The Cry of the Unborn Babies Noah Weldemichael,2020-01-14 The cry of the unborn babies is very exceptional in its writing and style What makes it unique is that it brings the direct word of the unborn babies We may think that unborn babies are accounted for life but we don t consider that they are conscious about their life We think act and decide for them and they are very grateful for that as long as it benefited them But these days what they are experiencing is against their expectation That is why they choose to voice their resentment to the living world They want their lives to be valued and respected their bodies honored and their call answered They are very eager with great expectation that they will get the desire of their heart and that is their dear life They are also very determined to continue their fight once they cheat death abortion and arrive in this world So we better hear their cry and stop abortion But if we are not ready to do so they will come in person and we altogether will witness what they are going to do for their dear life
