other versions linked the taming of the flood with the creation of the institution of a lineage and still others linked the taming to the process in which the divided principles of the masculine and the feminine were joined in the married couple to produce an ordered household While availing themselves of earlier stories and of central religious rituals of the period these myths transformed earlier divinities or animal spirits into rulers or ministers and provided both etiologies and legitimation for the emerging political and social institutions that culminated in the creation of a unitary empire Empress Dowager Cixi

Jung Chang, 2013-10-29 A New York Times Notable Book Empress Dowager Cixi 1835 1908 is the most important woman in Chinese history She ruled China for decades and brought a medieval empire into the modern age At the age of sixteen in a nationwide selection for royal consorts Cixi was chosen as one of the emperor's numerous concubines When he died in 1861 their five year old son succeeded to the throne Cixi at once launched a palace coup against the regents appointed by her husband and made herself the real ruler of China behind the throne literally with a silk screen separating her from her officials who were all male In this groundbreaking biography Jung Chang vividly describes how Cixi fought against monumental obstacles to change China Under her the ancient country attained virtually all the attributes of a modern state industries railways electricity the telegraph and an army and navy with up to date weaponry It was she who abolished gruesome punishments like death by a thousand cuts and put an end to foot binding She inaugurated women's liberation and embarked on the path to introduce parliamentary elections to China Chang comprehensively overturns the conventional view of Cixi as a diehard conservative and cruel despot Cixi reigned during extraordinary times and had to deal with a host of major national crises the Taiping and Boxer rebellions wars with France and Japan and an invasion by eight allied powers including Britain Germany Russia and the United States Jung Chang not only records the Empress Dowager's conduct of domestic and foreign affairs but also takes the reader into the depths of her splendid Summer Palace and the harem of Beijing's Forbidden City where she lived surrounded by eunuchs one of whom she fell in love with tragic consequences The world Chang describes here in fascinating detail seems almost unbelievable in its extraordinary mixture of the very old and the very new Based on newly available mostly Chinese historical documents such as court records official and private correspondence diaries and eyewitness accounts this biography will revolutionize historical thinking about a crucial period in China's and the world's history Packed with drama fast paced and gripping it is both a panoramic depiction of the birth of modern China and an intimate portrait of a woman as the concubine to a monarch as the absolute ruler of a third of the world's population and as a unique stateswoman Local, Traditional and Indigenous Food Systems in the 21st Century to Combat Obesity, Undernutrition and Climate Change, 2nd edition Rebecca Kanter, Sofia Boza, Gina Kennedy, 2023-07-31 Traditional and indigenous food systems have existed for centuries and were in balance with local food supplies globally However between the mid 20th and early 21st century the green revolution dramatically altered food production which in turn affected the inclusivity of traditional production systems within food systems and subsequently traditional dietary intakes This change was accompanied by lifestyle changes and spurred a global nutrition transition Today the world faces a global syndemic of obesity undernutrition and climate change A new call to action to create food systems that nourish people and sustain the planet is needed Traditional and indigenous food systems have long been recognized as systems that can both support good human nutrition as well as maintain a balance with nature There is an underutilized knowledge base around traditional and indigenous food systems This includes the knowledge of nutritious species traditional culinary preparations and cultural practices Greater agricultural production of underutilized species can result in more sustainable agricultural and food systems which can also help improve livelihoods and food security Traditional and indigenous cultural practices with respect to both land and water management as well as culinary practices contribute to both sustainable food production and consumption These practices require a greater evidence base in order to be incorporated into public health nutrition initiatives related to improving dietary quality such as food based dietary guidelines for example An increased focus on the importance of local traditional and indigenous food systems and nutrition could therefore help countries to improve human nutrition and ideally help mitigate the global syndemic of obesity undernutrition and climate change This Research Topic will focus on documenting diverse local food systems and promoting elements within them that can help improve nutrition and health both human and planetary in various ways including the livelihood development of knowledge holders

Handbook of Ancient Afro-Eurasian Economies Sitta Reden, 2019-12-02 The notion of the Silk Road that the German geographer Ferdinand von Richthofen invented in the 19th century has lost attraction to scholars in light of large amounts of new evidence and new approaches The handbook suggests new conceptual and methodological tools for researching ancient economic exchange in a global perspective with a strong focus on recent debates on the nature of pre modern empires The interdisciplinary team of Chinese Indian and Graeco Roman historians archaeologists and anthropologists that has written this handbook compares different forms of economic development in agrarian and steppe regions in a period of accelerated empire formation during 300 BCE and 300 CE It investigates inter imperial zones and networks of exchange which were crucial for ancient Eurasian connections Volume I provides a comparative history of the most important empires forming in Northern Africa Europe and Asia between 300 BCE and 300 CE It surveys a wide range of evidence that can be brought to bear on economic development in these empires and takes stock of the ways academic traditions have shaped different understandings of economic and imperial development as well as Silk Road exchange in Russia China India and Western Graeco Roman history

Passionate Women Paul Ropp, Paola Zamperini, Harriet Zurndorfer, 2021-07-26 This is a collection of original essays which focuses on the causes meanings and significance of female suicides in Ming and Qing China It is the first attempt in English language scholarship to revise earlier views of female self destruction that had been shaped by the May Fourth Movement and anti Confucian critiques of Chinese culture and to consider the matter of female suicide in the wider context of more recent scholarship on women and gender relations in late imperial China The essays also reveal the world of tensions conflicting demands and expectations and a variety of means by which both women and men made moral sense of their lives in late imperial China The volume closes with an extensive bibliography of relevant and important Chinese Japanese and Western publications related to female suicide in late imperial China

Chinese Perceptions of the U.S. Biwu Zhang, 2012 China threat has been one of hotly debated topics since the early 1990s and this book is an effort to test the China threat thesis The author argues that a test of the China threat thesis requires addressing two fundamental questions whether China has the capabilities to challenge the international system and whether China has the motivations to do so This book will offer a systematic study of China's foreign policy motivations by resorting to an image approach The conclusion as to whether China is a status quo or a revisionist country will be reached by exploring how consideration of national interests and how China's perceptions of key characters of the U S affect China's foreign policy orientation A summary of the dominant Chinese images of the U S will also contribute to understanding China's motivations vis a vis the U S

Men and Women in Qing China Edwards, 2021-09-13 Men and Women in Qing China is an analysis of Chinese prescriptions of gender as represented in Cao Xueqin's famous eighteenth century Chinese novel of manners The Red Chamber Dream or The Story of the Stone Drawing on feminist literary critical methods it examines Qing notions of masculinity and femininity including themes such as bisexuality motherhood virginity and purity and gender and power Its central aim is to challenge the common assumption that the novel represents some form of early Chinese feminism by examining the text in conjunction with historical data The book will be especially important to those interested in issues of gender in China the history of Chinese literary criticism and the application of feminist theory to the Asian text
