Landmark Essays on Rhetoric and Literature Craig Kallendorf, 2017-10-03 The studies of rhetoric and literature have been closely connected on the theoretical level ever since antiquity and many great works of literature were written by men and women who were well versed in rhetoric It is therefore well worth investigating exactly what these writers knew about rhetoric and how the practice of literary criticism has been enriched through rhetorical knowledge The essays reprinted here have been arranged chronologically with two essays selected for each of six major periods Antiquity the Middle Ages the Renaissance including Shakespeare the 17th century the 18th century and the 19th and 20th centuries Some are more theoretically oriented whereas others become exercises in practical criticism Some cover well trod ground whereas others turn to parts of the rhetorical tradition that are often overlooked Scholars in the field should benefit from having this material collected together and reprinted in one volume but the essays included here will also be useful to graduate students and advanced undergraduates for course work and general reading Students of rhetoric seeking to understand how the principles of their field extend into other forms of communication will find this volume of interest as will students of literature seeking to refine their understanding of the various modes of literary criticism

More Than Meets the Eye Thomas L. Larry, 2023-06-12 Misunderstandings of biblical creation texts have resulted from a lack of appreciation of the cultural context of the inspired writers Views of nature have changed greatly over history At the time of ancient Israel people gazed up to the star studded firmament that separated the waters above from the waters below and the land Land was bounded by sea which merged with the waters above at the horizon The universe was close and intimate Pagan peoples believed gods occupied this realm and accounted for much of observed cause and effect Biblical writers also viewed nature in this context However they were distinctly monotheistic writing of a supreme God who made and gave meaning to everything God chose a covenant relationship with a select people This relationship was based on belief in God faith Fast forward through many twists and turns of intellectual history and we come to the modern scientific age We picture our home as a spherical planet rotating once a day and orbiting the sun yearly We gaze out at a vast space seeing distant suns the stars and enormous collections of stars galaxies Light travels at a known speed thus astronomers peer back to times billions of years in the past

We need to avoid concordism conflating modern views with the biblical text The concordism error has occurred throughout church history up to the present The book addresses this as well as some discoveries of modern science that were unknown to ancient people Such discoveries give us good reason to bow in awe before the Creator Even though mankind's views of nature have greatly changed with time the message of the Bible is the same We come to God through faith as did Abraham who saw more than meets the eye Holy Spirit Are We Flammable or Fireproof? Reinhard Bonnke,2017-08-30 The Anthropological Review Anthropological Society of London,1866 The Anthropological Review... Anthropological Society Of London,1866 Anthropological Review ,1866 Reading Sacred Texts Charles Mabee,1991 "Being Down" Ronnie Casella,2001-01-01 Research reveals the causes of violence in a high school including social inequality among students and the lack of prevention efforts by the staff and proposes reforms to alleviate this growing problem in all schools
