Mortimer Wheeler:

Adventurer in Archaeology Jacquetta Hawkes, 1982 Studies in Honour of Sir Mortimer Wheeler Mortimer Wheeler, 1972 The Indus Civilization Gregory L. Possehl, 2002 The Indus Civilization of India and Pakistan was contemporary with and equally complex as the better known cultures of Mesopotamia Egypt and China The dean of North American Indus scholars Gregory Possehl attempts here to marshal the state of knowledge about this fascinating culture in a readable synthesis He traces the rise and fall of this civilization examines the economic architectural artistic religious and intellectual components of this culture describes its most famous sites and shows the relationships between the Indus Civilization and the other cultures of its time As a sourcebook for scholars a textbook for archaeology students and an informative volume for the lay reader The Indus Civilization will be an exciting and informative read Archaeology Kevin Greene, 2002 A substantially revised and expanded edition of one of the most widely used and respected general introductions to the field of archaeology The Indus Valley Civilisation Rhona Dick, 2005 This series has been created to support the schemes of work in the History Curriculum at Key Stage 2 Each spread addresses a particular topic Text is clear and divided into easily digestible paragraphs whilst key words are highlighted Suggestion boxes provide activities and tips for the reader Ancient Pakistan - an Archaeological History Mukhtar Ahmed, 2014-10-25 This is the third volume of a much larger project Ancient Pakistan An Archaeological History which deals with the prehistory of Pakistan from the Stone Age to the end of the Harappan Civilization ca 1500 BC This particular volume Harappan Civilization The Material Culture deals with the entire gambit of the urban phase of the Indus Civilization from its beginning to its decay and the ultimate end The books covers such topics as the origins settlement pattern subsistence economy architecture town planning Indus seals arts and crafts metallurgy decay and the post Harappan cultural landscape Every chapter is profusely illustrated with colored sketches and colored photographs An extensive bibliography is also provided An Encyclopaedia in Spatio-Temporal Dimensions Patit Paban Mishra, 2024-10-20 The encyclopaedia highlights the South Asian country of India with its varied ramifications As a rich country with all its diversity it has played a significant role in world affairs for more than two thousand years India is the most populous country in the world and its economy is growing rapidly It is marching ahead in science and technology In the hundredth anniversary of its independence in 2047 it aspires to become a developed nation One should be aware of this country in this globalized world It is not only fascinating but also knowledge enhancing The encyclopaedia holds importance due to several reasons information on a vast range of subjects scientific methodology accuracy and reliability It could be used as a starting point for further research The book will be useful for general readers serious researchers graduate students and academics The Strides of Vishnu Ariel Glucklich, 2008-05-09 Books about Hinduism often begin by noting the immense size and complexity of the subject Hinduism is vast and diverse they say Or it doesn't exist at all Hinduism is merely a convenient and foreign term that masks a plurality of traditions In either case readers are discouraged by the sense that they are getting only a tiny sample or a shallow overview of something huge and impossible to understand This book is designed to be accessible and comprehensive in a way that other introductions are not maintaining an appealing narrative and holding the reader's interest in the unfolding sequence of ideas through time and place Each of the 13 chapters combines historical material with key religious and philosophical ideas supported by substantial quotations from scriptures and other texts The overarching organizational principle is a historical narrative largely grounded in archaeological information Historic places and persons are fleshed out as actors in a narrative about the relation of the sacred to ordinary existence as it is mediated through arts sciences rituals and philosophical ideas Although many books purport to introduce the Hindu tradition this is the only one with a broad historical focus that emphasizes archaeological as well as textual evidence It will nicely complement Vasuda Narayanan's forthcoming introduction which takes the opposite approach of focusing on the lived experience of Hindu believers

Flooded Pasts William Carruthers, 2022-12-15 Flooded Pasts examines a world famous yet critically underexamined event UNESCO's International Campaign to Save the Monuments of Nubia 1960-80 to show how the project its genealogy and its aftermath not only propelled archaeology into the postwar world but also helped to recolonize it In this book William Carruthers asks how postwar decolonization took shape and what role a colonial discipline like archaeology forged in the crucible of imperialism played as the new nations asserted themselves in the face of the global Cold War As the Aswan High Dam became the centerpiece of Gamal Abdel Nasser's Egyptian revolution the Nubian campaign sought to salvage and preserve ancient temples and archaeological sites from the new barrage's floodwaters Conducted in the neighboring regions of Egyptian and Sudanese Nubia the project built on years of Nubian archaeological work conducted under British occupation and influence During that process the campaign drew on the scientific racism that guided those earlier surveys helping to consign Nubians themselves to state led resettlement and modernization programs even as UNESCO created a picturesque archaeological landscape fit for global media and tourist consumption Flooded Pasts describes how colonial archaeological and anthropological practices and particularly their archival and documentary manifestations created an ancient Nubia severed from the region's population As a result the Nubian campaign not only became fundamental to the creation of UNESCO's 1972 World Heritage Convention but also exposed questions about the goals of archaeology and heritage and whether the colonial origins of these fields will ever be overcome

Lubenow, 2020 If objectivity was the great discovery of the nineteenth century uncertainty was the great discovery of the twentieth century Social History of Archaeology Kenneth Hudson, 1981-06-18 What the Wind Saw Zoë Jasko , 2022-04-01 What the Wind Saw is a collection of 25 short stories of the people real and imagined from a small tract of ancient land in the heart of Hertfordshire The wind has always blown over these villages fields rivers its towns and its city It always will We have the same worries fears hopes and dreams today as we have always had We are connected to each other by our shared experiences by the places that we live and by the paths that we tread These are stories of friendship power love grief and ambition inspired by the landscape and what is in it John Bunyan s Cottage Shaw s Corner the annual Ayot St Lawrence art show the Devil s Dyke St Albans market a walk in the woods a walk across the fields Life-writing in the History of Archaeology Gabriel Moshenska, Clare Lewis, 2023-07-10 Life writing is a vital part of the history of archaeology and a growing field of scholarship within the discipline The lives of archaeologists are entangled with histories of museums and collections developments in science and scholarship and narratives of nationalism and colonialism into the present In recent years life writing has played an important role in the surge of new research in the history of archaeology including ground breaking studies of discipline formation institutionalisation and social and intellectual networks Sources such as diaries wills film and the growing body of digital records are powerful tools for highlighting the contributions of hitherto marginalised archaeological lives including many pioneering women hired labourers and other hidden hands This book brings together critical perspectives on life writing in the history of archaeology from leading figures in the field These include studies of archive formation and use the concept of dig writing as a distinctive genre of archaeological creativity and reviews of new sources for already well known lives Several chapters reflect on the experience of life writing review the historiography of the field and assess the intellectual value and significance of life writing as a genre Together they work to problematise underlying assumptions about this genre foregrounding methodology social theory ethics and other practice focused frameworks in conscious tension with previous practices

The Indus Civilization Mortimer Wheeler, 1968-09-02 This book discusses climate and dating of the Indus Valley civilization and Sir Mortimer Wheeler summarizes other contributions to the study

A Brief History of Archaeology Nadia Durrani, Brian M. Fagan, 2016-06-17 This short account of the discipline of archaeology tells of spectacular discoveries and the colorful lives of the archaeologists who made them as well as of changing theories and current debates in the field Spanning over two thousand years of history the book details early digs as well as covering the development of archaeology as a multidisciplinary science the modernization of meticulous excavation methods during the twentieth century and the important discoveries that led to new ideas about the evolution of human societies A Brief History of Archaeology is a vivid narrative that will engage readers who are new to the discipline drawing on the authors extensive experience in the field and classroom Early research at Stonehenge in Britain burial mound excavations and the exploration of Herculaneum and Pompeii culminate in the nineteenth century debates over human antiquity and the theory of evolution The book then moves on to the discovery of the world s pre industrial civilizations in Egypt Mesopotamia and Central America the excavations at Troy and Mycenae the Royal Burials at Ur Iraq and the dramatic finding of the pharaoh Tutankhamun in 1922 The book concludes by considering recent sensational discoveries such as the Lords of Sip n in Peru and exploring the debates over processual and postprocessual theory which have intrigued archaeologists in the early 21st century The second edition updates this respected introduction to one of the sciences most fascinating disciplines

The Oxford Handbook of Roman Britain Martin Millett, Louise Revell, Alison Moore, 2016-08-04 This book provides a twenty first century perspective on Roman Britain combining current approaches with the wealth of archaeological material from the province This volume introduces the history of research into the province and the cultural changes at the beginning and end of the Roman period The majority of the chapters are thematic dealing with issues relating to the people of the province their identities and ways of life Further chapters consider the characteristics of the province they lived in such as the economy and settlement patterns This Handbook reflects the new approaches being developed in Roman archaeology and demonstrates why the study of Roman Britain has become one of the most dynamic areas of archaeology The book will be useful for academics and students interested in Roman Britain

Archaeologists in Print Amara Thornton, 2018-06-25 Archaeologists in Print is a history of popular publishing in archaeology in the nineteenth and twentieth centuries a pivotal period of expansion and development in both archaeology and publishing It examines how British archaeologists produced books and popular periodical articles for a non scholarly audience and explores the rise in archaeologists public visibility Notably it analyses women s experiences in archaeology alongside better known male contemporaries as shown in their books and archives In the background of this narrative is the history of Britain s imperial expansion and contraction and the evolution of modern tourism in the Eastern Mediterranean and Middle East Archaeologists exploited these factors to gain public and financial support and interest and build and maintain a reading public for their work supported by the seasonal nature of excavation and tourism Reinforcing these publishing activities through personal appearances in the lecture hall exhibition space and site tour and in new media film radio and television archaeologists shaped public understanding of archaeology It was spadework scripted The image of the archaeologist as adventurous explorer of foreign lands part spy part foreigner eternally alluring solidified during this period That legacy continues undimmed today Praise for Archaeologists in Print This beautifully written book will be valued by all kinds of readers you don t need to be an archaeologist to enjoy the contents which take you through different publishing histories of archaeological texts and the authors who wrote them From the productive partnership of travel guide with archaeological interest to the women who feature so often in the history of archaeological publishing via closer analysis of the impact of John Murray Macmillan and Co and Penguin this volume excavates layers of fascinating facts that reveal much of the wider culture of the late nineteenth and twentieth centuries The prose is clear and the stories compulsive Thornton brings to life a cast of people whose passion for their profession lives again in these pages Warning the final chapter on Archaeological Fictions will fill your to be read list with stacks of new titles to investigate This is a highly readable accessible exploration into the dynamic relationships between academic authors publishers and readers It is in addition an exemplar of how academic research can attract a wide general readership as well as a more specialised one a stellar combination of rigorous scholarship with lucid pacy prose Highly recommended Samantha Rayner Director of UCL Centre for Publishing Deputy Head of Department and Director of Studies Department of Information Studies UCL

Tessa Verney Wheeler Lydia Carr, 2012-04-26 This volume presents the biography of the archaeologist Tessa Verney Wheeler through an examination of her written work archives sites and photographs as well as through the memories of those who knew her Through a discussion of the very personal life and work of one woman Carr explores the role of women in early British archaeology
