More Than Housing Lifeboats For Women And Children:

More Than Housing Joan Forrester Sprague, 1991 Today 40 percent of the homeless are single mothers and children their numbers are increasing More Than Housing is the first book focusing on a new housing type that responds to this growing emergency The innovative models are called lifeboats because they rescue and transform lives Lifeboat architecture and communities of support help single mothers move out of poverty dependence abuse and homelessness This book is a resource for design planning and programming It contains examples of emergency transitional and permanent housing ranging in size from five to hundreds of families descriptions 80 line drawings and photographs of 50 different models from 18 states details about zones of use and many kinds of shared spaces childcare and social services comments of residents architects and lifeboat sponsors grassroots women s groups century old nonprofit institutions religious organizations YMCA s corporations contractors individuals and government agencies documentation of the housing type evolution The Reader's

Companion to U.S. Women's History Wilma Pearl Mankiller, 1998 Contains articles on fashion and style household workers images of women jazz and blues maternity homes Native American women Phillis Wheatley homes picture brides single women and teaching The Alchemy of Illness Kat Duff, 1993 Illness is a universal experience There is no privilege that can make us immune to its touch We are taught to assume health illnesses being just temporary breakdowns in the well oiled machinery of the body But illness has its own geography its own laws and commandments At a time when the attention of the whole nation is focused on health care Kat Duff inquires into the nature and function of illness itself Duff a counselor in private practice in Taos New Mexico wrote this book out of her experience with chronic fatigue syndrome but what she has to say is applicable to every illness and every one of us For those who are sick this book offers solace and recognition For those who care for them either physically or emotionally it offers inspiration and compassion Finally this fresh perspective on healing reveals how every illness is a crucible that tries our mettle tests our limits and provides us with an unparalleled opportunity to integrate its lessons into our lives Finding Home: Policy Options for Addressing Homelessness in Canada

, 2009 Housing Women Rose Gilroy, Roberta Woods, 2002-09-26 First Published in 2004 Routledge is an imprint of Taylor Francis an informa company Designing the Green Economy Brian Milani, 2000-09-20 Designing the Green Economy explores realistically and in detail the world s enormous potential for human and ecological regeneration It also explains why this potential has been suppressed or distorted by industrial institutions thus creating economic crisis growing inequality and environmental destruction The first half of the book looks at the challenge ecological change has represented to capitalism as well as capitalism s repressive response the waste economy as expressed in postwar Fordist capitalism and current trends toward a globalized economy But today the great divide between waste and green economies can be narrowed by emerging legal institutional and market approaches to production and environmentalism In Part II Milani explores the practical and theoretical implications of fully unleashing these new productive forces to create community based ecological economies

Milani argues that neither sustainability social justice nor economic stability can be secured without comprehensive redesign of the economy along ecological principles It looks at key sectors of the economy including manufacturing energy and money and finance to illustrate how this redesign can and is taking place through both incremental grassroots initiatives and transformative politics

Embodied Utopias Amy Bingaman, Lise Sanders, Rebecca Zorach, 2003-12-16 Utopia has become a dirty word in recent scholarship on modernism architecture urban planning and gender studies Many utopian designs now appear impractical manifesting an arrogant disregard for the lived experiences of the ordinary inhabitants who make daily use of global public and private spaces The essays in Embodied Utopias argue that the gendered body is the crux of the hopes and disappointments of modern urban and suburban utopias of the Americas Europe and Asia They reassess utopian projects masculinist feminist colonialist progressive of the late nineteenth and early twentieth centuries they survey the dystopian landscapes of the present and they gesture at the potential for an embodied approach to the urban future to the changing spaces of cities and virtual landscapes

Reconstructing Architecture Thomas A. Dutton, Lian Hurst Mann, 1996 Reconstructing Architecture was first published in 1996 Minnesota Archive Editions uses digital technology to make long unavailable books once again accessible and are published unaltered from the original University of Minnesota Press editions To create architecture is an inherently political act yet its nature as a social practice is often obscured beneath layers of wealth and privilege The contributors to this volume question architecture's complicity with the status quo moving beyond critique to outline the part architects are playing in building radical social movements and challenging dominant forms of power The making of architecture is instrumental in the construction of our identities our differences the world around us much of what we know of institutions the distribution of power social relations and cultural values is mediated by the built environment Historically architecture has constructed the environments that house the dominant culture Yet as the essays in Reconstructing Architecture demonstrate there exists a strong tradition of critical practice in the field one that attempts to alter existing social power relations Engaging the gap between modernism and postmodernism each chapter addresses an oppositional discourse that has developed within the field and then reconstructs it in terms of a new social project feminism social theory environmentalism cultural studies race and ethnic studies and critical theory The activists and scholars writing here provide a clarion call to architects and other producers of culture challenging them to renegotiate their political allegiances and to help reconstruct a viable democratic life in the face of inexorable forces driving economic growth destroying global ecology homogenizing culture and privatizing the public realm Reconstructing Architecture reformulates the role of architecture in society as well as its capacity to further a progressive social transformation Contributors Sherry Ahrentzen U of Wisconsin Milwaukee Bradford C Grant California Polytechnic State U San Luis Obispo Richard Ingersoll Rice U Margaret Soltan George Washington U Anthony Ward U of Auckland New Zealand Thomas A Dutton is an architect and professor of architecture at Miami University Ohio He is editor of Voices in Architectural Education 1991 and is associate
