Life, Liberty and the Pursuit of Anything Edward Quiros MD MBA FACS, 2019-07-29 I am not a writer or an author of novels or essays It always discourages me to see so many authors or writers some established others just attempting to make a name for themselves every time I enter a bookstore and see thousands and thousands of titles of novels or books or whatever the writer thinks it is worth writing about Some are new editions others neatly arranged in that heap called bargain purchases It immediately put a stop to my idea of putting what I think is a subject that must be indelible of everyday events that people talk about after seeing it on TV or coming across it on a page of a local or national newspaper Something like Charles Krauthammer's seminal essays in Things That Matter Andy Rooney's astute observations in Common Sense or the provocative articles in humorist Dave Barry's I Am Not Making This Up But growing older in age and with the remaining future not so distant anymore the impulse and the courage to tell anyone who is interested in what you have to say becomes compulsive as magma wanting to erupt from the bowels of the earth's core That is why these essays compiled and culled from the files of what I have kept these years writing editorials in magazines from applications to a graduate school I never finished and received a diploma and from other sources the names I can't recall from recent and contemporaneous events onerously repeated by pundits and so called experts became bound in a form you are holding today The ideas may be past but still relevant They might be current and dissecting them with the pros and cons of opinions providing the diversity we strive for I do not claim originality in the subjects I write about They might not be original but I have burnished them with a different patina the reader never thought of colorizing The research of some of the data was done via websites different articles read speeches made my notes and recollections and some older versions of articles I have written in some newsmagazines For privacy reasons I have changed the names in one essay in particular as I was not successful in communicating with the persons despite attempts at doing so I have also to the best of my ability adhered to the fair use doctrine using some data or quotations in some of my essays In any case I hope it is while your time effort and your trip to the bookstore to come up and peruse what is in your hands

Nothing but the Dirt Kate Benz, 2022-07-15 In this work of creative nonfiction author Kate Benz provides an intimate look at the present day residents of Courtland Kansas population 285 a town whose economy depends almost entirely on agriculture Through charming first person accounts Nothing but the Dirt: Stories from an American Farm Town tells the whole story of life in Courtland bucking the Rural America is dying narrative that so often proliferates national headlines about small town USA Throughout the book Benz paints a picture of community that is unwilling to give up on each other Macro level issues such as rising tariffs operation costs versus sinking commodity prices and infusions of federal farm subsidies affect the locals daily livelihood but it's their love of their community that continues their collective efforts to keep Main Street open for business and Courtland on the map These are the stories from one corner of rural America told through the people who live there the fourth generation farmers the young professionals the transplants the small business owners many of whom are women a community that is nuclear blended straight gay red blue religious and anything but Young people who grew up in Courtland are moving back to raise their kids there but instead of farming they are opening breweries boutiques marketing agencies or hair salons They love rural life but want a new way to define it Courtland is a community that is unwaveringly determined to keep their corner of rural America not only alive but thriving refusing to let challenges define or deter them Instead they continuously find creative ways to overcome adapt improve and move forward

Tanzania with nun connection and hyena in front of the tent Karin Dümke, 2024-12-18 Tanzania with a nun's connection and a hyena in front of the tent is a story of curiosity an almost insatiable thirst for adventure and cultural clash The picture of Tanzania that Karin Dümke creates takes the reader from luxurious lodges to a former mission on Kilimanjaro and diving trips to Zanzibar The reader meets superficial tourists as well as devout local nuns and people who love Tanzania like the author herself but also historical figures such as Ernest Hemingway Karen Blixen and Emily Ruete The book also offers a vivid portrayal of the rapid changes both positive and negative in a country that is far removed from us and not just for tourism Anyone who gets involved will want to pack their bags and fly to Tanzania

The Things That Really Matter Michael Hauskeller, 2022-05-10 While being rooted in the academic discourse The Things That Really Matter comprehensively explores the most fundamental aspects of human life in an accessible non technical language adding fresh perspectives and new arguments and considerations that are designed to stimulate further debate and in some cases a deliberate redirection of research interests in the respective areas It features a series of conversations about the things in our life that we all in one way or another wrestle with if we are at all concerned about what kind of world we live in and what our role in it is things like birth age and death good and evil the meaning of life the nature of the self and the role the body plays for our identity our gendered existence love and faith free will beauty and our experience of the sacred Situating abstract ideas in concrete experience The Things That Really Matter encourages the reader to participate in an open ended dialogue involving a variety of thinkers with different backgrounds and orientations Lively and accessible it shows thinking as an open ended process and a collaborative endeavour that benefits from talking to each other rather than against each other featuring real conversations where ideas are explored tested changed and occasionally dropped It is thinking in motion personal yet universal

Mapping Social Relations Marie L. Campbell, Frances Gregor, 2004-09-07 This is a book about a distinctive methodological approach inspired by one of Canada's most respected scholars Dorothy Smith Institutional ethnography aims to answer questions about how everyday life is organized What is conventionally understood as the relationship of micro to macro processes is in institutional ethnography conceptualized and explored in terms of ruling relations The authors suggest that institutional ethnographers must adopt a particular research stance one that recognizes that people's own knowledge and ways of knowing are crucial elements of social action and thus of social analysis Specific attention to text analysis is integral to the approach as is a sensitivity to gender relations Institutional ethnography is remarkably well suited to the human service curriculum and the training of professionals and activists Its strategy for learning how to understand problems existing in everyday life appeals to many researchers who are looking for guidance on how to take practical action At the same time the highly elaborated theoretical foundation of institutional ethnography is difficult to deal with in the brief time most students are in the classroom The authors successfully tackle the issue of teaching and applying institutional ethnography Campbell and Gregor have been testing out instructional methods and materials for many years MAPPING SOCIAL RELATIONS is the product of that effort

Memory for Forgetfulness Mahmoud Darwish, 1995-03-20 One of the Arab world's greatest living poets uses the 1982 Israeli invasion of Lebanon and the shelling of Beirut as the setting for this sequence of prose poems Mahmoud Darwish vividly recreates the sights and sounds of a city under terrible siege As fighter jets scream overhead he explores the war ravaged streets of Beirut on August 6th Hiroshima Day Memory for Forgetfulness is an extended reflection on the invasion and its political and historical dimensions It is also a journey into personal and collective memory What is the meaning of exile What is the role of the writer in time of war What is the relationship of writing memory to history forgetfulness In raising these questions Darwish implicitly connects writing homeland meaning and resistance in an ironic condensed work that combines wit with rage Ibrahim Muhawi's translation beautifully renders Darwish's testament to the heroism of a people under siege and to Palestinian creativity and continuity Fuel Your Fire Samantha Acton,2020-01-07
