Making Peoples: A History of the New Zealanders From Polynesian James Belich, 2007-05-07 A new paperback reprint of this best selling and ground breaking history When first published in 1996 Making Peoples was hailed as redefining New Zealand history It was undoubtedly the most important work of New Zealand history since Keith Sinclair s classic A History of New Zealand Making Peoples covers the period from first settlement to the end of the nineteenth century Part one covers Polynesian background Maori settlement and pre contact history Part two looks at Maori European relations to 1900 Part three discusses Pakeha colonisation and settlement James Belich's Making Peoples is a major work which reshapes our understanding of New Zealand history challenges traditional views and debunks many myths while also recognising the value of myths as historical forces Many of its assertions are new and controversial History in a Post-Truth World Marius Gudonis, Benjamin T. Jones, 2020-10-06 History in a Post Truth World Theory and Praxis explores one of the most significant paradigm shifts in public discourse A post truth environment that appeals primarily to emotion elevates personal belief and devalues expert opinion has important implications far beyond Brexit or the election of Donald Trump and has a profound impact on how history is produced and consumed Post truth history is not merely a synonym for lies This book argues that indifference to historicity by both the purveyor and the recipient contempt for expert opinion that contradicts it and ideological motivation are its key characteristics Taking a multidisciplinary approach this work explores some of the following questions What exactly is post truth history Does it represent a new phenomenon Does the historian have a special role to play in preserving public memory from alternative facts Do academics more generally have an obligation to combat fake news and fake history both in universities and on social media How has a post truth culture impacted professional and popular historical discourse Looking at theoretical dimensions and case studies from around the world this book explores the violent potential of post truth history and calls on readers to resist David Mitchell Wendy Knepper, Courtney Hopf, 2019-07-25 David Mitchell is one of the most critically acclaimed authors in contemporary global writing Novels such as Ghostwritten Cloud Atlas and The Bone Clocks demonstrate the author's dazzling literary technique in an oeuvre that crosses genres genders and borders moving effortlessly through time and space David Mitchell Contemporary Critical Perspectives brings together leading scholars of contemporary fiction to guide readers through the full range of the author's writings including discussions of all of his novels to date plus his shorter fictions essays and libretti As well as offering extended coverage of Mitchell's most popular work Cloud Atlas the authors explore Mitchell's genre hopping techniques world making aesthetics and engagements with key contemporary issues such as globalization empire the environment disability trauma and technology In addition this book includes an expansive interview with David Mitchell as well as a guide to further reading to help students and readers alike explore the works of this tremendously inventive writer The Routledge Companion to Indigenous Repatriation Cressida Fforde, C. Timothy McKeown, Honor Keeler, 2020-03-05 This volume brings together Indigenous and non Indigenous repatriation practitioners and researchers to provide the reader with an international overview of the removal and return of Ancestral Remains The Ancestral Remains of Indigenous peoples are today housed in museums and other collecting institutions globally They were taken from anywhere the deceased can be found and their removal occurred within a context of deep power imbalance within a colonial project that had a lasting effect on Indigenous peoples worldwide Through the efforts of First Nations campaigners many have returned home However a large number are still retained In many countries the repatriation issue has driven a profound change in the relationship between Indigenous peoples and collecting institutions It has enabled significant steps towards resetting this relationship from one constrained by colonisation to one that seeks a more just dignified and truthful basis for interaction The history of repatriation is one of Indigenous perseverance and success The authors of this book contribute major new work and explore new facets of this global movement They reflect on nearly 40 years of repatriation its meaning and value impact and effect This book is an invaluable contribution to repatriation practice and research providing a wealth of new knowledge to readers with interests in Indigenous histories self determination and the relationship between collecting institutions and Indigenous peoples

The History of New Zealand Tom Brooking, 2004-06-30 With its closest neighbor some 1 200 miles away New Zealand is one of the most geographically isolated countries in the world Its remoteness led to its relatively late settlement Brooking traces New Zealand from its earliest Maori settlers to issues in 2003 covering intertribal relations the effects of European contact the challenges of globalization and more The volume includes a timeline of historical events biographical entries of notable people in the history of New Zealand a glossary of Maori terms and a bibliographic essay With its closest neighbor some 1 200 miles away New Zealand is one of the most geographically isolated countries in the world Its remoteness led to its relatively late settlement Brooking traces New Zealand from its earliest Maori settlers to issues in 2003 covering intertribal relations the effects of European contact the challenges of globalization and more The volume includes a timeline of historical events biographical entries of notable people in the history of New Zealand a glossary of Maori terms and a bibliographic essay This concise engagingly written volume is ideal for students and general interest readers seeking information on New Zealand s history

The Morality of Self-Defense and Military Action David B. Kopel, 2017-02-16 Shedding new light on a controversial and intriguing issue this book will reshape the debate on how the Judeo Christian tradition views the morality of personal and national self defense Are self defense national warfare and revolts against tyranny holy duties or violations of God s will Pacifists insist these actions are the latter forbidden by Judeo Christian morality This book maintains that the pacifists are wrong To make his case the author analyzes the full sweep of Judeo Christian history from earliest times to the present combining history scriptural analysis and philosophy to describe the changes and continuity of Jewish and Christian doctrine about the use of lethal force He reveals the shifting patterns of thought in both religions and presents the strongest arguments on both sides of the issue The book begins with the ancient Hebrews and Genesis and covers Jewish history through the Holocaust and beyond The analysis then shifts to the story of Christianity from its origins through the Middle Ages and the Reformation up to the present day Based on this scrutiny the author concludes that contrary to popular belief the legitimacy of self defense is strongly supported by Judeo Christian scripture and commentary by philosophical analysis and by the respect for human dignity and human rights on which both

Judaism and Christianity are based

Petitioning for Land Karen O'Brien, 2018-11-15 Petitioning for Land is the first book to examine the extent of First Peoples political participation through the use of petitions. Interpreting petitions as a continuous form of political articulation, Karen O'Brien considers petitioning for recognition of prior land ownership as a means by which to locate First Peoples petitioning for change within the broader narrative of historical and contemporary notions of justice. The book follows the story of First Peoples activism and shows how they actively reform discourse to disseminate a self-determined reality through the act of petitioning. It discloses how through the petition First Peoples reject colonialism even whilst working within its confines. In a reconfiguration of discourse, they actively convey a political or moral meaning to re-emerge in a self-determined world. Taking a socio-legal and historical approach to petitioning, the book questions the state domination of First Peoples and charts their political action against such control in the quest for self-determination. By uniquely focusing on the act of petitioning, which places First Peoples aspirants centre stage, O'Brien presents fresh and innovative perspectives concerning their political enterprise. From early modern colonial occupation to contemporary society, the hundreds of petitions that called for change are uncovered in Petitioning for Land, shedding new light on the social and political dynamics that drove the petitions.

Kāi Tahu Arthur Hugh Carrington, 2008 This remarkable account presents oral tradition alongside archaeological evidence and narrative history. The editors both have extensive experience in researching the past of southern New Zealand, particularly Ngai Tahu. Te Maire Tau lectures in history at Canterbury University. Atholl Anderson is Professor of Prehistory Research School of Pacific and Asian Studies, Australian National University.

War, Peace, and Human Nature Douglas P. Fry, 2015-02 The chapters in this book posit that humans clearly have the capacity to make war, but since war is absent in some cultures, it cannot be viewed as a human universal. And counter to frequent presumption, the actual archaeological record reveals the recent emergence of war. It does not typify the ancestral type of human society, the nomadic forager band, and contrary to widespread assumptions, there is little support for the idea that war is ancient or an evolved adaptation. Views of human nature as inherently warlike stem not from the facts but from cultural views embedded in Western thinking.

Te Iwi Māori Ian Pool, 2013-11-01 Te Iwi Māori presents an engrossing survey of the history of the Māori population from the earliest times to the present, concentrating particularly on the demographic impact of European colonisation. It also considers present and future population trends, many of which have major implications for social and resource policy. Among questions explored are the marked fertility decline of the 1970s, urbanisation, emigration, especially to Australia, and regional population patterns.

The Penguin History of New Zealand Michael King, 2023-10-10 This bestselling book by the late Michael King is the unchallenged contemporary reference on the history of New Zealand. First published in 2003 and hailed as a triumph of careful research, wide reading, and judicious assessment, it has been continuously in print for 20 years and has sold over 300,000 copies. It remains the definitive yet highly readable starting point for anybody wanting to understand this country. New Zealand was the last country in the world to be discovered and settled by humankind It was also the first to introduce full democracy Between those events and in the century that followed the movements and conflicts of human history have been played out more intensively and more rapidly in New Zealand than anywhere else on Earth The Penguin History of New Zealand tells that story in all its colour and drama The narrative that emerges is an inclusive one about men and women M ori and P keh It shows that British motives in colonising New Zealand were essentially humane and that M ori far from being passive victims of a fatal impact coped heroically with colonisation and survived by selectively accepting and adapting what Western technology and culture had to offer Now more relevant than ever this edition includes a Foreword by Sir Tipene O Regan and a biographical essay on the author by Jock Phillips PLATINUM PREMIER NEW ZEALAND BESTSELLER READERS CHOICE AWARD 2004 MONTANA NEW ZEALAND BOOK AWARDS NIELSEN BOOKDATA NEW ZEALAND BOOKSELLERS CHOICE AWARD BEST OF THE BEST 2011 Paradise Reforged James Belich,2002-02-28 Paradise Reforged picks up where Making Peoples left off taking the story of the New Zealanders from the 1880s to the end of the twentieth century It begins with the search for Better Britain and ends by analyzing the modern Maori resurgence the new Pakeha consciousness and the implications of a reinterpreted past for New Zealand s future Along the way the book deals with subjects ranging from sport and sex to childhood and popular culture Critics hailed Making Peoples as brilliant and the most ambitious book yet written on New Zealand s past Paradise Reforged its successor adopts a similarly incisive original sweep across the New Zealand historical landscape in confronting the myths of the past That some of its themes are uncomfortably close to the present makes the result all the more fascinating Racial Crossings Damon Ieremia Salesa,2011-05-19 Moving away from conventional theories about Victorian attitudes towards race Salesa focuses on an array of equally influential yet seemingly opposite ideas where racial crossing was seen as a means of improvement a way to manage racial conflict or create new societies or even a way to promote the rule of law Narrating Indigenous Modernities Michaela Moura-Koçoğlu,2011 Preliminary Material Things are not exactly black or white in Aotearoa The Many Facets of Kiwi Identity Fragmentation Reconsidered Transcultural Identities in the Making Narratives of Be Longing M ori Literary Voices Advancing Narratives of Un Belonging Unmasking Cleavage Cleaving to Identities Transcultural Readings Recombining Repertoires Navigating Transcultural Currents Stories of Indigenous Modernities Works Cited Index
