arts Crafts and brutalist and the featured architects include Giles Gilbert Scott Walter Gropius Edwin Lutyens Powell and Moya and David Chipperfield The book also contains essays that explore the social and political aspects of housing design in Britain over the last 100 years looking at the impact the World Wars had on housing exploring domestic technology and building materials and asking how the modern house came about Whether exploring Grayson Perry s folly like House for Essex Patrick Gwynne s modernist glass villa in Surrey Sarah Wigglesworth s Straw Bale House or Simon Conder s black rubber clad fisherman s hut in Dungeness this book gives a glimpse into the wonderful housing in Britain and is a must have for all fans of design history and architecture The Chronology of Revolution Ben Harker, 2020 Based on a decade of research in over twenty archives The Chronology of Revolution is an accessible and richly detailed work of historical and cultural analysis that fixes its gaze on the legacy of the Communist Party of Great Britain Communists anticipated that the party formed in the world s first industrialised nation would be in the vanguard of world revolution Instead the party never came close to matching the political power of the British Labour Party or continental Communist parties in France or Italy and dissolved itself in 1991 In this book Ben Harker draws on the ideas of Antonio Gramsci to argue that the CPGB despite having great influence over British culture never fully appreciated the importance of civil society to its political strength Analysing members efforts in fields such as science journalism the arts broadcasting and education The Chronology of Revolution offers an alternative radical history of Britain between 1920 and 1991 which draws out important lessons for the contemporary Left

Form Follows Fun Bruce Peter,2013-05-13 Authoritative and readable this excellent text illustrated by a unique pictorial record of period architecture surveys and examines how and why the architecture of pleasure related to the stylistic and ideological concerns of modernism in 1930s Britain Responding to the current interest in modernism and packed with a substantial archive of high quality photographs and other documentation it relates the professional entrepreneurial and institutional infrastructures affecting the pleasure industry s architectural development and appearance in 1930s A broad range of building through which the general public first experienced Modernism are covered including commercial holiday camps cinemas and greyhound racing stadia municipal and governmental projects zoos seaside pavilions concert halls and imperial and international exhibitions Arguing that the responses to modernism through the architecture of pleasure were conditioned by wider debates about the role of design in relation to high and mass culture this book is an ideal resource for all those interested in architectural history and design in Britain between the wars

Mediating Modernism Andrew

Higgott,2007-01-24 Well illustrated Mediating Modernism demonstrates how architectural books and journals have created the architectural culture of the twentieth century and that nowhere is this truer than in Britain From Space in Modern Art to a Spatial Art History Jutta Vinzent,2019-12-02 This book traces artists theories of constructive space in the first half of the twentieth century Drawing on these concepts and recent theories on space it develops a methodology termed Spatial Art History that conceives of artworks as physical spatio temporal things which produce the social to overcome the reductive understanding of art as a mere mirror or facilitator of society Here Comes the Sun Ken Worpole,2000-12 Here Comes the Sun looks at how social reformers planners and architects in the early twentieth century tried to remake the city in the image of a sunlit ordered utopia While much has been written about architectural modernism Worpole concentrates less on buildings and more on the planning of the spaces in between the parks public squares open air museums promenades public pools and other public leisure facilities Life in the open was of particular concern to early urban planners and reformers with their dreams of release from the confines of overcrowded unsanitary slums Picturing youthful working class bodies made healthy by exercise and tanned by the sun they imagined an escape route from cities Worpole demonstrates how open air public spaces became sought after commissions for many early modernist architects in the early 1900s resulting in the transformation of the European cityscape a fascinating account of the political idealism that informed urban planning for the first two thirds of the twentieth century full of insights into how public space influences a sense of belonging and ownership The Guardian This is one of those books you stroke lovingly Open it and there is page after page of beautiful photographs this book combines history society politics environment and place in a well written and emotive text The strength of the book is the way it crosses these traditional boundaries and disciplines Town and Country Planning Drawing on architectural theories philosophy literature and even film making Worpole s book is wide ranging and erudite and should be of interest to the layperson as well as to the urban planner It is also elegantly written and complemented by a mixture of black and white and colour photographs to provide a visual emphasis to the points he raises N16 Magazine Bricks & Mortals Tom Wilkinson,2014-07-22 We don t just look at buildings their facades beautiful or ugly conceal the spaces where we live We are born work love and die in architecture We buy and sell it rent and squat it create and destroy it All of these aspects of buildings economic erotic political and psychological are crucial if we are to understand architecture properly And because architecture molds us just as much as we mold it understanding architecture helps us to understand our lives and our world In this book ten buildings from across the globe tell stories of architecture from the beginning of civilization to the present day From the remains of the Tower of Babel to the Summer Palace in Beijing built and destroyed by Europeans to the Ford car plant where the production line was born Tom Wilkinson unpicks these structures to reveal the lives of the people who built and used them Architecture has always had a powerful and intimate relationship with society and the lives of those who build and live with it It has often been used to try and improve society But can architecture change our lives for the better
