Sociology and Liturgy K. Flanagan,1991-10-02 This is a study of the social construction and the impression management of the public forms of worship of Catholicism and Anglicanism Interest centres on the dilemmas of the liturgical actors in handling a transaction riddled with ambiguities and potential misunderstandings The study is an innovative effort to link sociology to theology in a way that serves to focus on an issue of social praxis Earthing the Gospel Gerald A.

Arbuckle,2002-12-26 Christians are much the richer for this accomplishment of a long cherished dream by an experienced missionary social anthropologist Gerald Arbuckle has provided a book for the contemporary pastoral care team that mediates basic insights on ministry via the social sciences He also challenges church workers to rethink and reassess their work in light of the profound cultural changes taking place around them Earthing the Gospel introduces pastoral workers in the First World to methods of social analysis pioneered by missionaries worldwide It includes case histories personal stories and the results of fieldwork of hundreds of people in both the First and Third Worlds Applying the insights of social anthropology to the parishes on the home front Arbuckle offers the tools required to address issues of mission and inculturation in the First World Above all Earthing the Gospel is practical It presumes no special knowledge of anthropology as it zeroes in on topical issues racism fundamentalism the modern family youth and senior citizen subcultures affecting parishes and communities today Each chapter ends with questions for reflection and action For pastoral teams and workers on every level the insights gained from mission around the world can applying the methods described here be just as fruitful in our own back yards
