Diachronic, Typological, and Areal Aspects of Converbs Paola Cotticelli-Kurras, Eystein Dahl, Jelena Živojinović, 2024-12-30 This book deals with the category of converbs whose denomination refers to a set of structures which cross linguistically are not comparable Specifically we tackle the following topics 1 converbs and related constructions as areal features distinguishing between a general coordinating and subordinating type of converb 2 converbs in the context of linguistic families particularly in the Indo European domain displaying different non finite structures to express the adverbial domain 3 converbial constructions and competing construction types 4 the diachronic typology of converbs and their source constructions Houses, Families, and Cohabitation Dag Lindström, Göran Tagesson, 2024-11-05 This book is an interdisciplinary study that draws on a combination of archaeological evidence building archaeological analysis archival sources to explore the dynamic relations between dwelling houses social organization of households and patterns of cohabitation during the eighteenth century The empirical focus of this book is on Swedish towns but it also addresses more general issues about urbanity and urban life space and social organization and materiality and individual agency Aggregated questions about urban life and urban space are combined with a micro historical method revealing aspects of daily life and urban change This study unveils a previously neglected history Swedish eighteenth century towns have commonly been identified as a territory characterized by its sleepy absence of change This study proves the opposite Houses were built larger with more diverse and complex inner structures Family structures changed households generally became smaller the share of households headed by a married couple declined and the number of single households increased Population density increased the number of families residing in the same house increased and rental accommodation became more prevalent This volume is essential reading for anyone interested in early modern housing urban change and interdisciplinary methods

Aspects of Grammaticalization Daniel Olmen, Hubert Cuyckens, Lobke Ghesquière, 2016-12-19 This volume advances our understanding of two highly debated aspects of grammaticalization its relation to inter subjectification and its directionality These aspects are studied with respect to such phenomena as auxiliaries discourse markers conjunctions prepositions and pronouns Bringing together a wide range of languages the collection provides insight into the crucial dimensions of grammaticalization research Wisdom, Authority and Grammar in the Seventh Century Vivien Law, 1995-03-16 The works of the seventh century writer Virgilius Maro Grammaticus are among the most puzzling medieval texts to survive Ostensibly a pair of grammars they swarm with hymns riddles invented words and imaginary writers Conventionally interpreted either as a benighted barbarian's unfortunate attempt to write a proper grammar or as a parody of the pedantic excesses of the ancient grammatical tradition these texts have long been in need of an alternative reading Why should a grammarian attack the very notion of authority thereby destabilizing his own position The search for an answer leads us via patristic exegesis and medieval wisdom literature to the tantalizingly ill documented reaches of heterodox initiatory traditions Vivien Law's book opens important new perspectives on the intellectual life of the early Middle Ages and on the decoding of medieval literature in general Index to Theses Accepted for Higher Degrees by the Universities of Great Britain and

Ireland and the Council for National Academic Awards ,1982 Turkisms in South Slavonic Literature Florence

Lydia Graham, 2020-07-09 Turkisms in South Slavonic Literature is a comparative analysis of Turkish loanwords in seventeenth and eighteenth century Bosnian and Bulgarian Franciscan sources. The introduction gives historical information on the Order of the Bosnian Franciscans, Bosna Srebrena, Bulgarian Catholic communities, Turkish presence in Bosnia and in Bulgaria, as well as short biographies of each of the writers whose works are analysed. The second half of the introduction deals with language background, defining the local language phonology and orthography. Chapter two discusses the complications regarding the chronology of Turkisms in Bosnian and Bulgarian. The third chapter looks at nominal morphology in Bosnian and Bulgarian. Among other things, this chapter analyses why Turkisms borrowed from a language where gender is not a category developed the genders that they did. Chapter four addresses the verbal morphology of Turkisms in Bosnian and Bulgarian. It discusses aspect, Slavonic verbal prefixes, verbal roots, and Turkish voiced suffixes. The fifth chapter focuses on adjectives and adverbs. Turkish root adjectives and adverbs, derived adverbs and adjectives, and their agreement with the nouns that they modify are discussed. The sixth chapter addresses the use of Turkish conjunctions in Bosnian and Bulgarian. The seventh chapter looks at the motivation, semantics, and context of Turkisms in Bosnian and Bulgarian. The conclusion addresses how the morphology, semantics, motivation, and context of Turkisms relate to their chronology in Bosnian and Bulgarian, as well as how these points differ from language to language. It also provides suggestions for further study.

Trade and Society in the Straits of Melaka Nordin Hussin, 2007. This study compares Melaka and Penang in the context of overall trends, policy, geographical position, nature, and direction of trade and morphology and sociology, and how these factors were influenced by trade and policies. Conclusions are drawn concerning where and how Melaka and Penang fit in the urban traditions of Southeast Asia and the significance of the fact that the period under study coincided with the shift from the height of the Age of Commerce towards a period of heightened imperialist activities.

The Oxford Handbook of Modality and Mood Jan Nuyts, Johan van der Auwera, 2016-09-08. This handbook offers an in-depth and comprehensive state of the art survey of the linguistic domains of modality and mood. An international team of experts in the field examines the full range of methodological and theoretical approaches to the many facets of the phenomena involved. Parts 1 and 2 of the volume present the basic linguistic facts about the systems of modality and mood in the languages of the world, covering the semantics and the expression of different subtypes of modality and mood respectively. The authors also examine the interaction of modality and mood mutually and with other semantic categories such as aspect, time, negation, and evidentiality. In Part 3, authors discuss the features of the modality and mood systems in five typologically different language groups, while chapters in Part 4 deal with wider perspectives on modality and mood: diachrony, areality, first language acquisition, and sign language. Finally, Part 5 looks at how modality and mood are handled in different theoretical approaches: formal syntax, functional linguistics, cognitive linguistics, and construction grammar and formal semantics.
