vast array of sources Belting's insights draw on art history philosophy theories of visual culture and cognitive science He demonstrates that Western efforts to portray the face have repeatedly failed even with the developments of new media such as photography and film which promise ever greater degrees of verisimilitude In spite of sitting at the heart of human expression the face resists possession and creative endeavors to capture it inevitably result in masks hollow signifiers of the humanity they're meant to embody From creations by Van Eyck and August Sander to works by Francis Bacon Ingmar Bergman and Chuck Close Face and Mask takes a remarkable look at how through the centuries the physical visage has inspired and evaded artistic interpretation

The Masks of Tragedy Thomas G. Rosenmeyer, 2013-09-26 What matters about a play is not the extent to which it is like any other play but the way in which it is different writes Thomas G. Rosenmeyer This is I suggest how the ancient audiences received the performances My purpose then in writing these essays is twofold to devote enough space to the discussion of each play to allow its special tone and texture to emerge without hindrance and at leisure and to include in one collection analyses of plays so different from one another that the accent will come to rest on the variety of the tragic experience rather than on any one narrowly defined norm Greek tragedy is a vehicle for many different ideas and many different intentions From the wealth of material that has come down to us the author has chosen six plays for analysis He reminds us that the plays were written to be seen and heard and only secondarily to be studied The listeners expected each play to have a specific objective and to exhibit its own mood These the author attempts to recover for us by listening to what each play in its own right has to say His principal concern is with the tragic diction and the tragic ideas designed to release certain massive responses in the large theater-going group of ancient Athens In exploring the characters and the situations of the plays he has chosen the author transports his reader to the world of fifth century B.C. Greece and establishes the relevance of that world to our own experience The essays are not introductory in nature No space is given for instance to basic information about the playwrights the history of Greek drama or the special features of the Attic stage Yet the book addresses itself to classicists and nonclassicists alike The outgrowth of a series of lectures to nonspecialists its particular appeal is to students of literature and the history of Western thought Parallels are drawn between the writings of the philosophers and the tragedies and attention is paid to certain popular Greek beliefs that colored the tragic formulations Ultimately however the approach is not historical but critical it is the author's intention to demonstrate the beauty and the craftsmanship of the plays under discussion

Sanctum Sanctorum Justin Mandela Roberts, 2019-11-11 This book seeks to answer the question What is holiness What do we talk about when we talk about holiness We might describe many things as holy but as Socrates says what is the essential aspect by which all holy acts are holy Sanctum Sanctorum gives an account of the holy from within the Christian participatory tradition and argues that holiness is included in a special category of divine names that Christian metaphysics calls transcendentals which are five being one truth goodness and beauty Moreover holiness stands in a hierarchical relationship to the other five transcendentals as the culmination or concentration of the rest Only by understanding holiness as the head of the transcendentals as the transcendental can one account for all the complexity the idea of the holy conjures Therefore holiness is the transcendental of the transcendentals It adds the aspect of reverence to existence and as such it is constituted by the formula sanctum sanctorum Holy of holies which extends from the divine nature through the triune life to all creation
