More Than A Movie:

The Tunnel at the End of the Light: Essays on Movies and Politics Jim Shepard, 2017-09-12 Shepard may be the best lesser known film critic The New York Times Book Review The first book of nonfiction from one of our great fiction writers Given that most Americans proudly consider themselves non political where do our notions of collective responsibility come from Which self deceptions when considering ourselves as actors on the world stage do we cling to most tenaciously Why do we so stubbornly believe for example that our country always means well when intervening abroad The Tunnel at the End of the Light argues that some of our most persistent and destructive assumptions in that regard might come from the movies In these ten essays Jim Shepard weaves close readings of film with cultural criticism to explore the ways in which movies work so ubiquitously to reflect how Americans think and act Whether assessing the high spirited glee of American ruthlessness captured in GoodFellas or finding in Lawrence of Arabia a portrait of the lunatic serenity of our leaders conviction in the face of all evidence and their own lack of knowledge he explores how we enter into conversations with specific genres and films Chinatown The Third Man and Badlands among others in order to construct and refine our most cherished illusions about ourselves

The Social Science of Cinema James C. Kaufman, Dean Keith Simonton, 2013-11-01 Ever since motion pictures first landed on screen there have been many key questions that the studios and movie watchers have tried to answer What makes a movie an Oscar winner How does one movie become a hit and another movie flop Why do some films earn critical acclaim while other films become critical turkeys or bombs How do audiences perceive film What makes a movie resonate with a viewer Are we unduly influenced by negative behaviors on screen These questions have spurred debates discussions and many theories Until the last two decades however it was quite rare to have the issues approached from a scientific viewpoint The Social Science of Cinema compiles research from such varied disciplines as psychology economics sociology business and communications to find the best empirical research being done on the movies based on perspectives that many filmgoers have never considered Essays explore such topics as the specific factors that influence whether movies make money win awards or flop how our personality impacts on our viewing preferences issues of gender inequity on screen the relationship between visual perception and the way movies are edited and many more This book attempts the ultimate act of figuring out the mystery behind the movies what makes them so memorable to us what makes them this century's leading works of art and how this art intersects with the business of making money

Our Kind of Movie Douglas Crimp, 2012-03-02

A celebrated writer on contemporary art and queer culture argues that Andy Warhol's films enable us to see differently and to see a different world We didn't think of our movies as underground or commercial or art or porn they were a little of all of those but ultimately they were just our kind of movie Andy Warhol Andy Warhol was a remarkably prolific filmmaker creating more than 100 movies and nearly 500 of the film portraits known as Screen Tests And yet relatively little has been written about this body of work Warhol withdrew his films from circulation in the early 1970s and it was only after his death in 1987 that they began to be restored and shown again With Our Kind of Movie Douglas Crimp offers the first single authored book about the full range of Andy Warhol's films in forty years and the first since the films were put back into circulation In six essays Crimp examines individual films including Blow Job Screen Test No 2 and Warhol's cinematic masterpiece The Chelsea Girls perhaps the most commercially successful avant garde film of all time as well as groups of films related thematically or otherwise films of seductions in confined places films with scenarios by Ridiculous Theater playwright Ronald Tavel Crimp argues that Warhol's films make visible new queer forms of sociality Crimp does not view these films as cinematic documents of Warhol's milieu or as camera abetted voyeurism but rather as exemplifying Warhol's inventive cinema techniques his collaborative working methods and his superstars unique capabilities Thus if Warhol makes visible new social relations Crimp writes that visibility is inextricable from his making a new kind of cinema In Our Kind of Movie Crimp shows how Warhol's films allow us to see against the grain to see differently and to see a different world a world of difference , Collier's ,1927 Film Noir Reader 2 Alain Silver,James Ursini,1999 In the wake of the remarkable success of Film Noir Reader this new collection further explores a genre of limitless fascination and one that continues to inspire and galvanise the latest generation of film makers Again heavily illustrated with close to 150 stills Film Noir Reader 2 is organised much like the earlier volume A Concise Handbook of Movie Industry Economics Charles C.
