Mortuary Monument And Burial Grounds Of The Historic Period:

Mortuary Monuments and Burial Grounds of the Historic Period H. C. Mytum, 2004 This practical volume focuses on the study of historic burial ground monuments but also covers some below ground archaeology as some projects will involve the study of both It will be an incomparable source for academic archaeologists cultural resource and heritage management archaeologists government heritage agencies and upper level undergraduate and graduate students of archaeology focused on the historic or post medieval period as well as forensic researchers and anthropologists

Mortuary Monuments and Burial Grounds of the Historic Period Harold Mytum, 2012-12-06 Burial grounds strike an immediate chord with all who visit them They are land scapes full of pathos and cultural associations which many find attractive though a minority feel are too morbid to deserve detailed attention This book is designed to offer a framework for studying historic burial ground monuments and contains a certain amount of information regarding below ground archaeology as some projects will involve the study of both Moreover from a research perspective above and below ground archaeology together can throw considerable light on the process of dying body disposal and commemoration that formed a continuum for those involved However the more easily accessible graveyard memorials can be used to study many aspects of past culture beyond that directly associated with death and they are the focus of the book Most people who become interested in historic graveyard memorials come to the subject via the material itself Only rarely does a research question get posed and graveyard data seem like an appropriate arena for investigation This has the advantage that many researchers have some ideas about the data available but the disadvantage that they may not have clear questions to ask of it nor how to set their discoveries in a wider intellectual context

Death Across Oceans: Archaeology of Coffins and Vaults in Britain, America, and Australia Harold Mytum, Laurie Burgess, 2018-08-07 Death Across Oceans Archaeology of Coffins and Vaults in Britain America and Australia brings together the leading researchers in historic mortuary practice from Britain North America and Australia It is the first book dedicated to the material culture associated with burial in the historic English speaking world It combines reflections and evaluations from the pioneer scholars who initiated research in this field during the 1980s with studies by young scholars now pushing the research into a new and wider range of issues This volume will be the seminal work in this field for some time providing key analyses and essential bibliographic routes into site specific literature and setting the research agenda for the future

The Culture and Art of Death in 19th Century America D. Tulla Lightfoot, 2019-03-11 Nineteenth century Victorian era mourning rituals long and elaborate public funerals the wearing of lavishly somber mourning clothes and families posing for portraits with deceased loved ones are often depicted as bizarre or scary But behind many such customs were rational or spiritual meanings This book offers an in depth explanation at how death affected American society and the creative ways in which people responded to it The author discusses such topics as mediums as performance artists and postmortem painters and photographers and draws a connection between death and the emergence of three dimensional media

New Jersey Cemeteries and Tombstones Richard F. Veit, Mark Nonestied, 2008-09-17

From the earliest memorials used by Native Americans to the elaborate structures of the present day Richard Veit and Mark Nonestied use grave markers to take an off beat look at New Jersey s history that is both fascinating and unique New Jersey Cemeteries and Tombstones presents a culturally diverse account of New Jersey s historic burial places from High Point to Cape May and from the banks of the Delaware to the ocean washed Shore to explain what cemeteries tell us about people and the communities in which they lived The evidence ranges from somber seventeenth century decorations such as hourglasses and skulls that denoted the brevity of colonial life to modern times where memorials such as a life size granite Mercedes Benz reflect the materialism of the new millennium Also considered are contemporary novelties such as pet cemeteries and what they reveal about today s culture To tell their story the authors visited more than 1 000 burial grounds and interviewed numerous monument dealers and cemetarians This richly illustrated book is essential reading for history buffs and indeed anyone who has ever wandered inquisitively through their local cemeteries

Death and Burial in Socialist Yugoslavia Carol S. Lilly, 2024-02-08 Across the globe memorial and grave sites are being increasingly weaponized in conflicts and politicized by parties to advance agendas Here Carol S Lilly examines ideas of death politics memory ideology and nationalism in the former Yugoslav republics of Bosnia Hercegovina Croatia and Serbia to shine fresh light on cemetery culture in 20th century Europe More specifically Death and Burial in Socialist Yugoslavia argues that while the CPY created its own communities of the dead in postwar Partisan Cemeteries it failed to do the same for civilian cemeteries in ways that might reinforce its ideals of secularism pluralism and brotherhood and unity Moreover the communist regime left the previous system of ethno religious segregation in place further isolating Catholics Orthodox Muslims and Jews who continued to be buried in separate locations Finally it explicitly politicized burial rites and grave markers making cemeteries into legitimate spaces of political discourse As a result by the time Yugoslavia disintegrated in the early 1990s dead bodies and cemeteries had become a concerted weapon of war in the ongoing ethnic conflict Ultimately then this timely study reveals for the first time the extent to which the communist regime not only failed to created their own communities of the dead but also further divided and alienated living communities in Yugoslavia

The Vital Dead Alison Bell, Alison, Kay Bell, 2022 This book builds on recent anthropological work to explore the social and cultural dynamics of cemetery practice and its transformation over generations in Virginia s Shenandoah Valley Anthropologist Alison Bell finds that people are using material culture images and epitaphs on grave markers as well as objects they leave on graves to assert and maintain relationships and fight against alienation She draws on fieldwork interviews archival sources and disciplinary insights to show how cemeteries both reveal and participate in the grassroots cultural work of crafting social connections assessing the transcendental durability of the deceased person and asserting particular cultural values The book s chapters range across cemetery types focusing on African American burials grave sites of institutionalized individuals and modern community memorials      The Cambridge Companion to Historical Archaeology Dan Hicks, Mary C. Beaudry, 2006-10-26 The Cambridge Companion to Historical Archaeology provides an overview of the international field of historical archaeology c AD 1500 to the present through seventeen specially commissioned essays from leading researchers in the field The volume explores key themes in historical archaeology including documentary archaeology the writing of historical archaeology colonialism capitalism industrial archaeology maritime archaeology cultural resource management and urban archaeology Three special sections explore the distinctive contributions of material culture studies landscape archaeology and the archaeology of buildings and the household Drawing on case studies from North America Europe Australasia Africa and around the world the volume captures the breadth and diversity of contemporary historical archaeology considers archaeology's relationship with history cultural anthropology and other periods of archaeological study and provides clear introductions to alternative conceptions of the field This book is essential reading for anyone studying or researching the material remains of the recent past      The Archaeology of Post-medieval Religion Chris King, Duncan Sayer, 2011 Evidence gleaned from archaeology sheds dramatic new light on religious practices and identities between the later sixteenth and the nineteenth centuries The post medieval period was one of profound religious and cultural change of sometimes violent religious conflict and of a dramatic growth in religious pluralism The essays collected here in what is the first book to focus on the material evidence demonstrate the significant contribution that archaeology can make to a deeper understanding of religion They take a broad interdisciplinary approach to the spatial and material context of religious life using buildings and landscapes religious objects and excavated cemeteries alongside cartographic and documentary sources to reveal the complexity of religious practices and identities in varied regions of post medieval Britain Europe and the wider world Topics covered include the transformation of religious buildings and landscapes in the centuries after the European Reformation the role of religious minorities and immigrant groups in early modern cities the architectural and landscape context of eighteenth and nineteenth century nonconformity and the development of post medieval burial practices and funerary customs Offering a unique perspective on the material remains of the post medieval period this volume will be of significant value to archaeologists and historians interested in the religious and cultural transformation of the early modern world Contributors Chris King Duncan Sayer Andrew Spicer Philippa Woodcock Matthias Range Simon Roffey Greig Parker Jeremy Lake Eric Berry Peter Herring Claire Strachan Peter Benes Diana Mahoney Swales Richard O'Neill Hugh Willmott Natasha Powers Adrian Miles Anwen Cedifor Caffell Rachel Clarke Rosie Morris      Stories in Stone: Memorialization, the Creation of History and the Role of Preservation Emily Williams, 2020-10-06 In 1866 Alexander Dunlop a free black living in Williamsburg Virginia did three unusual things He had an audience with the President of the United States testified in front of the Joint Congressional Committee on Reconstruction and he purchased a tombstone for his wife Lucy Ann Dunlop Purchases of this sort were rarities among Virginia's free black community and this particular gravestone is made more significant by Dunlop's choice of words his political advocacy and the racialized rhetoric of the period Carved by a pair of Richmond based carvers who like many other Southern monument makers contributed to celebrating and mythologizing the Lost Cause in the wake of the Civil War Lucy Ann's tombstone is a powerful statement of Dunlop's belief in the worth of all men and his hopes for the future Buried in 1925 by the white members of a church congregation and again in the 1960s by the Colonial Williamsburg Foundation the tombstone was excavated in 2003 Analysis conservation and long term interpretation were undertaken by the Foundation in partnership with the community of the First Baptist Church a historically black church within which Alexander Dunlop was a leader Stories in Stone Memorialization the Creation of History and the Role of Preservation examines the story of the tombstone through a blend of object biography and micro historical approaches and contrasts it with other memory projects like the remembrance of the Civil War dead Data from a regional survey of nineteenth century cemeteries historical accounts literary sources and the visual arts are woven together to explore the agentive relationships between monuments their commissioners their creators and their viewers and the ways in which memory is created and contested and how this impacts the history we learn and preserve Daisy Wheel, Hexfoil, Hexafoil, Rosette

Robyn S. Lacy, 2024-09-01 The use of protective symbols also known as apotropaic marks are often part of folk magic traditions appearing in homes churches on personal items and even graves across Europe Australia and North America The most common and well known of these marks is the hexfoil otherwise known as the daisy wheel witch hex or rosette Hexfoils have a history of use for personal protection and were carved both intentionally or graffitied into church pews and walls bed frames doors and gravestones This research sheds light on the use of this historic symbol to protect the bodies and souls of the deceased across several thousand years and multiple countries Archaeology and History in Roman, Medieval and Post-Medieval Greece

Linda Jones Hall, 2016-12-05 The essays in Archaeology and History in Roman Medieval and Post Medieval Greece honor the contributions of Timothy E Gregory to our understanding of Greece from the Roman period to modern times Evoking Gregory's diverse interests the volume brings together anthropologists art historians archaeologists historians and philologists to address such contested topics as the end of Antiquity the so called Byzantine Dark Ages the contours of the emerging Byzantine civilization and identity in post Medieval Greece These papers demonstrate the continued vitality of both traditional and innovative approaches to the study of material culture and emphasise that historical interpretation should be the product of methodological self awareness In particular this volume shows how the study of the material culture of post Classical Greece over the last 30 years has made significant contributions to both the larger archaeological and historical discourse The essays in this volume are organized under three headings Archaeology and Method the Archaeology of Identity and the Changing Landscape which highlight three main focuses of Gregory's research Each essay interlaces new analyses with the contributions Gregory has made to our understanding of Medieval and Post Medieval Greece Read together these essays not only make a significant contribution to how we understand the post Classical Greek world but also to how we study the material culture of the Mediterranean world more broadly

Cemeteries and the Life of a Smoky Mountain Community Gary S. Foster, William E. Lovekamp, 2019-07-04 In one of the few studies to draw upon cemetery data to reconstruct the social organization social change and community composition of a specific area this volume contributes to the growing body of sociohistorical examinations of Appalachia The authors herein reconstruct the Cades Cove community in the Great Smoky Mountains of Tennessee USA a mountain community from circa 1818 to 1939 whose demise can be traced to the establishment of the Great Smoky Mountains National Park By supplementing a statistical analysis of Cades Cove s twenty seven cemeteries completed as a National Park Study GRSM 01120 with ethnographic examination the authors reconstruct the community in detail to reveal previously overlooked social patterns and interactions including insight into the death culture and death lore of the Upland South This work establishes cemeteries as window into proxies of communities demonstrating the relevance of socio demographic data presented by statistical and other analyses of gravestones for Appalachian Studies Regional Studies Cemetery Studies and Sociology and Anthropology

The Routledge Handbook of Material Culture in Early Modern Europe Catherine Richardson, Tara Hamling, David Gaimster, 2016-09-13 The Routledge Handbook of Material Culture in Early Modern Europe marks the arrival of early modern material culture studies as a vibrant fully established field of multi disciplinary research The volume provides a rounded accessible collection of work on the nature and significance of materiality in early modern Europe a term that embraces a vast range of objects as well as addressing a wide variety of human interactions with their physical environments This stimulating view of materiality is distinctive in asking questions about the whole material world as a context for lived experience and the book considers material interactions at all social levels There are 27 chapters by leading experts as well as 13 feature object studies to highlight specific items that have survived from this period defined broadly as c 1500 c 1800 These contributions explore the things people acquired owned treasured displayed and discarded the spaces in which people used and thought about things the social relationships which cluster around goods between producers vendors and consumers of various kinds and the way knowledge travels around those circuits of connection The content also engages with wider issues such as the relationship between public and private life the changing connections between the sacred and the profane or the effects of gender and social status upon lived experience Constructed as an accessible wide ranging guide to research practice the book describes and represents the methods which have been developed within various disciplines for analysing pre modern material culture It comprises four sections which open up the approaches of various disciplines to non specialists Definitions disciplines new directions Contexts and categories Object studies and Material culture in action This volume addresses the need for sustained coherent comment on the state breadth and potential of this lively new field including the work of historians art historians museum curators archaeologists social scientists and literary scholars It consolidates and communicates recent developments and considers how we might take forward a multi disciplinary research agenda for the study of material culture in periods before the mass production of goods

The Oxford Handbook of Later Medieval Archaeology in Britain Christopher Gerrard,Alejandra Gutiérrez,2018-01-11 The Middle Ages are all around us in Britain The Tower of London and the castles of Scotland and Wales are mainstays of cultural tourism and an inspiring cross section of later medieval finds can now be seen on display in museums across England Scotland and Wales Medieval institutions from Parliament and monarchy to universities are familiar to us and we come into contact with the later Middle Ages every day when we drive through a village or town look up at the castle on the hill visit a local church or wonder about the earthworks in the fields we see from the window of a train The Oxford Handbook of Later Medieval Archaeology in Britain provides an overview of the archaeology of the later Middle Ages in Britain between AD 1066 and 1550 61 entries divided into 10 thematic sections cover topics ranging from later medieval objects human remains archaeological science standing buildings and sites such as castles and monasteries to the well preserved relict landscapes which still survive This is a rich and exciting period of the past and most of what we have learnt about the material culture of our medieval past has been discovered in the past two generations This volume provides comprehensive coverage of the latest research and describes the major projects and concepts that are changing our understanding of our medieval heritage

The Materiality of Ancient Greek Identities, 9th to 2nd Centuries BCE Emma Gooch,Jerome Ruddick,2025-08-07 Material culture is the physical trace of what was used to construct and define identities in the past and is therefore a key source of evidence for archaeologists and ancient historians investigating ancient identities The focus of this volume is reflective of broader theoretical and methodological shifts in recent cross disciplinary explorations of identity Through the use of case studies each chapter demonstrates the benefits and crucial need to embrace inter and multi disciplinary approaches when investigating life and society in ancient Greece In particular this book covers the ever increasing spectrum of identities across the ancient Greek world ranging from collective groups such as women migrants children and slaves to individual figures Using archaeological iconographic and textual material as the basis of each exploration the contributors seek to understand the intersectional nature of what it meant to be an individual or group within a recognised social identity in ancient Greece More specifically this involves the analysis of various types of material culture such as artefacts from burials excavated settlements figurines statuary painted pottery small finds and monuments The contributors study the material using geo spatial and architectural methods along with more traditional approaches such as epigraphy Among other conclusions the chapters investigate the experiences of identity what the experience of having a particular identity was like as far as we can ascertain in ancient Greece as represented by the archaeological material record

Archaeologies of Slavery and Freedom in the Caribbean Lynsey A. Bates, John M. Chenoweth, James A. Delle, 2018-09-12 While the patterns of habitation and development are similar throughout the Caribbean there was also a great deal of diversity The authors in this volume use innovative techniques and perspectives to reveal the stories of places and times where the usual rules did not always apply

Cities in the World: 1500-2000: v. 3 Adrian Green, 2018-12-13 Papers presented at the Cities in the World conference held at Southampton University and organised through the Society for Post Medieval Archaeology challenged the commonly held perception that cities are about the present and the future not about the past All cities have an innate sense of the past and this volume encompassing as it does

The Archaeology of Death in Post-medieval Europe Sarah Tarlow, 2015-01-01 Historical burial grounds are an enormous archaeological resource and have the potential to inform studies not only of demography or the history of disease and mortality but also histories of the body of religious and other beliefs about death of changing social relationships values and aspirations In the last decades the intensive urban development and a widespread legal requirement to undertake archaeological excavation of historical sites has led to a massive increase in the number of post medieval graveyards and burial places that have been subjected to archaeological investigation The archaeology of the more recent periods which are comparatively well documented is no less interesting and important an area of study than prehistoric periods This volume offers a range of case studies and reflections on aspects of death and burial in post medieval Europe Looking at burial goods the spatial aspects of cemetery organisation and the way that the living interact with the dead contributors who have worked on sites from Central North and West Europe present some of their evidence and ideas The coherence of the volume is maintained by a substantial integrative introduction by the editor Professor Sarah Tarlow This book is a first and a necessary one It is an exciting and far ranging collection of studies on post medieval burial practice across Europe that will most certainly be used extensively Professor Howard Williams
