Race and Displacement Maha Marouan, Merinda Simmons, 2013-09-30 Race and Displacement captures a timely set of discussions about the roles of race in displacement forced migrations nation and nationhood and the way continuous movements of people challenge fixed racial definitions The multifaceted approach of the essays in Race and Displacement allows for nuanced discussions of race and displacement in expansive ways exploring those issues in transnational and global terms The contributors not only raise questions about race and displacement as signifying tropes and lived experiences they also offer compelling approaches to conversations about race displacement and migration both inside and outside the academy Taken together these essays become a case study in dialogues across disciplines providing insight from scholars in diaspora studies postcolonial studies literary theory race theory gender studies and migration studies The contributors to this volume use a variety of analytical and disciplinary methodologies to track multiple articulations of how race is encountered and defined The book is divided by editors Maha Marouan and Merinda Simmons into four sections Race and Nation considers the relationships between race and corporality in transnational histories of migration using literary and oral narratives Essays in Race and Place explore the ways spatial mobility in the twentieth century influences and transforms notions of racial and cultural identity Essays in Race and Nationality address race and its configuration in national policy such as racial labeling federal regulations and immigration law In the last section Race and the Imagination contributors explore the role imaginative projections play in shaping understandings of race Together these essays tackle the question of how we might productively engage race and place in new sociopolitical contexts Tracing the roles of race from the corporeal and material to the imaginative the essays chart new ways that concepts of origin region migration displacement and diasporic memory create understandings of race in literature social performance and national policy Contributors Regina N Barnett Walter Bosse Ashon T Crawley Matthew Dischinger Melanie Fritsh Jonathan Glover Delia Hagen Deborah Katz Kathrin Kottemann Abigail G H Manzella Yumi Pak Cassander L Smith Lauren Vedal Tennyson and the Fabrication of Englishness M. Sherwood, 2013-03-05 Through an examination of Tennyson's domestic poetry his portrayals of England and the English in their changing nineteenth century context this book demonstrates that many of his representations were fabrications more idealized than real which played a vital part in the country's developing identity and sense of its place in the world Territories of Empire Andy Doolen, 2014 Practically speaking nineteenth century American literary history really refers to writings from the East seaboard of the United States In fact no author from the West prior to Mark Twain has been admitted into the canon of American literature a longstanding bias that continues to define the narrative arc of U S literary nationalism Western authors are absent from the canon and classroom largely because their regional writings are assumed to be second rate in comparison with the ostensibly more complex literary cultures of the eastern states Andy Doolen's monograph reorients literary history turning to the neglected Western writings that shaped the distinctive process of U S expansionism in the years following the Louisiana Purchase As Doolen shows these cartographic texts legitimated U S occupancy of contested border zones and justified the nation's move westward In five chapters Territories of Empire surveys an under studied archive of these texts ranging from exploration narratives novels oratory and natural histories to autobiographies travel narratives poetry and periodical literature In writings as dissimilar as protest petitions from white Louisianans Kentucky newspaper accounts of the Burr conspiracy the explorer Zebulon Pike's 1810 account of the upper Rio Grande and Timothy Flint's 1826 novel about a young New Englander who fights in the Mexican independence struggle Americans were expanding the national imagination into new continental dimensions Ultimately these texts show how literature reflected and fed the expansionist ideology of the U S by linking national greatness to the urgent necessity of territorial and commercial growth TIMBUCTOO Tahir Shah, 2012-06-22 For centuries Europe's great explorers were sent out to find Timbuctoo a city supposedly built from pure gold Most of them never returned alive At the height of the Timbuctoo Mania 200 years ago an illiterate American sailor was found on the streets of snowbound London claiming to have been taken there as a white slave Desert Imaginations Brahim El Guabli, 2025-11-04 Desert Imaginations traces the cultural and intellectual histories that have informed the prevalent ideas of deserts across the globe The book argues that Saharanism a globalizing imaginary that perceives desert spaces as empty exploitable and dangerous has been at the center of all desert focused enterprises Encompassing spiritual practices military thinking sexual fantasies experiential quests extractive economies and experimental schemes among other projects Saharanism has shaped the way deserts not only are constructed intellectually but are acted upon From nuclear testing to border walls and much more Brahim El Guabli articulates some of Saharanism's consequential manifestations across different deserts Desert

Imaginations draws on the abundant historical literature and cultural output in multiple languages and across disciplines to delineate the parameters of Saharanism Against Saharanism s powerful and reductive vision of deserts the book rehabilitates a tradition of desert eco care that has been at work in desert Indigenous people s literary artistic scholarly and ritualistic practices

White Slaves, African Masters Paul Baepler, 1999-05-15 Some of the most popular stories in nineteenth century America were sensational tales of whites captured and enslaved in North Africa White Slaves African Masters for the first time gathers together a selection of these Barbary captivity narratives which significantly influenced early American attitudes toward race slavery and nationalism Though Barbary privateers began to seize North American colonists as early as 1625 Barbary captivity narratives did not begin to flourish until after the American Revolution During these years stories of Barbary captivity forced the U S government to pay humiliating tributes to African rulers stimulated the drive to create the U S Navy and brought on America s first post revolutionary war These tales also were used both to justify and to vilify slavery The accounts collected here range from the 1798 tale of John Foss who was ransomed by Thomas Jefferson s administration for tribute totaling a sixth of the annual federal budget to the story of Ion Perdicaris whose probably staged abduction in Tangier in 1904 prompted Theodore Roosevelt to send warships to Morocco and inspired the 1975 film The Wind and the Lion Also included is the unusual story of Robert Adams a light skinned African American who was abducted by Arabs and used by them to hunt negro slaves captured by black villagers who presumed he was white then was sold back to a group of Arabs from whom he was ransomed by a British diplomat Long out of print and never before anthologized these fascinating tales open an entirely new chapter of early American literary history and shed new light on the more familiar genres of Indian captivity narrative and American slave narrative Baepler has done American literary and cultural historians a service by collecting these long out of print Barbary captivity narratives Baepler s excellent introduction and full bibliography of primary and secondary sources greatly enhance our knowledge of this fascinating genre Library Journal

The View from the Masthead Hester Blum, 2012-09-01 With long solitary periods at sea far from literary and cultural centers sailors comprise a remarkable population of readers and writers Although their contributions have been little recognized in literary history seamen were important figures in the nineteenth century American literary sphere In the first book to explore their unique contribution to literary culture Hester Blum examines the first person narratives of working sailors from little known sea tales to more famous works by Herman Melville James Fenimore Cooper Edgar Allan Poe and Richard Henry Dana In their narratives sailors wrote about how their working lives coexisted with indeed mutually drove their imaginative lives Even at leisure they were always on the job site Blum analyzes seamen s libraries Barbary captivity narratives naval memoirs writings about the Galapagos Islands Melville s sea vision and the crisis of death and burial at sea She argues that the extent of sailors literacy and the range of their reading were unusual for a laboring class belying the popular image of Jack Tar as merely a swaggering profane or marginal figure As Blum demonstrates seamen s narratives propose a method for aligning labor and contemplation that has broader applications for the study of American literature and history American Arabesque Jacob Rama Berman, 2012-06-11 Part of the American Literatures Initiative Series American Arabesque examines representations of Arabs Islam and the Near East in nineteenth century American culture arguing that these representations play a significant role in the development of American national identity over the century revealing largely unexplored exchanges between these two cultural traditions that will alter how we understand them today Moving from the period of America's engagement in the Barbary Wars through the Holy Land travel mania in the years of Jacksonian expansion and into the writings of romantics such as Edgar Allen Poe the book argues that not only were Arabs and Muslims prominently featured in nineteenth century literature but that the differences writers established between figures such as Moors Bedouins Turks and Orientals provide proof of the transnational scope of domestic racial politics Drawing on both English and Arabic language sources Berman contends that the fluidity and instability of the term Arab as it appears in captivity narratives travel narratives imaginative literature and ethnic literature simultaneously instantiate and undermine definitions of the American nation and American citizenship Travels into Print Innes M. Keighren, Charles W. J. Withers, Bill Bell, 2015-05-11 In eighteenth and nineteenth century Britain books of travel and exploration were much more than simply the printed experiences of intrepid authors They were works of both artistry and industry products of the complex and often contested relationships between authors and editors publishers and printers These books captivated the reading public and played a vital role in creating new geographical truths In an age of global wonder and of expanding empires there was no publisher more renowned for its travel books than the House of John Murray Drawing on detailed examination of the John Murray Archive of manuscripts images and the firm's correspondence with its many authors a list that included such illustrious explorers and scientists as Charles Darwin and Charles Lyell and literary giants like Jane Austen Lord Byron and Sir Walter Scott Travels into Print considers how journeys of exploration became published accounts and how travelers sought to demonstrate the faithfulness of their written testimony and to secure their personal credibility This fascinating study in historical geography and book history takes modern readers on a journey into the nature of exploration the production of authority in published travel narratives and the creation of geographical authorship a journey bound together by the unifying force of a world leading publisher The Asante World Edmund Abaka, Kwame Osei Kwarteng, 2021-05-30 The Asante World provides fresh perspectives on the Asante the largest Akan group in Southern Ghana and what new scholars are thinking and writing about the world the Asante made By employing a thematic approach the volume interrogates several dimensions of Asante history including state formation Asante Ahafo and Bassari Dagomba relations in the context of Asante northward expansion and the expansion to the south It examines the role of Islam which although extremely intense for just a short time had important ramifications Together the essays excavate key aspects of Asante political economy and culture exemplified in kola nut production the kente adinkra cloth types and their associated symbols proverbs and drum language The Asante World explores the Asante origins of Jamaican maroons Asante secular government contemporary politics of progress governance through the institution of Ahemaa or Queenmothers epidemiology and disease and education in the twentieth and twenty first centuries Featuring innovative and insightful contributions from leading historians of the Asante world this volume is essential reading for advanced undergraduates postgraduates and scholars concerned with African Studies African diaspora history the history of Ghana and the Gold Coast the history of Islam in Africa and Asante history The West and the Word Steffen Wöll,2020-10-12 Western expansion in North America has mainly been described as either a linear sequence energized by nineteenth century nation building processes at a moving frontier or as the practice of settler colonialism and its exploitation of resources and displacement of nonwhite peoples This book suggests that shifting the focus from this binary pattern towards spatial imaginations and spatialization processes a new theoretical framework developed at SFB 1199 provides novel insights into the placemaking dynamics of the American West It brings to light a discursive diversity that often contradicts unidirectional interpretive patterns It becomes clear that while some discourses solidified into spatial metanarratives like the character shaping clash of civilizations at the frontier or manifest destiny alternative spatial imaginations exist juxtaposed to or obfuscated by canonical interpretations Making use of a variety of sources including works of literature poetry newspapers paintings and speeches to access spatialization processes on several sociocultural scales the book presents a careful exploration of the parameters that informed the creation affirmation and subversion of spatial imagination of the American West throughout the nineteenth century from the perspective of American Studies Radical Romantics Talissa Ford,2016-07-07 Engaging with the critical frameworks of cultural geography cartography and the burgeoning field of oceanic studies Radical Romantics reformulates theories of colonization and empire in the Romantic period Transatlantic Literary Studies, 1660-1830 Eve Tavor Bannet,Susan Manning,2011-12-08 The recently developed field of transatlantic literary studies has encouraged scholars to move beyond national literatures towards an examination of communications between Britain and the Americas The true extent and importance of these material and literary exchanges is only just beginning to be discovered This collection of original essays explores the transatlantic literary imagination during the key period from 1660 to 1830 from the colonization of the Americas to the formative decades following political separation between the nations Contributions from leading scholars from both sides of the Atlantic bring a variety of approaches and methods to bear on both familiar and undiscovered texts Revealing how literary genres were borrowed and readapted to a different context the volume offers an index of the larger literary influences going backwards and forwards across the ocean
