Quality Revolution And Health Care:

Quality Imperative, The: Measurement And Management Of Quality In Healthcare John R Kimberly, Etienne Minvielle, 1999-12-29 Efforts to reform healthcare systems around the globe are proliferating rapidly No country is immune from the two fundamental pressures that are driving change cost and access Every system is experimenting with measures designed to contain costs while simultaneously trying to determine how best to resolve the question of who should be eligible for what services under what conditions In the midst of these experiments serious concerns about quality are being raised Are efforts to contain costs leading to practices which have a detrimental impact on quality What in fact is quality in the world of healthcare How should it be measured And how can it be improved These questions are on the cutting edge of debates about the management of healthcare in the future This book examines these questions in detail by combining chapters outlining the basic issues with others describing state of the art efforts to measure and manage quality more effectively The result is an up to date compendium of issues and experiences presented by leading researchers and practitioners which should be of interest to healthcare managers and policy makers as well as to students and researchers in the field

Visualising Health Care Practice Improvement Rick Iedema, Jessica Mesman, Katherine Carroll, 2022-02-22 Why is it that in spite of all the health policy reforms clinical practice innovations increasing intersectoral interdependencies and new medical and information technologies so little has changed in the way we research and evaluate health care Don't these changes cry out for new ways of being studied and appraised And don't our approaches to clinical practice innovation cry out for being reinvented too Surely we cannot continue to wheel out research and evaluation paradigms improvement approaches and methods that were designed for 20th century problems and 20th century health care and assume they will be able to make sense of the problems we experience and the care we provide in the 21st century These changes necessitate a new paradigm of health service research evaluation and improvement and this new model adopts approaches and methods that embrace complexity The approaches and methods can account for the vicissitudes of front line care the activities of front line staff and the experiences of patients and families where care happens Visualising Health Care Practice Improvement draws on years of video feedback research shaping an approach that enables not only a retrospective understanding but also a view into the future of what might be possible It presents the argument that change is not principally about adopting solutions from elsewhere but that it is conditional on people exploring whether proposed solutions suit existing habituations It involves a process of exploration discovery secession and renewal Health care managers policy makers and shapers will find this book enlightening It will also be empowering to all health care professionals and front line staff

Re-humanizing Medicine David R. Kopacz,2014-11-28 What starts as personal dissatisfaction in the workplace can become personal transformation that changes clinical practice and ultimately changes the culture of medicine Physicians and professionals train extensively to relieve suffering Yet the systems they train and practice in create suffering for both themselves and their clients through the neglect of basic human needs True healthcare reform requires addressing dehumanization in medicine by caring for the whole person of the professional and the patient Re humanizing Medicine provides a holistic framework to support human connection and the expression of full human being of doctors professionals and patients A clinician needs to be a whole person to treat a whole person thus the work of transformation begins with clinicians As professionals work to transform themselves this will in turn transform their clinical practices and healthcare institutions Health Care Financing Review ,1992
