Stranger at Home Ashlee Neser, 2011-05 This book is about the poetry vision and deeply inhospitable context of one of South Africa's most talented praise poets The praise poet imbongi is a familiar cultural icon in contemporary South Africa Public events as diverse as presidential inaugurations openings of parliament fashion shows and boxing contests begin with the rousing declamations of charismatic imbongi Yet until the institution of majority rule praise poets who sought to shock their audiences with dangerous truths could claim none of the prestige enjoyed by their present day counterparts Under apartheid many praise poets either ceased to perform or abandoned the imbongi's duty to diagnose and criticize political and social ills There was however one brilliant Xhosa imbongi called David Manisi a poet widely acclaimed in his youth as the successor to the great SEK Mqhayi who refused to capitulate to the ease of silence or complicity As documented by Jeff Opland in The Dassist and the Hunter UKZN Press Manisi worked tirelessly and in embattled contexts to address his audiences with demands criticisms and aspirations they frequently misunderstood The author of five volumes of Xhosa poetry and performer of inspired and elegantly crafted izibongo praise poems Manisi saw himself as a man of multiple places allegiances and identities at a time when these markers of self were rigidly policed Manisi's entrance on the local Transkeian poetry scene was legendary He was for a time the most famous poet in Kaiser Mathanzima's court He also wrote the first published poem about Nelson Mandela in 1954 hailing him prophetically as Gleaming Road Despite these early accomplishments Manisi ended his career as a lonely performer in American and South African universities He never met Mandela his hero of old Ashlee Naser examines Manisi as an inventive negotiator of rural and urban spaces modernity and tradition performance and publication the local and the foreign

BOOK JACKET India-South Asia Interface Partha S. Ghosh, 2021-12-22 India South Asia Interface raises the fundamental question How does one make sense of South Asia Conventional wisdom defines it primarily in terms of regional and international politics The failures of the South Asian Association for Regional Cooperation SAARC are emblematic of that wisdom Marking a departure from such approaches Partha Ghosh makes the case that more than merely a political construct South Asia must be understood as a shared social consciousness Through chapters that explore topics such as threats to democracy religion and politics the place of Kashmir different conceptions of regionalism the roles of America and China and the issue of refugees and migrants he demonstrates that there is no escape from reinventing the region from a people's perspective Only this way can South Asia retrieve its soul and replace its cynicism and despair with expectation and hope Based primarily on Ghosh's research articles and newspaper columns written over the last five years the volume can be viewed as an intimate statement of his understanding of the region an understanding that has matured through decades long interactions with the region's academics politicians and the so called man on the street In some sense the volume is also a semi autobiographical treatise which spells out Ghosh's systematic evolution as a confirmed South Asianist The region's destiny ought to be wrested he therefore argues from the hands of its political leaders and returned to the common men and women of the region Please note Taylor Francis does not sell or distribute the Hardback in India Pakistan Nepal Bhutan Bangladesh and Sri Lanka Vanity Fair T.G.
