Morocco, and Shanghai Express Jules Furthman,Josef Von Sternberg,1973 Morocco and Shanghai Express, two films by Josef von Sternberg ,1973 Morocco; And, Shanghai Express Jules Furthman,Josef Von Sternberg,1973

Morocco Josef Von Sternberg,1973 Von Sternberg John Baxter,2010-10-29 Belligerent and evasive Josef von Sternberg chose to ignore his illegitimate birth in Austria deprived New York childhood abusive father and lack of education The director who strutted onto the set in a turban riding breeches or a silk robe embraced his new persona as a world traveller collected modern art drove a Rolls Royce and earned three times as much as the president Von Sternberg traces the choices that carried the unique director from poverty in Vienna to power in Hollywood including his eventual ostracism in Japan Historian John Baxter reveals an artist few people knew the aesthete who transformed Marlene Dietrich into an international star whose ambivalent sexuality and contradictory allure on screen reflected an off screen romance with the director In his classic films The Blue Angel 1930 Morocco 1930 and Blonde Venus 1932 von Sternberg showcased his trademark visual style and revolutionary representations of sexuality Drawing on firsthand conversations with von Sternberg and his son Von Sternberg breaks past the classic Hollywood caricature to demystify and humanize this legendary director

Sternberg and Dietrich James Phillips,2019-02-01 James Phillips s Sternberg and Dietrich The Phenomenology of Spectacle reappraises the cinematic collaboration between the Austrian American filmmaker Josef von Sternberg 1894 1969 and the German American actor Marlene Dietrich 1901 92 Considered by his contemporaries one of the most significant directors of interwar Hollywood Sternberg made seven films with Dietrich that helped establish her as a style icon and star and entrenched his own reputation for extravagance and aesthetic spectacle These films enriched the technical repertoire of the industry challenged the sexual mores of the times and notoriously tried the patience of management at Paramount Studios Sternberg and Dietrich The Phenomenology of Spectacle demonstrates how under Sternberg s direction Paramount s sound stages became laboratories for novel thought experiments Analysing in depth the last four films on which Sternberg and Dietrich worked together Phillips reconstructs the cinematic philosophy that Sternberg claimed for himself in his autobiography and for whose fullest expression Dietrich was indispensable This book makes a case for the originality and perceptiveness with which these films treat such issues as the nature of trust the status of appearance the standing of women the ethics and politics of the image and the relationship between cinema and the world Sternberg and Dietrich The Phenomenology of Spectacle reveals that more is at stake in these films than the showcasing of a new star and the confectionery of glamour Dietrich emerges here as a woman who is at ease in the world without being at home in it an image of autonomy whose critical potential has yet to be realized let alone exhausted Perpetually Cool Anthony B. Chan,2007-02-08 Anna May Wong was an extraordinary Asian American woman who became the country s most famous film actress of Chinese descent From small parts in silent films to starring roles in Hollywood and across the Atlantic Wong made an impression on audiences of all persuasions In Perpetually Cool Anthony Chan takes the reader on a compelling journey through Wong s early years in Los Angeles and her first Hollywood pictures Chan also examines the scope and nature of race gender and power and their impact on Wong s personal growth as a Chinese American Perpetually Cool is not only the captivating story of a cinematic career but also of roots and identity as it recounts Wong s desire to connect with her heritage in the United States and in China Chan provides extensive textual analyses of Wong s signature films especially The Toll of the Sea 1922 The Thief of Bagdad 1924 with Douglas Fairbanks and her most famous role as Hui Fei in Shanghai Express 1932 opposite Marlene Dietrich Perpetually Cool is a fitting tribute to the influence of this Chinese American icon

Cinema, Space, and Polylocality in a Globalizing China Yingjin Zhang, 2009-10-09 In this milestone work prominent China film scholar Yingjin Zhang proposes polylocality as a new conceptual framework for investigating the shifting spaces of contemporary Chinese cinema in the age of globalization Questioning the national cinema paradigm Zhang calls for comparative studies of underdeveloped areas beyond the imperative of transnationalism The book begins by addressing theories and practices related to space place and polylocality in contemporary China before focusing on the space of scholarship and urging scholars to move beyond the current paradigm and explore transnational and comparative film studies This is followed by a chapter that concentrates on the space of production and surveys the changing landscape of postsocialist filmmaking and the transformation of China s urban generation of directors Next is an examination of the space of polylocality and the cinematic mappings of Beijing and a persistent reel contact with polylocality in hinterland China In the fifth chapter Zhang explores the space of subjectivity in independent film and video and contextualizes experiments by young directors with various documentary styles Chapter 6 calls attention to the space of performance and addresses issues of media and mediation by way of two kinds of playing the first with documentary as troubling information the second with piracy as creative intervention The concluding chapter offers an overview of Chinese cinema in the new century and provides production and reception statistics Combining inspired critical insights original observations and new information Cinema Space and Polylocality in a Globalizing China is a significant work on current Chinese film and a must read for film scholars and anyone seriously interested in cinema more generally or contemporary Chinese culture

Music, Narrative and the Moving Image, 2019-05-15 In extending the traditional field of Word and Music Studies to include research on film and other forms of moving visualizations this volume focuses on innovative discussions of artistic works showing relationships between three individual communicative media This trifocal interdisciplinary perspective is reflected in seventeen essays that cover the historical space from the 19th to the 21st centuries and discuss a wide variety of individual genres in the represented media These range from Parisian cabaret to revolutionary Peking opera from silent film to Holocaust narration from documentary propaganda movies to opera film interludes and more The investigation of historical cases is broadened by reflections on theoretical and functional issues primarily in film music which show a remarkable breadth of technical and perceptual varieties The essays here collected are of relevance to scholars and students of film studies musicology and literature as well as readers generally interested in Intermediality Studies

The Damned Don't Cry - They Just Disappear Harlan Greene, 2017-12-29 A biography of an unconventional Southern writer who illuminated gay life in the South In The Damned Don't Cry They Just Disappear literary historian and Lambda Award winning novelist Harlan Greene has created a portrait of a nearly forgotten southern writer unearthing information from archives rare books film libraries and small town newspapers Greene brings Harry Hervey 1900 1951 to life and explicates his works to reveal him as a hardworking writer and master of many genres bravely unwilling to conform to conventional values As Greene illustrates Hervey's novels short stories nonfiction books and film scripts contain complex mixtures of history and thinly disguised homoerotic situations and themes They blend local color naturalism melodrama and psychological and sexual truths that provide a view to the circles in which he moved Living openly with his male lover in Savannah Georgia and Charleston South Carolina Hervey set novels in these cities that scandalized the locals and critics as well He challenged the sexual mores of his day sometimes subtly and at other times brazenly presenting texts that told one story to gay male readers while still courting a mainstream audience His novels and nonfiction may have been coded and thus escaped detection in their day but twenty first century readers can decipher them easily Greene also discusses Hervey's travel books and successful Hollywood scriptwriting as well as his use of exotic elements from Asian cultures The iconic film Shanghai Express starring Marlene Dietrich was based on one of his original stories He also wrote some of the first travel books on Indochina with descriptions of male and female prostitution and allusions to his own sexual adventures which still make for sensational reading today Despite Hervey's output and his perseverance in presenting gay characters and themes as openly as he could he has not been included in any survey of twentieth century gay writers Greene now rectifies this omission providing the first book length study of Hervey's life and work and the first scholarly attention to him in more than fifty years It furthers our understanding of gay life in the South as well as the impact of gay artists on popular culture in the first half of the twentieth century

Black and White Cinema Wheeler Winston Dixon, 2015-11-06 From the glossy monochrome of the classic Hollywood romance to the gritty greyscale of the gangster picture to film noir's moody interplay of light and shadow black and white cinematography has been used to create a remarkably wide array of tones Yet today with black and white film stock nearly impossible to find these cinematographic techniques are virtually extinct and filmgoers' appreciation of them is similarly waning Black and White Cinema is the first study to consider the use of black and white as an art form in its own right providing a comprehensive and global overview of the era when it flourished from the 1900s to the 1960s Acclaimed film scholar Wheeler Winston Dixon introduces us to the masters of this art discussing the signature styles and technical innovations of award winning cinematographers like James Wong Howe Gregg Toland Freddie Francis and Sven Nykvist Giving us a unique glimpse behind the scenes Dixon also reveals the creative teams from lighting technicians to matte painters whose work profoundly shaped the look of black and white cinema More than just a study of film history this book is a rallying cry meant to inspire a love for the artistry of black and white film so that we might work to preserve this important part of our cinematic heritage Lavishly illustrated with more than forty on the set stills Black and White Cinema provides a vivid and illuminating look at a creatively vital era
