Mosheh Almosnino Of Salonikahis Life Work:

Living in the Ottoman Ecumenical Community Markus Koller,Vera Costantini,2008-07-31 This book dedicated to Suraiya Faruqi shows that the early modern world was not only characterized by its having been split up into states with closed frontiers Writing history from the bottom by treating the Ottoman Empire and other countries as subjects of history reduces the importance of political borders for doing historical research Each social economic and religious group had its own world view and in most of the cases the borders of these communities were not identical with the political frontiers Regarding the Ottoman Empire and the other early modern states as systems of different ecumenical communities rather than only as political units offers a different approach to a better understanding of the various ways in which their subjects interacted In this context the term ecumenical community designates social religious and economic groups building up cross border communities Different ecumenical communities overlapped within the boundaries of a state or in a specific area and gave them their distinctive characters This festschrift for Suraiya Faruqi aims to describe some of the close contacts between various ecumenical communities within and beyond the Ottoman borders A History of the Jewish Community in Istanbul Minna Rozen,2010-10-15 This volume presents the transformation of the Greek speaking Jewish community of Byzantine Constantinople into an Ottoman ethnically diversified immigrant community As the Ottomans influenced its cultural and social values the community strived to preserve its boundaries with the surrounding society Conduct of Life, volume 1 Moses Almosnino,Jean Pierre Rothschild,Walter Hilliger,2023-07-05 The major work of Rabbi Moses Almosnino 1515 1580 Conduct of Life remains to this day an essential reference in classical Judeo Spanish literature now finally available in English in its first translation First published in Ladino in 1564 as Sefer Hanhagat ha hayim In 1729 as Reghimiento de la vyida this three volume edition is part of the prestigious collection Veritas terra orietur The introduction by Jean Pierre Rothschild Director of Research at CNRS and Director of Studies at EPHE specializing in medieval philosophy enlightens the reader on the foundations and stakes of the work The first volume aims to provide practical advice for leading a good life from an early age It emphasizes the distinction between spiritual physical and external goods Volume 1 chapters 1 3 including suggestions on dietary habits sleep and waking going to bed and getting up walking and sitting speaking and silence chapters 4 10 the four types of discourse and why the righteous die young chapter 11 Finally it addresses questions on eschatology classical philosophy and theodicy chapters 12 14 Conduct of Life draws heavily from the Nicomachean Ethics but transcends this source by situating itself at the universal intersection of several traditions Greco Arabic philosophy Judeo Christian scholasticism classical Sephardic Judaism and medieval Jewish thought Thus this work contributes to peace and intercultural understanding among peoples The Power of Psalms in Post-Biblical Judaism ,2023-09-14 The powerful poetry of the Hebrew Psalms articulates a unique range of experience even in translation They explore the deepest concerns of individuals and communities They are central to the performance of religion for both Jews and Christians New discoveries

such as the famous Dead Sea Scrolls have transformed our view of their role in Judaism as has modern re evaluation of the complicated relationship between Judaism and Christianity Here a group of leading scholars sheds fresh light on the uses of the Psalms in post biblical Jewish life in a multi cultural world Jews and Blacks in the Early Modern World Jonathan Schorsch,2004-04-12 This book offers the first in depth treatment of Jewish images of and behavior toward Blacks during the period of peak Jewish involvement in Atlantic slave holding Claude Jutra Jim Leach,1999 Claude Jutra best known as the director of Mon oncle Antoine has been widely acclaimed as one of Canada s premier filmmakers Despite this there has been surprisingly little critical writing about his work and the context in which it was created and viewed Jutra was a Quebec nationalist and both he and his films were shaped by the changes in Quebec society during the Quiet Revolution and by the political tensions of the sixties and seventies Though he died in 1986 his films still have much to tell us about Canadian cinema and the ongoing debates on Canadian and Quebec nationhood Book jacket The Beginnings of Ladino Literature Olga Borovaya,2017-03-13 Moses Almosnino 1518 1580 arguably the most famous Ottoman Sephardi writer and the only one who was known in Europe to both Jews and Christians became renowned for his vernacular books that were admired by Ladino readers across many generations While Almosnino s works were written in a style similar to contemporaneous Castilian Olga Borovaya makes a strong argument for including them in the corpus of Ladino Judeo Spanish literature Borovaya suggests that the history of Ladino literature begins at least 200 years earlier than previously believed and that Ladino like most other languages had more than one functional style With careful historical work Borovaya establishes a new framework for thinking about Ladino language and literature and the early history of European print culture Between Sepharad and Jerusalem Alisa Meyuhas Ginio,2014-10-16 Sephardim are the descendants of the Jews expelled from the lands of the Iberian Peninsula in the years 1492 1498 who settled down in the Mediterranean basin The identifying sign of the Sephardim has been until the middle of the twentieth century the language known as Jewish Spanish The history identity and memory of the Sephardim in their Mediterranean dispersal are analysed by the author with a special reference to the Sephardi community of Jerusalem and to the cultural and social changes that characterized the late nineteenth century and the first half of the twentieth century However because of the crucial changes related to modernization and the political circumstances that came into being at the turn of the nineteenth century and the first half of the twentieth century the Sephardim lost their unique identity Happiness in Premodern Judaism Hava Tirosh-Samuelson,2003-12-31 It is not common to think that Jews were interested in happiness or that Judaism has anything to say about happiness On the contrary the concept of happiness was a central concern of Jewish thinkers Hava Tirosh Samuelson shows that rabbinic Judaism regarded itself primarily as a prescription for the attainment of happiness and that the discourse on happiness captures the evolution of Jewish intellectual history from antiquity to the seventeenth century These claims make sense if one understands happiness as human flourishing on the basis of Aristotle s thought in the Nicomachean Ethics Linking virtue knowledge and well being Aristotle s analysis of happiness can be traced in Jewish understanding of human flourishing as early as the Greco Roman world but the fusion of Greek and Judaic perspectives on happiness reached its zenith in in the Middle Ages in the thought of Moses Maimonides and his followers Even the controversies about Maimonides ideas could be viewed as discussions about the meaning of happiness and the way to attain it within Judaism Much of this book then concerns the reception of Aristotle s Ethics in medieval Jewish philosophy This book shows how a certain notion of happiness reflects the intellectual culture of a given period including cultural exchanges among Judaism Islam and Christianity Demonstrating the discourse on happiness as a dramatic interplay between Wisdom and Torah between philosophy and religion between reason and faith Hava Tirosh Samuelson presents to specialists and non specialists alike a fascinating tour of Jewish intellectual history

Corrective and Distributive Justice Izhak Englard,2009 Corrective and Distributive Justice From Aristotle to Modern Times retraces the intricate history of the distinction between corrective and distributive justice This distinction is elaborated in the 5th book of Aristotle s Nicomachean Ethics which was rediscovered in Western Europe in the 12th and 13th centuries by the Scholastics and turned into a central topic in legal and theological scholarship After a decline of interest in the wake of the enlightenment and secularization a surprising revival of these notions of justice occurred in U S legal and philosophical discourse during the last four decades that has made this distinction a central issue in tort law restitution and other important fields of private and public law In literally hundreds of articles and a considerable number of books the Aristotelian distinction has been elaborated discussed and applied Englard s unique contribution to this aspect of legal history grants the contemporary reader a historical perspective that is vital for a deepened understanding of the distinction and modern concerns Organized chronologically Englard s research covers Aristotle High Scholastics Late Scholastics Post Scholastics and Modernity The relevant literature is notoriously difficult to access not only because of its Latin language but because of the physical rarity of the relevant books scattered throughout the world This book offers the modern reader a touchstone synthesis of intellectual and legal history

The Posen Library of Jewish Culture and Civilization, Volume 5 Posen Library of Jewish culture and civilization (Lucerne, Switzerland),2023-03-21 The fifth volume of the Posen Library demonstrates through a rich array of texts and images the extraordinary diversity of Jewish life during the early modern period A rich and varied gateway into the primary source material of early modern Jewish history that is very strong on geographical diversity A magnificent achievement Adam Sutcliffe King s College London The Posen Library of Jewish Culture and Civilization Volume 5 covering the early modern period 1500 1750 presents a variety of Jewish texts to demonstrate the diversity of Jewish culture and life These texts originate from Eastern and Western Europe the Americas the Ottoman Empire North Africa Kurdistan Persia Yemen India in short a worldwide diaspora They embrace historical writing and religious scholarship liturgical expression and economic records ethics and personal devotion correspondence and communal regulations art and music architecture and poetry The simultaneous centrifugal and centripetal character of Jewish communities during this era illustrates the distinctiveness of the early modern period in Jewish history and informs developments in world history at large Including texts written by women a robust collection of images and extensive material not previously accessible to English language readers this volume is rich deep and enlightening Jewish Translation History Robert Singerman, 2002-01-01 A classified bibliographic resource for tracing the history of Jewish translation activity from the Middle Ages to the present day providing the researcher with over a thousand entries devoted solely to the Jewish role in the east to west transmission of Greek and Arab learning and science into Latin or Hebrew Other major sections extend the coverage to modern times taking special note of the absorption of European literature into the Jewish cultural orbit via Hebrew Yiddish or Judezmo translations for instance or the translation and reception of Jewish literature written in Jewish languages into other languages such as Arabic English French German or Russian This polyglot bibliography the first of its kind contains over 2 600 entries is enhanced by a vast number of additional bibliographic notes leading to reviews and related resources and is accompanied by both an author and a subject index Jews in the Realm of the Sultans Yaron Ben-Naeh, 2008 Jewish society in the Ottoman Empire has not been the subject of systematic research The seventeenth century is the main object of this study since it was a formative era For Ottoman Jews the Ottoman century constituted an era of gradual acculturation to changing reality parallel to the changing character of the Ottoman state Continuous changes and developments shaped anew the character of this Jewry the core of what would later become known as Sephardi Jewry Yaron Ben Naeh draws from primary and secondary Hebrew Ottoman and European sources the image of Jewish society in the Ottoman Empire In the chapters he leads the reader from the overall urban framework to individual aspects Beginning with the physical environment he moves on to discuss their relationships with the majority society followed by a description and analysis of the congregation its organization and structure and from there to the character of Ottoman Jewish society and its nuclear cell the family Special emphasis is placed throughout the work on the interaction with Muslim society and the resulting acculturation that affected all aspects and all levels of Jewish life in the Empire In this the author challenges the widespread view that sees this community as being stagnant and self segregated as well as the accepted concept of a traditional Jewish society under Islam Empire from the Margins Martin Jacobs, 2025-07-15 The writings of three early modern Jewish historians highlight the divided allegiances of a Jewish diaspora living in and between the Spanish and Ottoman empires In 1492 the year that marked the start of Spain s transatlantic expansion the Spanish monarchs expelled their Jewish subjects and triggered a mass Jewish migration to the lands of the Ottoman empire But while the rise of these rival empires had tremendous impact on the Jewish population s geography the historical accounts of contemporary Jews have remained peripheral to the study of early modern imperialism In Empire from the Margins Martin Jacobs seeks to understand how the history of empires appears through the lens of marginalized communities and to explore how Jews responded to Spanish and Ottoman imperial expansion He approaches this history through the Hebrew chronicles of three sixteenth and seventeenth century Jewish authors Elijah Capsali of Crete Joseph ha Kohen of Genoa and Joseph Sambari of Cairo all lived in early modern hubs with global connections and in unusual detail for premodern Jewish historians they described how the Spanish and Ottoman empires redrew the political cultural and religious map of the Mediterranean region while simultaneously transforming the transatlantic world As Jews these writers belonged to an ethno religious minority within the Mediterranean basin where the Spanish and Ottoman empires were centered and from here they expressed marginalized views on the Spanish and Ottoman regimes At the same time these Jewish authors belonged to Jewish networks that transcended imperial boundaries and they voiced conflicting loyalties between different authorities and cultures And Jacobs shows that in writing about the Spanish and Ottoman expansion these authors also grappled with the Jews precarious position in their host societies and their own multilayered identities Their shifting positionalities illuminate the divided allegiances of a Jewish diaspora living in and between competing empires

Islamische Geschichte in jüdischen Chroniken
Martin Jacobs, 2004 English summary Differing from early modern Christian historiography contemporary Jewish authors painted an idealized picture of Muslim rulers as Martin Jacobs shows in his analysis of 16th and 17th century Hebrew chronicles At the same time he discusses whether Jewish historical writing of that time continued in the medieval tradition or echoed Renaissance patterns German description Das moderne christliche Bild des Islam als kriegerische Religion hat eine seiner Wurzeln in der eTurkenliteratur der fruhen Neuzeit Wahrend die christliche Geschichtsschreibung uber den Islam bereits erforscht ist legt Martin Jacobs hier die erste Untersuchung vergleichbarer judischer Literatur des 16 und 17 Jahrhunderts vor Im Mittelpunkt dieser Studie stehen die hebraischen Chroniken von Eliyahu Capsali Yosef ha Kohen und Yosef Sambari welche eine detaillierte Darstellung islamischer Geschichte von Muhammad bis zu den osmanischen Sultanen bieten Zwei der genannten Autoren lebten im italienischen Kulturraum und neigten zur Idealisierung muslimischer Herrscher Die dritte aus dem Osmanischen Reich stammende Chronik schlagt hingegen polemische Tone gegenüber dem Islam an In diesem Zusammenhang erortert Martin Jacobs die von den judischen Chronisten gebrauchten Quellen die teils christlichen teils islamischen Ursprungs sind Daruber hinaus diskutiert er die Frage ob die genannten Werke einen Neuanfang in der judischen Historiographie darstellen oder das mittelalterliche Erbe fortsetzen
