Morning After The First Night:

Rain over Baghdad Hala El Badry, 2014-03-01 What was it like to live in Iraq before the earth shaking events of the end of the twentieth century The mid seventies to the late eighties witnessed Saddam Hussein's rise to power the establishment of Kurdish autonomy in the north and the Iraq Iran war It also brought an influx of oil wealth following the 1973 war and the spike in oil prices and a parallel influx of Arab talent including many Egyptians as the Egyptian left became disenchanted with Sadat The massive migration also extended to workers and peasants some of whom created an entire Egyptian village just outside Baghdad We witness all of this and more through the eyes of an Egyptian woman married to an engineer working in Iraq The narrator who works for an Egyptian magazine's bureau in the Iraqi capital has a behind the scenes view of what was really happening at a critical juncture in the history of the region Moreover she has a mystery to solve an Iraqi woman from the marshes in the south of Iraq who is also a communist journalist has disappeared and as the mystery unfolds we learn of her love for an older Egyptian Marxist journalist This is Iraq before and beyond Saddam Iraq as the Arabs knew it in the lives of interesting people living in a vibrant country before the attempted annexation of Kuwait and the American invasion This is the Iraq that was Shades of Difference Sujata Iyengar, 2013-04-12 Was there such a thing as a modern notion of race in the English Renaissance and if so was skin color its necessary marker In fact early modern texts described human beings of various national origins including English as turning white brown tawny black green or red for any number of reasons from the effects of the sun's rays or imbalance of the bodily humors to sexual desire or the application of makeup It is in this cultural environment that the seventeenth century London Gazette used the term black to describe both dark skinned African runaways and dark haired Britons such as Scots who are now unquestioningly conceived of as white In Shades of Difference Sujata Iyengar explores the cultural mythologies of skin color in a period during which colonial expansion and the slave trade introduced Britons to more dark skinned persons than at any other time in their history Looking to texts as divergent as sixteenth century Elizabethan erotic verse seventeenth century lyrics and Restoration prose romances Iyengar considers the construction of race during the early modern period without oversimplifying the emergence of race as a color coded classification or a black white opposition Rather race embodiment and skin color are examined in their multiple contexts historical geographical and literary Iyengar engages works that have not previously been incorporated into discussions of the formation of race such as Marlowe's Hero and Leander and Shakespeare's Venus and Adonis By rethinking the emerging early modern connections between the notions of race skin color and gender Shades of Difference furthers an ongoing discussion with originality and impeccable scholarship My Beloved Toto Juliette Drouet, 2012-02-01 My Beloved Toto a collection of letters written by Juliette Drouet to her lover Victor Hugo tells the story of a life and of the great love affair that shaped it From 1833 until her death half a century later Drouet wrote to Hugo twice daily on average resulting in thousands of letters The 186 translated here most appearing in English for the first time offer

Ancient Bible Feasts Albert Bailey, 2015-10-15 Ancient Bible Feasts opens hidden Bible truths concerning Israel Christ and the church These seven feasts given in their order and days of the year in Leviticus 23 are symbolic of the crucifixion and resurrection of Christ the descent of the Holy Spirit on the day of Pentecost the future rapture of the church and the great tribulation and second advent of Christ concluding with His thousand year millennial reign here on earth Other books written about these feasts deal with the same events but none has gone into detail or explained the meaning of the celebrations and sacrifices God commanded the Israelites to celebrate so many years ago Dr Bailey explains the meaning of certain numbers in the Scriptures and shows their importance in these feasts and how these numbers prove the accuracy of the fulfillment of these feasts He also proves from Scripture that Jesus Christ died at the time the Passover Lamb was killed in Egypt the meaning of the blood being put on the doors of the houses that the Israelites were in that Jesus resurrected at the same time the last Israelite came out of the Red Sea centuries earlier that the Holy Spirit came upon the disciples the exact time God came down on Mt Sinai some fourteen hundred years earlier He also explains the sacrifice at Mt Sinai that points to the fact that Jew and Gentile will become one in Christ This book is a treasure to all students of the Holy Scriptures

The Edge of Her Feathers Kristen Alexandra Davis, 2025-07-30 She dreams of driving across the bridges She'd never been afraid before but now in the dreams strange magical happenings unfold One night at the Golden Gate the span carries her underwater where she discovers long lost friends all sitting at a beautiful table at the bottom of the Bay only it was long ago and everyone is in Victorian dress In another dream the Bridge does not yet exist Where the beautiful city would appear there are only sandstone cliffs and desert and she is just spirit flying above the water But in most of the dreams she is driving Her eyelids become heavy she can't see the road struggles desperately to keep control of the car but can feel herself falling slipping towards the floor the car breaking over the railing carrying her with it under the water The dreams recur so often that she becomes afraid of heights of driving over the railing into the waves Then just as suddenly the dreams stop Years pass until the day she hears that he's jumped when they return In this memoir we accompany the author on her search to unearth the magical and terrifying childhood she has all but buried
