An Annotated Bibliography of Inuit Art Richard C. Crandall, Susan M. Crandall, 2015-07-25 Archaeological digs have turned up sculptures in Inuit lands that are thousands of years old but Inuit art as it is known today only dates back to the beginning of the 1900s Early art was traditionally produced from soft materials such as whalebone and tools and objects were also fashioned out of stone bone and ivory because these materials were readily available The Inuit people are known not just for their sculpture but for their graphic art as well the most prominent forms being lithographs and stonecuts This work affords easy access to information to those interested in any type of Inuit art There are annotated entries on over 3 761 articles books catalogues government documents and other publications

Climate Change and Writing the Canadian Arctic Renée Hulan, 2017-11-29 Climate Change and Writing the Canadian Arctic explores the impact of climate change on Canadian literary culture Analysis of the changing rhetoric surrounding the discovery of the lost ships of the Franklin expedition serves to highlight the political and economic interests that have historically motivated Canada s approach to the Arctic and shaped literary representations A recent shift in Canadian writing away from national sovereignty to circumpolar stewardship is revealed in detailed close readings of Kathleen Winter s Boundless and Sheila Watt Cloutier s The Right to Be Cold

Nuvisavik Maria Von Finkenstein, 2002-02-07 In 1970 a small group of young Inuit women in Pangnirtung on Baffin Island began to tell a story a story about their past their culture their lives a story told through woven pictures The first book dedicated to the art form of tapestry weaving Nuvisavik shows how weaving became a bridge between nomadic camp life and life in a permanent settlement The tapestries meticulously woven by women trained by their mothers as seamstresses portray images wistfully remembered by elders in the community and captured by local artists Both the drawings and the tapestries convey the pride of the Inuit in their culture The tapestries are presented against a rich cultural and historical context Two of the essays in the book are based on interviews with elders and reflect the colourful history of the Cumberland Sound where sustained contact between Inuit and Americans and Scots began as early as the mid nineteenth century The cultural content of the tapestries is discussed by members of the Inuit community decoding otherwise enigmatic and puzzling images A wonderful blend of art history and cultural history Nuvisavik will entertain the scholar and art collector as well as readers with a special interest in the history of the Canadian North Contributors include July Papatsie a well established artist from Pangnirtung who brings his personal background and knowledge of his culture to his writing Deborah Hickman a tapestry weaver herself who was general manager and artistic advisor to the Pangnirtung Tapestry Studio from 1980 to 1983 Cathleen Knotsch a researcher who specializes in issues pertaining to the Canadian Eastern Arctic and Maria von Finckenstein Igloo Tales Edward Linnaeus Keithahn,1945 The Psychoanalytic Study of Society, V. 18 L. Bryce Boyer,Ruth M. Boyer,Stephen M. Sonnenberg,2018-12-07 Opening with a critical appreciation of Alan Dundes M Carroll and Dundes s own cross cultural study of the cockfight Volume 18 includes chapters on psychoanalysis and Hindu sexual fantasies W Doniger the modern folk tale The Boyfriend s Death M Carroll a gruesome Eskimo bedtime story R Boyer the homosexual implications of Argentinean soccer M Suarez Orozco and the symbolism of a Malaysian religious festival E Fuller Fearless Girls Wise Women and Beloved Sisters Jane Yolen,1998 Collects 100 tales from around the world including Africa Western Europe Native American cultures Asia and the Middle East that feature a heroine The New Republic of Childhood Sheila A. Egoff,Judith Saltman,1990 This critical guide to Canadian children s literature in English has been largely rewritten to take account of the enormous output of Canadian children s books since 1975 There is new emphasis on realistic fiction fantasy and picture books A Life in Storytelling Binnie Tate Wilkin,2014-03-25 A Life in Storytelling contains the reflections and lessons from one of the most noted storytellers of our times Fifty years of storytelling has provided Binnie Tate Wilkin with the experiences and insights to form the basis of a text for the storyteller both for the professional librarian teacher or parent wanting to provide children with substance through story The sections of the book are designed to provide background material for the art and craft of storytelling the methods and uses of storytelling sources and examples of stories and a broad selection of over 100 stories briefly annotated Included are sections that explain how to derive or adapt stories from current events history or imaginative writings and a detailed treatment in the use of dance in storytelling a technique that if not invented by Wilkin has become a trademark of her approach The treatment is always informal and personal and is interleaved with anecdotes drawn from the author s more than 50 years of storytelling Northern Experience and the Myths of Canadian Culture Renée Hulan,2002 In Northern Experience and the Myths of Canadian Culture Ren e Hulan disputes the notion that the north is a source of distinct collective identity for Canadians Through a synthesis of critical historical and theoretical approaches to northern subjects in literary studies she challenges the epistemology used to support this idea By investigating mutually dependent categories of identity in literature that depicts northern peoples and places Hulan provides a descriptive account of representative genres in which the north figures as a central theme including autobiography adventure narrative ethnography fiction poetry and travel writing She considers each of these diverse genres in terms of the way it explains the cultural identity of a nation formed from the settlement of immigrant peoples on the lands of dispossessed indigenous peoples Reading against the background of contemporary ethnographic literary and cultural theory Hulan maintains that the collective Canadian identity idealized in many works representing the north does not occur naturally but is artificially constructed in terms of characteristics inflected by historically contingent ideas of gender and race such as self sufficiency independence and endurance and that these characteristics are evoked to justify the nationhood of the Canadian state Uumajursiutik unaatuinnamut / Hunter with Harpoon / Chasseur au harpon Markoosie

Patsauq,2021-01-20 Fifty years ago Markoosie Patsauq then a bush pilot in his late twenties living in the tiny isolated High Arctic community of Resolute spent his spare time quietly writing a story that effectively emerged as the first Indigenous novel released in Canada Published in English under the title Harpoon of the Hunter in 1970 by McGill Queen s University Press that version of the story was Patsauq s own adaptation In the years that followed the widely acclaimed English edition was translated into many different languages but what has remained obscured until the present day is the Inuktitut text originally produced by the author In collaboration with Patsauq Valerie Henitiuk and Marc Antoine Mahieu have foregrounded the original Inuktitut text to inform their translations into both English and French This critical edition complete with the story in both Inuktitut syllabics and Latin script utilizes the author s handwritten manuscript as well as interviews with Patsauq to produce a new rigorous examination of this literary and cultural milestone This work also includes the first comprehensive account of the critical response to his writing while underscoring the way the much altered English adaptation from 1970 shaped that response A momentous achievement that situates a new classic in the twenty first century Hunter with Harpoon brings readers back to the roots of Markoosie Patsauq s Inuit story to experience it as it was originally written Stories in a New Skin Keavy Martin,2012-12-15

In an age where southern power holders look north and see only vacant polar landscapes isolated communities and exploitable resources it is important to note that the Inuit homeland encompasses extensive philosophical political and literary traditions Stories in a New Skin is a seminal text that explores these Arctic literary traditions and in the process reveals a pathway into Inuit literary criticism Author Keavy Martin considers writing storytelling and performance from a range of genres and historical periods the classic stories and songs of Inuit oral traditions life writing oral histories and contemporary fiction poetry and film and discusses the ways in which these texts constitute an autonomous literary tradition She draws attention to the interconnection between language form and context and illustrates the capacity of Inuit writers singers and storytellers to instruct diverse audiences in the appreciation of Inuit texts Although Eurowestern academic contexts and literary terminology are a relatively foreign presence in Inuit territory Martin builds on the inherent adaptability and resilience of Inuit genres in order to foster greater southern awareness of a tradition whose audience has remained primarily northern Tales from the Los Angeles Kings Locker Room
