RAF Canberra Units of the Cold War Andrew Brookes, 2014-06-20 A detailed history of the Canberra which saw considerable service as a photo reconnaissance platform for no fewer than 19 squadrons from the early 1950s through to 2006 From its first public demonstration at the Farnborough Airshow of 1949 the English Electric Canberra bomber captured the attention of the aviation world It could outmanoeuvre all the fighters of the time and it could climb way above their operating ceilings Yet this Cold War equivalent of the Mosquito was simple to maintain and a delight to fly although it could bite any pilot who did not treat it with respect The Canberra B 2 first flew on 21 April 1950 and entered frontline service with No 101 Sqn in May 1951 In a testament to the aircraft's benign handling characteristics the transition programme consisted of only 20 hours in the Gloster Meteor and three hours in the dual control Canberra trainer With a maximum speed of 470 knots 871 km/h a standard service ceiling of 48 000 ft 14 600 m and the ability to carry a 3.6 tonne 7 900 lb payload the Canberra was an instant success Here is its story

Jane's Fighting Aircraft of World War II Leonard Bridgman, 1989 This edition of Jane's fighting aircraft presents photographs line drawings and data tables for all of the many aircraft types that took part in World War II including those of Germany Italy and Japan Inside front cover

Through the Eyes of the World's Fighter Aces Robert Jackson, 2007-11-13 This is the story of the fighter aces who flew throughout the war in many different operational theatres The book opens with the first Polish Aces during the German invasion and continues with Finland's pilots in the Winter War against the Soviets There follows the battle for France with the experiences of RAF Luftwaffe and French Aces and then the legendary Battle of Britain North Africa became a critical area together with the heroic defense of Malta and air battles over Greece and the Balkans that were fought in 1941 The Eastern front opened with operation Barbarossa where German aces were created by the dozen flying superior aircraft against an ill trained Soviet air force and then in the north when pilots battle for air supremacy over Leningrad and the Russian seaports When Japan entered the fray in 1942 their first aces flew over Singapore Java and Sumatra and the early US Marine aces earned their spurs at Guadalcanal Back in Europe RAF fighter pilots were taking the war to the enemy and in the southern theatre the desert and Balkan air forces struck into the southern belly of the Reich After D Day British and American fighter units supported the Allied land advance and also defended London against Hitler's V 1s whilst in the east Soviet aces battled over Berlin In the closing stages of the war Germany introduced its first jet fighter aces and then finally in the days before the atomic bombs we read of the Japanese aces flying in desperate defense of their homeland as it comes under air attack for the first time Operation

Oyster World War II's Forgotten Raid Kees Rijken,Paul Schepers,Arthur G. Thorning,2014-08-15 Operation Oyster was carried out on the 6th December 1942 by 2 Group RAF Considered to be a notable success for the allies it cost the Germans an estimated six months of lost production time at a critical point in the conflict It is arguable according to the authors that the operation was in fact rather more significant than Operation Chastise the Dambuster raid while accepting that was a remarkable feat of arms Operation Oyster struck at the very heart of what Churchill termed the wizard war against German radio navigational technology by attacking a central hub of activity the Philips Radio Works in Eindhoven The Netherlands The development of electronics in WWII was the most significant technical aspect of weaponry over the course of the conflict On both sides there were great advances in radar and communications which at that time depended on the wide scale use of high frequency radio valves few companies had the technology to produce these but the leading one in Europe was Philips in Eindhoven Thus it was determined that Philips was the most important target Ninety three allied aircraft took part and a total of fourteen were lost But the result in terms of damages to the enemy was considerable hindering the German war effort significantly and consequently aiding the allies Despite these facts however the story of the raid has been underreported and the efforts of the aircrew who took part have been little recognized By comparison the Dambuster raid which came six months later has entered into folklore Here for the first time the overlooked Oyster raid is afforded the attention it deserves Flying Magazine ,1952-03 Air Force Magazine ,2003 Jane's Fighting Aircraft of World War II ,1989 This book presents photographs line drawings and data tables for all of the many aircraft types that took part in World War II
