Making Camp Helene A. Shugart, Catherine Egley Waggoner, 2008-04-15 The rhetorical power of camp in American popular culture Making Camp examines the rhetoric and conventions of camp in contemporary popular culture and the ways it both subverts and is co-opted by mainstream ideology and discourse especially as it pertains to issues of gender and sexuality Camp has long been aligned with gay male culture and performance Helene Shugart and Catherine Waggoner contend that camp in the popular media whether visual dramatic or musical is equally pervasive While aesthetic and performative in nature the authors argue that camp female camp in particular is also highly political and that conventions of femininity and female sexuality are negotiated if not always resisted in female camp performances. The authors draw on a wide range of references and figures representative of camp both historical and contemporary in presenting the evolution of female camp and its negotiation of gender political and identity issues Antecedents such as Joan Crawford Wonder Woman Marilyn Monroe and Pam Grier are discussed as archetypes for contemporary popular culture figures Macy Gray Gwen Stefani and the characters of Xena from Xena Warrior Princess and Karen Walker from Will Grace Shugart and Waggoner find that these and other female camp performances are liminal occupying a space between conformity and resistance The result is a study that demonstrates the prevalence of camp as a historical and evolving phenomenon in popular culture its role as a site for the rupture of conventional notions of gender and sexuality and how camp is configured in mainstream culture and in ways that resist its being reduced to merely a style Extravagant Camp Chris A. Eng, 2025-02-04 Illuminates an Asian American genealogy of gueer camp performances that irreverently restages key scenes of historical violence the camps In Between Subjects Amelia Jones, 2020-11-09 This volume is a study of the connected ideas of queer and gender performance or performativity over the past several decades providing an ambitious history and crucial examination of these concepts while questioning their very bases Addressing cultural forms from 1960s 70s sociology performance art and drag queen balls to more recent queer voguing performances by Pasifika and M ori people from New Zealand and pop culture television shows such as RuPaul s Drag Race the book traces how and why queer and performativity seem to belong together in so many discussions around identity popular modes of gender display and performance art Drawing on art history and performance studies but also on feminist queer and sexuality studies and postcolonial indigenous and critical race theoretical frameworks it seeks to denaturalize these assumptions by questioning the US centrism and white dominance of discourses around queer performance or performativity. The book s narrative is deliberately recursive itself articulated in order performatively to demonstrate the specific valence and social context of each concept as it emerged but also the overlap and interrelation among the terms as they have come to co constitute one another in popular culture and in performance and visual arts theory history and practice Written from a hybrid art historical and performance studies point of view this will be essential reading for all those interested in art performance and gender as well as in queer and feminist The Un-Natural State Brock Thompson, 2010-10-01 This is a study of gay and lesbian life in Arkansas in the theory twentieth century a deft weaving together of Arkansas history dozens of oral histories and Brock Thompson's own story Out in Theory Ellen Lewin, William L.
