Moros Y Cristianos In Zacatecas Text Of A Mexican Folk Play:

"Moros Y Cristianos" in Zacatecas Michael John Doudoroff, 1981 Mexican National Identity William H. Beezley, 2008-05-29 In this enlightening book the well known historian William Beezley contends that a Mexican national identity was forged during the nineteenth century not by a self anointed elite but rather by a disparate mix of ordinary people and everyday events In examining independence festivals children s games annual almanacs and the performances of itinerant puppet theaters Beezley argues that these seemingly unrelated and commonplace occurrences not the far more self conscious and organized efforts of politicians teachers and others created a far reaching sense of a new nation In the century that followed Mexico s independence from Spain in 1821 Beezley maintains sentiments of nationality were promulgated by people who were concerned not with the promotion of nationalism but with something far more immediate the need to earn a living These peddlers vendors actors artisans writers publishers and puppeteers sought widespread popular appeal so that they could earn money According to Beezley they constantly refined their performances as well as the symbols and images they employed in order to secure larger revenues Gradually they discovered the stories acts and products that attracted the largest numbers of paying customers As Beezley convincingly asserts out of what sold to the masses a collective national identity slowly emerged Mexican National Identity makes an important contribution to the growing body of literature that explores the influences of popular culture on issues of national identity By looking at identity as it was fashioned in the streets it opens new avenues for exploring identity formation more generally not just in Mexico and Latin American countries but in every nation Check out the New Books in History Interview with Bill Beezley Afro-Catholic Festivals in the Americas Cécile Fromont, 2019-04-24 This volume demonstrates how from the beginning of the Atlantic slave trade enslaved and free Africans in the Americas used Catholicism and Christian derived celebrations as spaces for autonomous cultural expression social organization and political empowerment Their appropriation of Catholic based celebrations calls into question the long held idea that Africans and their descendants in the diaspora either resignedly accepted Christianity or else transformed its religious rituals into syncretic objects of stealthy resistance In cities and on plantations throughout the Americas men and women of African birth or descent staged mock battles against heathens elected Christian queens and kings with great pageantry and gathered in festive rituals to express their devotion to saints Many of these traditions endure in the twenty first century The contributors to this volume draw connections between these Afro Catholic festivals observed from North America to South America and the Caribbean and their precedents in the early modern kingdom of Kongo one of the main regions of origin of men and women enslaved in the New World This transatlantic perspective offers a useful counterpoint to the Yoruba focus prevailing in studies of African diasporic religions and reveals how Kongo infused Catholicism constituted a site for the formation of black Atlantic tradition Afro Catholic Festivals in the Americas complicates the notion of Christianity as a European tool of domination and enhances our comprehension of the formation and trajectory of black religious culture on the American continent It will be of great interest to scholars of African diaspora religion Christianity and performance In addition to the editor the contributors include Kevin Dawson Jeroen Dewulf Junia Ferreira Furtado Michael Iyanaga Dianne M Stewart Miguel A Valerio and Lisa Voigt
