Teacher Leadership and Professional Development Alex Alexandrou,Sue Swaffield,2016-05-06 Interest in and knowledge of leadership and learning separately and together is an international and continuing phenomenon This book adds to a somewhat under researched aspect of the field It focuses both on a particular form of leadership teacher leadership and on a particular form of learning professional development It considers the connection between teacher leadership and professional development and the first chapter relates this connection to a Leadership for Learning conceptual framework developed through an international three year project The book s chapters explore teacher leadership and professional development from a number of perspectives giving rise to three points of particular significance Firstly the chapters show that either by accident or design there is a growing cadre of teacher leaders emerging from a multitude of professional development activities and initiatives Secondly a number of new conceptual frameworks are put forward alongside the adaption and development of extant ones that add to the ever increasing theorisation of educational leadership and professional development literature Thirdly the chapters provide evidence of the connections between leadership and learning as conceptualised in the Leadership for Learning framework This book was originally published as a special issue of Professional Development in Education Prof.Izhar,2015-08-09 Science Education for Sustainable Development in Asia Hiroki Fujii,Sun-Kyung Lee,2024-04-02 This book presents an Asian perspective on transformative science education in the context of the United Nations Sustainable Development Goals SDGs The chapters are written by contributors who practiced science education for sustainability in a research project entitled Teacher Education for ESD in the Asia Pacific Region from 2017 to 2019 supported by the Japan Society for the Promotion of Science and the Japanese National Commission for UNESCO The book showcases the contributors innovations in science education for sustainability presenting case studies of science teaching and learning science curriculum and assessment science education in collaboration with local communities and science teacher education Embodying Asian sustainability education paradigms policies and practices these case studies depict the diversity and uniqueness of natural social and cultural contexts in Asia while demonstrating their commonalities Through examining these case studies this book aims to provide examples for praxis and prospects for new science classes curricula and teacher education in implementing education for sustainable development Evidence and research gaps identified during development of policy guidelines for tuberculosis ,2021-12-13 Achieving the goals and targets of the WHO End TB Strategy requires innovative tools and strategies as well as rapid progress towards universal access This document summarizes evidence gaps articulated in various WHO tuberculosis TB policy guidance to help steer innovation towards sustainable desirable acceptable and feasible public health interventions required to end TB It aims to serve as a reference for research policy makers funders civil society and other relevant actors on the urgent TB research priorities for policy guidance The Reform of Teacher Education in the Post-Soviet Space Ian Menter,2024-08-06 This book draws on scholarly expertise across the former Soviet Union to provide a comparative analysis of the policies and practices that are discussed within the context of global reform of teacher education Divided into three parts chapters of this book discuss the context behind economic and political reform across the former Soviet Union and the resulting change that has occurred within teacher education systems within the 15 republics that now exist in this post Soviet space Offering a complex and nuanced account of vernacular globalisation the book discusses the significant contribution that teacher education can make to the process of nationbuilding In doing so this truly international volume offers fresh insights and original perspectives on this dynamic educational landscape Being the first comprehensive account of reforms in all 15 nations that emerged in the post Soviet world this book will be of interest to students scholars and academics in the fields of teacher education international and comparative education and education policy and politics It should also be of relevance to teacher educators and policymakers around the world more broadly Autonomy, Accountability and Social Justice Amanda Keddie, Martin Mills, 2019-04-10 Autonomy Accountability and Social Justice provides an account of recent developments in English state education with a particular focus on the academisation of schooling It examines how head teachers teachers and others working in diverse education settings navigate the current policy environment The authors provide readers with insight into the complex decision making processes that shape school responses to current educational agendas and examine the social justice implications of these responses The book draws on Nancy Fraser s social justice framework and her theorising of neoliberalism to explore current tensions associated with moves towards both greater autonomy for and accountability of state schooling These tensions are presented through four case studies that centre upon 1 a group of local authority primary schools 2 an academy chain 3 a co operative secondary school and 4 an alternative education setting The book identifies the emancipatory possibilities of these approaches amid the complex demands of autonomy and accountability seizing English schools Informed by a consideration of market parameters and social protectionist ideals this examination provides rich insights into how English schools have emancipatory capacity Autonomy Accountability and Social Justice makes a major theoretical contribution to understandings of how the market is working alongside the regulation of schooling and the implications of this for social justice By drawing on the experiences of those working in schools it demonstrates that the tensions associated with autonomy and accountability within the current education policy environment can be both productive and unproductive for social justice
