Morphology Taxonomy Of The Adult Males:

The Morphology and Taxonomy of Male Scale Insects (Homoptera M. S. K. Ghauri, British Museum (Natural History), 1962

Taxonomy of Corynoneura Winnertz (Diptera: Chironomidae) Yue Fu, Xiangling Fang, Xinhua Wang, 2019-06-15

Corynoneura is recognized as one of the most difficult group to classify and there has been a long history of nomenclatural changes Taxonomy of Corynoneura Winnertz Diptera Chironomidae provides detailed and accurate taxonomy of the Corynoneura generic group and discusses the scientific basis for phylogenetic studies of Chironomidae Taxonomy of Corynoneura Winnertz Diptera Chironomidae is a useful resource for researchers and practitioners in the field of entomology systematics phylogeny biogeography biodiversity and ecology This book is composed of four main sections introduction keys classification and zoogeography Coverage includes a preliminary biogeographic analysis of the worldwide fauna based on the Corynoneura generic group and species distribution data summaries of the typical features used to classify an adult and keys to all the Corynoneura generic group and male species of Corynoneura in the world Over 100 species of Corynoneura are described in detail with morphological figures Covers almost all described species of Corynoneura Provides morphological and phylogenetic study of the Corynoneura Includes information on fauna from the Neotropical region Imms' General Textbook of Entomology Augustus Daniel Imms, O.W. Richards, R.G. Davies, 1977-11-30 Band 2 De Apibus phantasticis generis Centris descripti a Johan Fabricius in 1804 (stricto sensu), cum descriptione specierum novarum, ubi occurrunt, flores quae visitant et quomodo eas cognoscimus Felipe Vivallo, 2024-09-12 This book contains the first described species of Centris even before the description of the genus Considering this fact the entire layout and color palette draw inspiration from the books of naturalists of the XVIII and XIX centuries For the creation of the cover I used one of the beautiful designs made by the German naturalist and scientific illustrator Maria Sibylla Merian 1647 1717 one of the first women in history who dedicated herself to in situ observation of insects The drawing corresponds to flowers of Iris latifolia Mill Voss Iridaceae Delphinium sp Ranunculaceae and Narcissus sp Amaryllidaceae appearing in the third chapter of her work Neues Blumenbuch Florum Fasciculus Tertius dritter Blumen Theil published in 1680 Surrounding Maria's flowers were added digitized photos of some of the Centris species studied in the book using the photobashing a technique that combines photographs with digital illustrations The title of the book is made up of three paragraphs indicating the topics that are discussed in it The first is the main title while the others complement the information in the first part following the pattern used by ancient naturalists to name their works Following this line the text is written in Latin the language in which science was disseminated at that time Although the book is in English there are some specific item titles that are also written in Latin There were used the words Territorium to refer to the distribution Materia typica for type material Patria for the type locality Commentarium for comments Varietates for intraspecific variation Index florum for floral records and Specimina examinata to refer to the material examined The organization of the figures in plates follows the pattern that I used in my previous books except for those that show specimens in nature In that case images are organized according to the Fibonacci sequence also called divine proportion proposed by the Italian mathematician Leonardo de Pisa 1170 1240 and which has been associated since ancient times with ideas of harmony beauty and perfection

Imms' General Textbook of Entomology O.W. Richards,R.G. Davies,2013-11-11 seem as appropriate now as the original balance was when Dr A D Imms textbook was first published over fifty years ago There are 35 new figures all based on published illustrations the sources of which are acknowledged in the captions We are grateful to the authors concerned and also to Miss K Priest of Messrs Chapman Hall who saved us from many errors and omissions and to Mrs R G Davies for substantial help in preparing the bibliographies and checking references London O W R R G D May 1976 Part III THE ORDERS OF INSECTS THE CLASSIFICATION AND PHYLOGENY OF INSECTS The classification of insects has passed through many changes and with the growth of detailed knowledge an increasing number of orders has come to be recognized Handlirsch 1908 and Wilson and Doner 1937 have reviewed the earlier attempts at classification among which the schemes of Brauer 1885 Sharp 1899 and Börner 1904 did much to define the more distinctive recent orders In 1908 Handlirsch published a more revolutionary system incorporating recent and fossil forms which gave the Collembola Thysanura and Diplura the status of three independent Arthropodan classes and considered as separate orders such groups as the Sialoidea Raphidioidea Heteroptera and Homoptera He also split up the old order Orthoptera gave its components ordinal rank and regrouped them with some of the other orders into a subclass Orthopteroidea and another subclass Blattariae

A Selected Bibliography of the Coccoidea Louise May Russell,Michael Kosztarab,Matilda P. Kosztarab,1974 The second supplement cites the important literature on the classification of coccids that appeared between January 1 1963 the cutoff date of the first supplement and December 31 1969 In addition it includes numerous earlier articles that were omitted from the previous bibliographies but that are now available and appear to be relevant This supplement also corrects the few errors in authorship dates volume numbers and pages that have been noted in the former bibliographies

Studies on the Morphology and Systematics of Scale Insects ,1969 Treatise on Zoology - Anatomy, Taxonomy, Biology. The Crustacea, Volume 9 Part A Frederick Schram, Carel von Vaupel Klein, 2010-12-17 This volume 9A contains the material on the euphausiaceans amphionidaceans and many of the decapods dendrobranchiates carideans stenopodideans astacidans and palinurans With the publication of this ninth volume in the Treatise on Zoology The Crustacea we depart from the sequence one would normally expect Some crustacean groups never had a French version produced namely the orders Stomatopoda Euphausiacea Amphionidacea and Decapoda the largest contingent of these involved Decapoda a group of tremendous diversity and for which we have great depth of knowledge The organization and production of these new chapters began independently from the other chapters and volumes Originally envisioned by the editorial team to encompass volume 9 of the series it quickly became evident that the depth of material for such a volume must involve the printing of separate fascicles These new chapters are now nearing completion and the decision was made to begin publication of volume 9 immediately rather than wait until after volumes 3 through 8 would appear
