Lucknow, the Last Phase of an Oriental Culture 'Abdulḥalīm Sharar, 1989 Lucknow A. H. Sharar, 1989

The Making of the Awadh Culture Madhu Trivedi, 2010 This book makes an extensive study of the art and culture of Awadh during the Nawabi period c 1722 1856 with a focus on the city of Lucknow The work takes up evidence available in a variety of primary and secondary sources especially in the Persian and Urdu languages in its study of visuals and artefacts as well as performance traditions and craft techniques which are derived from this period Highlighting the literary milieu of the period and the developments in the realm of music painting architecture and industrial arts this volume also explores how some of the arts and crafts assumed considerable European colour and demonstrates how the ethos of the syncretic Indo Persian culture the renowned ganga jamuni tahzib remained intact

Satyajit Ray Andrew Robinson, 1989-01-01 Profiles the life of the Indian director and discusses the making of each of his films

The Scattered Court Richard David Williams, 2023-04-25 Presents a new history of how Hindustani court music responded to the political transitions of the nineteenth century How far did colonialism transform north Indian music In the period between the Mughal empire and the British Raj how did the political landscape bleed into aesthetics music dance and poetry Examining musical culture through a diverse and multilingual archive primarily using sources in Urdu Bengali and Hindi that have not been translated or critically examined before The Scattered Court challenges our assumptions about the period Richard David Williams presents a long history of interactions between northern India and Bengal with a core focus on the two courts of Wajid Ali Shah 1822 1887 the last ruler of the kingdom of Awadh He charts the movement of musicians and dancers between the two courts in Lucknow and Matiyaburj as well as the transregional circulation of intellectual traditions and musical genres and demonstrates the importance of the exile period for the rise of Calcutta as a celebrated center of Hindustani classical music Since Lucknow is associated with late Mughal or Nawabi society and Calcutta with colonial modernity examining the relationship between the two cities sheds light on forms of continuity and transition over the nineteenth century as artists and their patrons navigated political ruptures and social transformations The Scattered Court challenges the existing historiography of Hindustani music and Indian culture under colonialism by arguing that our focus on Anglophone sources and modernizing impulses has directed us away from the aesthetic subtleties historical continuities and emotional dimensions of nineteenth century music

Music and Dance As Everyday South Asia Zoe C. Sherinian, Sarah L. Morelli, 2024 This book offers an inclusive lens through which to study the music and dance of South Asia its diasporas and the people who produce and use these cultural expressions Each chapter's central argument ties into a participatory exercise

S.V.Brahaspati,2023-11-04 The Formation of the Colonial State in India Hayden J. Bellenoit,2017-02-17 In the period between the 1770s and 1840s through the process of colonial state formation the early colonial state in India was able to harness and extract vast amounts of agrarian wealth in north India However little is known of the histories of the Indian scribes and the role they played in shaping the early patterns of British colonial rule This book offers a new way of interpreting the colonial state s origins in north India It examines how the formation of early agrarian revenue settlements exacerbated an extant late Mughal taxation tradition and how the success of British power was shaped by this extant paper oriented revenue culture It goes on to examine how the service and cultural histories of various Hindu scribal communities fit within broader changes in political administration taxation patterns of governance and a shared Indo Islamic administrative culture The author argues that British power after the late eighteenth century came as much through bureaucratic mastery paper and taxes as it did through military force and commercial ruthlessness The book draws upon private family papers interviews and Persian sources to demonstrate how the fortunes of scribes changed between empires and the important role they played at the height of the British Raj by 1900 Offering a detailed account of how agrarian wealth provided the bedrock of the colonial state s later patterns of administration this book is a unique and refreshing contribution to studies in South Asian History Governance and Imperialism Education: Oxford Bibliographies Online Research Guide Francis
