include a Supplement comprising discussions of an additional 99 questions concerning a wide variety of loosely related issues such as excommunication indulgences confession marriage purgatory and the relations of the saints toward the damned Scholars believe that Rainaldo da Piperno a friend of Aquinas probably gathered the material in this supplement from a work that Aquinas had completed before he began working on the Summa Theologica It seeks to describe the relationship between God and man and to explain how man's reconciliation with the Divine is made possible at all through Christ To this end Aquinas cites proofs for the existence of God and outlines the activities and nature of God Approximately one half of the Summa Theologica then examines the nature and purpose of man Finally Aquinas devotes his attention to the nature of Christ and the role of the Sacraments in effecting a bridge between God and man Within these broad topical boundaries though Aquinas examines the nature of God and man in exquisite detail His examination includes questions of how angels act on bodies the union of body and soul the cause and remedies of anger cursing and the comparison of one sin with another Aquinas is attempting to offer a truly universal and rational view of all existence Thomas Aquinas O P 1225-1274 also Thomas of Aquin or Aquino was an Italian Dominican priest and an immensely influential philosopher and theologian in the tradition of scholasticism within which he is also known as the Doctor Angelicus Doctor Communis and Doctor Universalis He was the foremost classical proponent of natural theology and the father of Thomism His influence on Western thought is considerable and much of modern philosophy was conceived in development or refutation of his ideas particularly in the areas of ethics natural law metaphysics and political theory

Meditations for every day in the year Richard Challoner, 1859 Ethics as a Work of Charity David Decosimo, 2014-07-23 Most of us wonder how to make sense of the apparent moral excellences or virtues of those who have different visions of the good life or different religious commitments than our own Rather than flattening or ignoring the deep difference between various visions of the good life as is so often done this book turns to the medieval Christian theologian

Thomas Aquinas to find a better way Thomas it argues shows us how to welcome the outsider and her virtue as an expression rather than a betrayal of one's own distinctive vision It shows how Thomas driven by a Christian commitment to charity and especially informed by Augustine synthesized Augustinian and Aristotelian elements to construct an ethics that does justice in love to insiders and outsiders alike Decosimo offers the first analysis of Thomas on pagan virtue and a reinterpretation of Thomas's ethics while providing a model for our own efforts to articulate a truthful hospitality and do ethics in our pluralist globalized world

Summa Theologica, Part III (Tertia Pars) Thomas Aquinas, 2021-12-12 Summa Theologica Part III Tertia Pars Thomas Aquinas The Summa Theologiae Latin Compendium of Theology or Theological Compendium also subsequently called the Summa Theologica or simply the Summa written 1265-1274 is the best known work of Thomas Aquinas c 1225-1274 and although unfinished one of the classics of the history of philosophy and one of the most influential works of Western literature It is intended as a manual for beginners in theology and a compendium of all of the main theological teachings of the Church It presents the reasoning for almost all points of Christian theology in the West The Summa's topics follow a cycle: the existence of God, Creation, Man, Man's purpose, Christ, the Sacraments, and back to God courtesy of wikipedia.com This is part 3 Tertia Pars The way which leads to God is Christ the theme of part III It can be asserted that the incarnation was absolutely necessary The Unio between the Logos and the human nature is a relation between the divine and the human nature which comes about by both natures being brought together in the one person of the Logos An incarnation can be spoken of only in the sense that the human nature began to be in the eternal hypostasis of the divine nature So Christ is unum since his human nature lacks the hypostasis The person of the Logos accordingly has assumed the impersonal human nature and in such way that the assumption of the soul became the means for the assumption of the body This union with the human soul is the gratia unionis which leads to the impartation of the gratia habitualis from the Logos to the human nature Thereby all human potentialities are made perfect in Jesus Besides the perfections given by the vision of God which Jesus enjoyed from the beginning he receives all others by the gratia habitualis
