Quality Education System For The Individual:

Quality Education System for the Individual, 1988 This course will introduce the basic concepts of quality and discuss the role that each one of us can play in quality improvement Pref Achieving Quality Education for All Phillip Hughes, 2012-11-13 Due to the development of the international Education for All and Education for Sustainable Development movements for which UNESCO is the lead agency there has been an increasing emphasis on the power of education and schooling to help build more just and equitable societies Thus giving everyone the opportunity to develop their talents to the full regardless of characteristics such as gender socio economic status ethnicity religious persuasion or regional location As enshrined in the United Nations Declaration on Human Rights over five decades ago everyone has the right to receive a high quality and relevant education In order to try to achieve this ideal many countries are substantially re engineering their education systems with an increasing emphasis on promoting equity and fairness and on ensuring that everyone has access to a high quality and relevant education They are also moving away from the traditional outlook of almost exclusively stressing formal education in schools as the most valuable way in which people learn to accepting that important and valuable learning does not just occur in formal dedicated education institutions but also through informal and non formal means Thus learning is both lifelong and life wide This book brings together the experience and research of 40 recognised and experienced opinion leaders in education around the world The book investigates the most effective ways of ensuring the UNESCO aim of effective education for all people in the belief that not only should education be a right for all but also that education and schooling has the potential to transform individual lives and to contribute to the development of more just humane and equitable societies The Professoriate: Challenges and Promises Paul V. Bredson, Jay Paredes Scribner, 1998-04-28 The 1995 NCPEA Yearbook is organized into five major sections The first The Landscapes of Change Challenges for Professors of Educational Administration contains four chapters that frame the major themes and issues of the 1994 conference In Section 2 Educational Leadership and Development Program Theoretical Perspectives the authors explore theoretical lenses for examining the preparation of educational leaders and the development of educational administration programs Section 3 Responding to New Realities Program Development in Educational Administration contains detailed descriptions of emerging educational realities that have begun to trigger program changes and innovations in departments of educational leadership at six institutions Rethinking and Revisioning Teaching and Learning to prepared Educational Leaders Section 4 offers five excellent vignettes of changes and challenges for professors in creating new teaching and learning environments for themselves and their students In the final section Policies Programs and Practices Investigations in Educational Administration six chapters relate the finds of researchers using very different research designs and methods The implications for professors of educational administration and for all educational stakeholders are discussed
