The Adopted Child Comes of Age Lois Raynor,2021-11-07 How do adoptions really turn out How do adopted children feel about the family they were given and the opportunities they were offered To what extent do they fulfil their new parents expectations of them And does it matter whether their adoption grew out of a fostering relationship or was considered right from the start as a permanent arrangement Originally published in 1980 the major follow up study on which this book is based sought to answer these questions The research involved 160 sets of parents and over 100 of their adopted children now young adults This was in fact the largest group of adult adoptees anywhere in the world to be interviewed and studied in a systematic way As they look back over their life together the parents and the young people explain what adopting or being adopted was like for them This title offers glimpses of adoptive family life over a period of more than twenty years compares the views of the young people with those of their adopters and measures the factors which influenced the various outcomes Particular attention is paid to the basis on which the child was originally placed in order to shed light on the controversial subject at the time of whether a preliminary fostering period represents a useful safeguard The information gathered by Lois Raynor and her colleagues provided the feedback so long sought by social work teachers and by those practising social workers who had the responsibility for making long term plans for children and for approving foster home or adoption applications at the time Readers with personal experience of adoption will be interested in making their own comparisons while prospective adopters will learn to avoid some pitfalls and to enjoy an adopted child as their own Adoptees Comeof Age Ronald J. Nydam,1999-01-01 Ronald Nydam acquaints the pastoral counselor with some of the struggles that adopted people confront in their development and in their adult lives Drawn from the compelling stories of people who have been adopted this book provides an intelligent and accessible description of the distinct emotional and spiritual challenges faced by adoptees and their families The purpose of the Counseling and Pastoral Theology series is to address clinical issues that arise among particular populations currently neglected in the literature on pastoral care and counseling This series is committed to enhancing both the theoretical base and the clinical expertise of pastoral caregivers by providing a pastoral theological paradigm that will inform both assessment and intervention with persons in these specific populations descended partly from pre Islamic late antiquity Coming of Age in Medieval Egypt approaches these questions through Jewish women s adolescence in Fatimid and Ayyubid Egypt and Syria c 969 1250 Using hundreds of everyday papers preserved in the Cairo Geniza Eve Krakowski follows the lives of girls from different social classes rich and poor secluded and physically mobile as they prepared to marry and become social adults She argues that the families on whom these girls depended were more varied fragmented and fluid than has been thought Krakowski also suggests a new approach to religious identity in premodern Islamic societies and to the history of rabbinic Judaism Through the lens of women s coming of age she demonstrates that even Jews who faithfully observed rabbinic law did not always understand the world in rabbinic terms By tracing the fault lines between rabbinic legal practice and its practitioners lives Krakowski explains how rabbinic Judaism adapted to the Islamic Middle Ages Coming of Age in Medieval Egypt offers a new way to understand how women took part in premodern Middle Eastern societies and how families and religious law worked in the medieval Islamic world
